

Miss Dede Dawn O'Neal Wed Saturday To Sandy Campbell In Church Ceremony

Second Presbyterian church of Knoxville, Tennessee was the setting Saturday for the 1 p.m. wedding of Miss Dede Dawn O'Neal and Herman Luther Campbell, Jr.

Dr. John L. Paige officiated at the double ring ceremony for which organ music was presented by Miss Linda Scagren who played "Pavane Angelique" by Cesar Franck, "Prayer" from "Gothic Suite" by Leon Boellmann, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by J. S. Bach and Barnaby's "O Perfect Love."

The altar of the church was arranged with large floor baskets of all white mums, gladioli and fern on either side. Near the altar were standing sprays of magnolia leaves and brass candleholders holding cathedral apers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore the wedding dress she designed, an original made by her mother. The two-piece dress was of white imported wool worn with champagne accessories. Her hat was of enbank and she carried a cascade of brown cymbidium orchids and valley lilies.

Miss Rita Munsey of New Tazewell, Tenn., college roommate of the bride, was maid of honor and only attendant. The current "Miss Dixie" wore a turquoise wool suit with matching ostrich feather hat and carried a cascade of yellow roses, maline and red on streamers.

Claude Brown of Memphis Tenn. and Glenn Myers of Loreto, Tenn., fraternity brothers of the bridegroom, served as ushers. The bride's mother wore a green wool suit with white hat and a white orchid shoulder corsage.

The bride's mother chose a dress of beige wool with brown feather hat, brown accessories and a white orchid shoulder corsage.

The bridal party formed a receiving line to greet wedding guests after the ceremony.

Use Cranberries For Dinners This Thanksgiving

Cranberries go with Thanksgiving dinners like the Pilgrims with Plymouth Rock.

A pleasant switch from the usual cranberry jelly is the combination of this tart fruit with Merita's Brown 'n' Serve Rolls to form a Quick Cranberry-Orange Coffee Ring.

If you have some fresh cranberries left over from making jelly, you can use them up in this dish as an after-holiday treat.

At any rate, a beautiful circle of color-happy rolls, a product of American Bakeries Company, can be concocted by placing butter, brown sugar, cranberries and orange peel into a mild, topped by the rolls. The combination only takes about 15 minutes to bake.

QUICK CRANBERRY-ORANGE COFFEE RING

- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
 - 1/2 cup light brown sugar
 - 1/2 cup halved fresh cranberries
 - 1 teaspoon grated orange peel
 - 8 Brown 'n' Serve Rolls
- Melt 2 tablespoons of the butter in a 5 1/2-cup (8 1/2-inch) ring mold. Sprinkle 1/2 cup of the brown sugar over bottom; top with cranberries.
 - Combine remaining butter, brown sugar and orange peel. Mix well.
 - Split rolls to but not through bottom crust; fill with orange-brown sugar mixture.
 - Arrange rolls sugar side down over cranberries in pan.
 - Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 15 minutes or until well-browned. Cool for a few minutes until bubbling stops; invert pan onto serving plate. Let stand a few minutes; remove pan. Serve coffee ring upside down.
- Makes 4-6 servings.

Club Fetes New Teachers

New teachers in the city schools were honored by the Junior Woman's club at a Teacher's Night banquet Monday night as the local club called attention to the nationwide observance of American Education Week.

The tables were decorative with autumn leaves, foliage and flowers. For the program, after a buffet supper, Mrs. Dick McGinnis led the group in group singing.

Among guests were School Superintendent B. N. Barnes, Mrs. Barnes and Miss Alice C. Averitt, schools teaching consultant.

Heading the committee on arrangements for the banquet were Miss Jackie Blanton, club president, and Mrs. Bill Jenas, hostesses for the month of November.

Back-To-School Event Tuesday

The P.T.S.A. will meet at Kings Mountain high school Tuesday, November 9th, at 7:30 p.m.

Highlight of the meeting will be Back-To-School Night under the sponsorship of Future Teachers.

