HERE ARE SOME DECORATING HINTS

By GENE TIMMS

GENE TIMMS

From time to time, we are pleased to bring you some decorating suggestions which we trust you will find interesting and perhaps useful. Here are a few that we present this week:

Don't over-crowd your rooms. Most rooms contain too much furniture. Furnish with the least amount necessary to do the job — not the most.

In your living room, try to arrange your furniture according to your family living habits. And, there should be a conversation group so that people may face each other while talking.

If your television set is in the living room, your main seating pieces should face the set.

Be sure to leave open passage-ways so that you can easily walk from one room to another, and from one part of a room to another.

After deciding on your furniture arrangement, color scheme, styles, etc., try to select furniture you can enjoy living with and using, aside from furniture you like to look at. Don't furnish in such a way that the living room is reserved for company and not the family.

The average family furnishes a home just a few times during their lives, so try to select quality and style that is lasting. We are here to serve you — and help you — and we look forward to talking with you when you are ready to shop for any furniture or furnishing ideas, and remember you always get discounts at our store, whether you pay cash or buy on time, we will save you money!

Parties Honor Bride-Elect

Miss Viola Ellison, bride-elect of Sunday, was honor guest at two parties this week.

Mrs. J. D. Biddix and Mrs. Olive Wheeler entertained together Friday night at the parsonage of East Gold St. Wesleyan Methodist church at a bridal party which carried out the wedding theme of blue and white in both decorations and refreshments.

The 15 guests showered the honoree with miscellaneous household gifts.

Miss Ellison received a corsage of blue and white carnations from the hostesses and an honor gift.

Mrs. Bill Baker entertained Tuesday night at her home in Lincolnton at a bridal party honoring Miss Ellison. The 16 guests were school friends of Miss Ellison and mothers of children she had taught in the schools last year.

A green and white motif was carried out in the decorations and on refreshment plates.

The bride-to-be received a corsage of pink carnations which she pinned to her party dress.

Mrs. Wayne Goforth, Mrs. Bertha Ellison, mother of the bride-to-be, and Miss Ellison went to Lincolnton for the party.

Joan Fontaine To Star In Next Show, "Unexpected Guest" At Summer Theatre

The Charlotte Summer Theater presents Agatha Christie's mystery thriller "The Unexpected Guest" starring Joan Fontaine, beginning Tuesday evening, August 17 and running through Sunday evening, August 22 at Owens Auditorium in Charlotte.

In the course of a distinguished Hollywood career, Joan Fontaine has starred in more than fifty films. She is the recipient of the film colony's coveted Academy Award for her performance in "Suspicion" and the annual citation by the New York Film Critics' Circle for her performance in "Rebecca". She also earned Academy Award nominations for "Rebecca" and "The Constant Nymph". Among her other notable films have been "Jane Eyre", "Affairs of Susan", "The Emperor Waltz", "Ivanhoe", "September Affair", "A Certain Smile" and "Tender Is the Night". On the stage, Miss Fontaine has starred in "Tea and Sympathy", "Hillary", "Susan and God" and "A Severed Head". "The Unexpected Guest" has already enjoyed enormous success in London, and is being presented at the Charlotte Summer Theater as part of its pre-Broadway tour. The intriguing mystery play has received enthusiastic reception in all its engagements on the summer circuit. Agatha Christie, the world's foremost writer of mystery plays, has woven a suspenseful plot, liberally sprinkled with humor, about the efforts of Miss Fontaine, with the help of an "unexpected guest" to unravel the mystery of her husband's death. In typical Christie style, the finger of suspicion points at one time or another to everyone in the play, keeping the audience guessing and gasping to the final curtain.

Summer Theater producer Stanley Warren, encouraged by the success of last season's pre-Broadway production "The Wayward Stork", has booked Miss Fontaine in "The Unexpected Guest" as an exclusive for the Carolinas audience. "This is the first time we've presented a 'whodunit,'" said Warren, "and I feel certain we won't be disappointed. 'The Unexpected Guest' has been setting attendance records all summer. Of the many new scripts I have read, this is far and away the most exciting in a very long while."

Featured in the cast of "The Unexpected Guest" are Dennis Patrick, James Coco, Myra Carter, Guy Spaul, Eleanor Phelps, Stephen Scott, Herbert Foster and Ian Wilder.

Performances for "The Unexpected Guest" are at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday evenings and at 2:30 p.m. for the Saturday and Sunday matinees, August 21 and 22. The Sunday evening performance on August 22 is a special extra one and is at 7:30 p.m.

There is still time to see the current production of "The King and I" starring Betty Johnson, which runs through Sunday evening, August 15. The box-office of the Charlotte Summer Theater is open at Owens Auditorium daily and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Reservations are also available by phone—376-4821 — and by mail.

The next, and last attraction, at the Charlotte Summer Theater is "Never Too Late" starring Dennis O'Keefe and Betty Field, August 24 through August 29.

Mrs. W. F. Brewer and daughters, Andra and Paula, returned to their home in Falls Church, Va. yesterday after spending several days with Mrs. Brewer's sister, Mrs. Harold Hunnicutt and Mr. Hunnicutt.

Women's Health

Chicago (WMNS): Much of the emotional upset that follows surgery for "female complaints" is due to lack of information. This finding comes from a gynecologist and a psychiatrist who studied the reactions of 108 women ranging in age from 20 to 50. The emotional stress, the doctors say, has several causes:

* Ignorance of female anatomy. Since almost all the women had only a vague understanding of their physiology, they had many fears about how their organs would function after surgery.

* Fear of cancer. Many women mistakenly believed they had cancer—especially if there had been internal bleeding. They were highly "cancer-conscious."

* Worry about femininity. Many were so concerned that their femininity had been affected that they asked that their husbands not be told the nature of their operations. They feared the husbands might show less interest in them or stay away from home more frequently.

The investigating doctors observed, however, that men who were well informed were more able and likely to give emotional support to their wives.

Detroit (WMNS): The later years of a woman's life will be more comfortable and healthy if she is treated from menopause on with the female hormones estrogen and progesterone. This is the view of Dr. F. P. Rhoades, who believes that hormone supplements will prevent or minimize wrinkled skin and diseases associated with aging, such as high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, and "thinning" of the bones. These same hormones are the components of the widely-used contraceptive pill.

East Orange, N. J. (WMNS): Cigarette smoking, already a prime suspect in lung cancer, also harms the esophagus, according to a senior medical investigator at the Veterans Administration Hospital here. The esophagus is the canal linking the pharynx to the stomach.

A study of 12,589 patients showed that very few non-smokers had abnormal esophageal cells. In contrast, almost 98 per cent of cigarette smokers had abnormal cells. The heavier the smoker, the study showed, the higher was the percentage of abnormality.
