

Trinity Sets Layman's Revival

Trinity Baptist church, Bessemer City, N. C. will sponsor a Layman's Revival, Wednesday - Sunday, August 25-29. Robert Beam, an executive with Carolina Freight Carriers, Inc., of Cherryville, N. C. will be in charge of the service each night that are to begin at 7:30 p.m.

There will be a team of workers from the association and also from the church visiting in the community during the afternoon with the laymen conducting the services at night.

Others assisting Mr. Beam will be R. T. Buckner and Mr. Clyde Clark from Belmont; Mr. Ray England and Mr. Lawrence Harthgrove from Gastonia; Mr. Glenn Howell and Mr. J. D. Sellers from Cherryville.

These men are dedicated Laymen in the Association who work solely for the purpose of promoting the Kingdom of God on the earth.

A cordial welcome is extended to everyone to attend these special services.

Rev. J. W. Harris is pastor of the church. A tiger does not eat all of its prey at one time. He hides it and may return for more meals.

Whitener Takes Issue With Those Attacking 1-Price Cotton Program

Congressman Basil L. Whitener took issue today with those who have attacked the one-price cotton program as a subsidy for textile manufacturers. In a strongly worded speech made by Whitener during debate in the House on the farm bill, he said he was amazed at some of the attacks upon the domestic textile industry in connection with the one-price cotton program.

"The change in 1964 to a one-price system for cotton simply removed a grave inequity which had damaged the domestic mills and the entire American cotton industry. In the spring of 1964, a one-price system for cotton went into effect, a program under which domestic textile mills could buy American cotton at the same price as their foreign competitors for the first time since 1956. The six and one-half cents a pound payment has been described as a mill subsidy. It is nothing of the kind," Whitener declared.

He pointed out that prior to the one-price cotton program, foreign competitors of the domestic textile industry could buy their cotton $42.50 a bale cheaper than the American manufacturer. He said that rather than a subsidy to textile mills the payment under the one-price cotton program is actually a guarantee of stable cotton prices for the cotton farmer.

"The effects of the removal of the burden of two-price cotton have been constructive. Since one-price cotton, the textile industry's profit position has improved. The level of investment by the industry in new plants and equipment has risen under one-price cotton that are unprecedented. Textile mills spent a round 760 million dollars for new plants and equipment in 1964," Whitener said.

The Tenth District Congressman declared that three wage increases of 5 per cent for textile workers had taken place because of one-price cotton. "Moreover, from April 1964 to April 1965, employment in the mills has risen by about 30,000 workers," he pointed out.

Whitener told the House that the charges of excess profits on the part of the textile industry since one-price cotton are without foundation. "Any objective examination of cotton textile producers and their price behavior since the end of World War II requires the conclusion that cotton textiles are relatively cheap in comparison to other commodities," he said.

Safe Driving Film Available

More than 30,000 teenagers in driver-education classes of 780 high schools across the country will drive more safely this Labor Day weekend because of what they've learned from new instructional films.

The eight 4 1/2-minute, "single concept" films illustrate many points in driver education that are difficult to teach in the classroom or on the road. They deal with such situations as how to cope with driving emergencies, techniques of freeway driving, and technical points such as physical force involved in car operation.

Produced by American Oil Co. in cooperation with the National Commission on Safety Education (a branch of the National Education Assn.), the films come with a complete instructional package which includes teacher's guidebook and student pamphlets.

With schools reopening soon, the films will again be offered at cost as a public service by their oil-company sponsor.

MEN WORST LITTERERS
A survey of both men and women, in equal numbers, showed that men are the worst litterbugs. Seventy-three per cent of polled put the blame on men. Twelve per cent said women are worse than men. Fifteen per cent said they had no opinion.

The Veterans Corner

EDITOR'S NOTE: Below are authoritative answers by the Veterans Administration to some of the many current questions from former servicemen and their families. Further information on veterans benefits may be obtained at any VA office.

Q—What is the final deadline for World War II veterans desiring a GI home loan?

A—Eligibility is ending each day for individual veterans according to a formula which adds ten years to the date of a veteran's discharge from active wartime service and then adds an additional year for each three months of such service. Final deadline date is July 25, 1967, for World War II veterans.

Q—Have any educational provisions been passed for so-called "Cold War" veterans?

A—Several such bills have been under consideration in Congress but as yet none have been passed.

Q—If a veteran who holds $10,000 worth of "J" insurance, purchased June 1, 1965, either volunteers or is called back to active duty for an indefinite period, is the insurance contract cancelled?

A—No, the insurance contract remains in force.
