New Book Store

For Gaston County

GASTONIA — For the first time in over ten years, Gastonia has a full-fledged book store. Ed Gardner, youthful owner of The Book Shelf, opened the shop recently with little fanfare.

"I love good books and I know there are many people in Gaston and surrounding counties who have been hoping for a complete book store," Gardner said.

He invites lovers of good books to come in 103 West Main Avenue, downtown Gastonia, and browse through the new shop where they will find all types of good books, stationery, gift wraps, greeting cards, and art reproductions.

Gardner added, "The Book Shelf will stock all types of books, but will specialize in juvenile and religious books."

Area Folk Attend Arrowood Rites

A large number of Kings Mountain area people were in Gastonia Thursday to attend the funeral of Mrs. J. Craig Arrowood held at Linwood Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Arrowood, wife of J. Craig Arrowood, died Tuesday. The family formerly lived here.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Arrowood is survived by four children, Jackie Arrowood and Mrs. Arnold Price, both of Gastonia, and Gene and Patsy Arrowood, both of the home; her sister, Mrs. John B. Humphries of Gastonia; and her brother, Herbert Seigler.

Going to the funeral from Kings Mountain were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Arrowood and Pam, Mrs. Fate Arrowood, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Barnette, and Mrs. Janice Crocker. Also attending the final rites were Mrs. C. M. Owensby of Grover and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Camp, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Camp, Mr. and Mrs. Dixon Borders, Mrs. Marvin Morrison, Mrs. Grady Allen, Mrs. Garland Patterson, Miss Brenda Camp, Mrs. Joe Izzi, and Mrs. Nancy Dtpson, all of Shelby.

Clubwomen Join "Friends" Of Library

Kings Mountain Junior Woman's club voted Monday night to become 100 percent members of the "Friends of the Library" campaign and endorsed the forthcoming "Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up" city-wide effort.

Both programs were unanimously approved by the membership.

The club also made plans to conduct the annual community birthday calendar project in August.

Miss Jackie Blanton, presided. Present as a visitor was Miss Rachel Jolly, student teacher at Kings Mountain high school.

For the program, Mrs. Cal Fisher led the topic, "Conservation", pointing to those resources like water which are taken for granted, she said.

Mrs. Bill Bates and Mrs. John Gamble were hostesses and served chocolate pound cake and coffee at the beginning of the meeting.

Miss Peggy Ross, chaplain, led the devotional.

Party Honors Gina Blalock

Gina Blalock was honored on her eighth birthday Monday at a surprise party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Crawford.

The 12 young girls present "dressed up" as "little women" for the party and after games and contests prizes went to Cindy Childers, Marty Ware and Carla Russell.

A pink and white color scheme was carried out in decorations. The birthday cake, topped with pink roses and pink candles, was cut from one end of the table by Gina's grandmother, Mrs. Charlie Blalock. The cake was served with ice cream and punch.

Favors were balloons and jump ropes.

Credit Women Hear Leopold

A. D. Leopold, executive of Atlantic Refining Company of Charlotte, was guest speaker at Wednesday's meeting of the Gastonia Credit Women's Breakfast club.

Mr. Leopold led the study of "Courtesy Cards", final lesson in the manual, "Key To Opportunity", the women have studied recently.

He interspersed his remarks with a quotation by Archibald Rutledge in "Life's Extras", "There is more hope for humanity in a wild flower than in a ton of meat," adding that "music, flowers, moonlight are the extras of life."

"Will and ambition", the speaker continued, "separate the mundane part of work, a necessity of life." He noted that the computer and other machines during the past 10 years have revolutionized accounting speed and entrance of the credit card means now that persons may even take vacations via a credit card.

President Lillian Enfinger presided. The program was arranged by Mrs. Rachel Best. Among visitors was Dallas Campbell, Gastonia representative of Atlantic Refining Company.