DECORATING TIPS

By GENE TIMMS
SO WHAT ELSE IS NEW? YOU CAN GET OUR MOST IMPORTANT SERVICE . . . FREE

While most of us are naturally skeptical about getting "something for nothing", it is actually true that the most important service we have to offer is absolutely free.

Aside from carrying a large stock of well selected and competitively priced and decorative accessories, we offer the know-how in helping you co-ordinate your needs into one harmonious and livable picture.

Some people equate the word "decorating" with "expensive merchandise" but this is not so at our store, because we offer you the exact same service regardless of your budget.

If possible, bring in your floor plans. Better still, we will be glad to meet you at your home where we can not only get the size of the rooms but can measure the height of window sills and obtain other vital measurements and information.

If you would just like to come in and sit down and discuss your decorating problems, please do so whether you are ready to make a purchase at this time or not.

You may find that what appears to be a difficult decorating problem may resolve itself quite easily after discussing the matter with someone who has had to solve that same problem before.

We look forward to visiting with you.

Parties Continue To Honor Miss Farr, Luncheon Monday, Two Bridal Showers

Bridal parties this week continued to honor Norma Farr, whose wedding to Bill Herndon takes place Sunday.

Mrs. Sam Hamrick, Mrs. Haywood Allen, Mrs. George Allen and Miss Mae Sue Goforth entertained together Thursday night at the Hamrick home at a drop-in bridal shower.

The hostesses gave the bride-to-be an electric mixer and the 70 guests showered her with household gifts. Miss Farr also received a white shasta mum corsage which she pinned to the shoulder of her light blue mohair suit.

A color theme of green and white was carried out in the decorations and refreshments. Mrs. Hamrick greeted guests and introduced them to Miss Farr, her mother, Mrs. N. M. Farr, and Mrs. Henderson Herndon, mother of the bridegroom-to-be. Mrs. George Allen displayed gifts and Mrs. James Robbs directed them to the dining room for refreshments. Mrs. Haywood Allen said goodbyes and kept a guest register.

Miss Goforth poured hot tea from a silver service at one end of a round refreshment table decorated in white and green. A bridal arrangement was centerpiece for the bride's table which was overlaid with matching linen cloth. Green and white cake squares were served with cheese straws, nut roll and salted nuts.

Mrs. George Morrow entertained Monday at her home at a luncheon honoring Miss Farr. A four-course meal was served to Miss Farr, her mother, Mrs. N. M. Farr; Mrs. E. W. Negl, Mrs. Henderson Herndon, and Mrs. I. C. Davis.

The bride-to-be wore an off-white suit with champagne accessories and a white shoulder corsage, gift of the hostess. Mrs. Morrow also gave the bride-elect a gift in her china pattern.

An all-white decor was carried out in the dining room and pink was combined with white in the living room. Silver appointments were featured on the table which held a silver bowl holding white flowers as the centerpiece.

Mrs. James Jones, Mrs. Paul Walker and Mrs. Bill Moss entertained together Monday night at the Jonas home honoring Miss Farr.

The guests showered the bride-to-be with lingerie gifts.

A pink and white motif was carried out in the decorations. Following bride's bingo, a sweet course with coffee was served. Miss Farr wore a turquoise wool jumper with white blouse and a corsage of pink carnations, gift from the hostesses.

The hostesses also gave the bride-elect a trousseau gift.

Youngsters Held Halloween Party

Mrs. Calvin Humphries entertained members of her Primary Sunday School class at a Halloween party Friday night at Dixon Presbyterian church.

The fellowship hall was gay with orange and black streamers and balloons. The refreshment table was centered by a large pumpkin jack-o-lantern and refreshments also carried out the Halloween theme.

Miss Gerry Humphries directed games and contests. Mrs. John Styers, mother of the hostess, assisted in serving.

Those attending were Beverly and Kathy Stewart, Gale Farris, Trudy Childers, Charlie Berry and Lisa Hughes.
