

College Students In Programs; KMHS Junior-Senior Prom On Friday; Party Time

Kay Bridges, rising sophomore at Western Carolina College in Cullowhee, is a member of the college band which just completed a spring tour.

Miss Bridges is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Bridges of Kings Mountain and is a 1965 graduate of Ashley high school, Gastonia, where she was active in the band and was a schoolbus driver.

She plays solo clarinet. The Western Carolina 30-member band played concerts in the two Carolinas, returning to the campus during the weekend.

Ricky Dean Boone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry M. Boone, will celebrate his second birthday May 23rd at a family birthday party.

A decorated birthday cake will be cut and served with other party refreshments.

Young Boone is grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Alexander and Mrs. Martha Boone, all of Kings Mountain. His great-grandmother is Mrs. Bertie Murphy, also of Kings Mountain.

Gay Jolley spent the weekend in Raleigh as guest of Miss Linney Brewer and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kidd Brewer.

Miss Jolley and Miss Brewer, seniors at Appalachian State Teacher's college in Boone, are doing their practice teaching at Ashley high school in Gastonia. Miss Jolley is an English major.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Jolley of Kings Mountain, Miss Jolley was soloist at church services at Hayes-Barton Methodist church where the Brewers attend. Miss Jolley is a member of the choir at First Baptist church where her father is minister of music.

Variety ranging from a Bach cantata to "Sound of Music" is on the program of the annual joint concert by the men's and women's glee clubs of East Carolina college Thursday night.

The program is scheduled at 8:15 p.m. in Wright Auditorium at Greenville. It is free and open to the public.

Featured as a soloist for the first number, titled, "God, Our Lord Is Sun and Shield", will be Jane Birmingham of Kings Mountain. She is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Birmingham, Jr., 1023 Linwood Drive.

"The Caravelles" of Clemson University will play for Friday night's Junior-Senior Prom, expected to attract a crowd of over 400, to Kings Mountain high school.

Members of the Junior class were hard at work this week readying for the event.

The student commons area and the cafeteria will be transformed into a gay Roman setting carrying out the theme, "Three Coins In A Fountain." Waiters and waitresses will be attired in togas and Roman costumes.

The formal dance will begin at 8 p.m.

The Kings Mountain Recreation Activities Committee will sponsor a Friday night dance, from 8 until 11 p.m., at the National Guard Armory. Since the Prom will include all 11th and 12th graders, the dance will be open also to 7th and 8th graders as well as freshmen and sophomores and all youth up to age 20.

Young people should bring their own records for dancing. A committee from Central Methodist church will be chaperones.

Last Friday's May Day dance at the Armory attracted a crowd of 200. The dance was held following May Day festivities at KMHS.

Comings And Goings

S/IC and Mrs. W. L. McMackin, Jr. and daughter, Charlotte, of Fort Meade, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. David Cooley of Winter Haven, Fla. visited last week with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McMackin. Joining the family for a Mother's Day visit were Mr. and Mrs. Dick McMackin and son, Mike, of Winston Salem.

Sgt. and Mrs. Ray Carroll and sons, Edwin and Timmy, of Sumter, S. C. spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Carroll and Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Farris.

Thirty children in the Pre-School and Kindergarten groups from Trinity Day School visited the W. L. Plonk Dairy Farm on Cherryville road Thursday.

The youngsters—accompanied by Mrs. Tom Burke, Mrs. Joe Reis and Mrs. Gordon Myers—were guests of Janice Plonk, kindergarten pupil and daughter of the Plonks.

Seeing baby calves and farm animals culminated the study of farm animals by the children.

Children of Mrs. Clarence Dixon honored her on Mother's Day at a family gathering at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wesley Kiser and Mr. Kiser on Linwood road.

Joining Kings Mountain relatives for the day were Mr. and Mrs. David McDaniel of Hendersonville, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Plyler of Gastonia, and Mr. and Mrs. C. T. McDaniel of Rock Hill, S. C.

Youngest family member present was Michael Dixon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Dixon, who was celebrating his first birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Lewis Dellinger, 605 Meadowbrook road, announce the adoption of a daughter, Holly Elizabeth.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dellinger and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Long, Sr., all of Cherryville.

About This N' That

Kings Mountain Sub-Debs Sheryl, McDaniel, Sara Nell Moss and Linda Plonk have been invited to Lake Hickory Country club to a Saturday morning party being given by 1966 Hickory debs.

They were previously entertained at a semi-formal dance at Shelby Elks Lodge April 22 honoring Shelby Debs Gayle Baker and Billie Ann Harry. Music until midnight was furnished by "The Chancellors."

First gala event for the 1966 Sub-Debs was held April 15th in Concord. A Go-Go dance at Cabarrus Country club honoring Cynthia Craig and Gina Carrell was a festive affair. A band provided music for dancing until midnight.

A cook-out Monday night honored two of the season's brides-elect.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwain Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Herndon and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ramsey entertained at the Lynch home honoring Miss Marlene Weir, her fiancé Arthur Allen, Jr. and Miss Gloria McCarter and her fiancé, Bill Navy. The Weir-Allen wedding takes place Sunday in First Presbyterian church. Miss McCarter and Mr. Navy plan a May 29th wedding in Central Methodist church.

Red-check cloths covered the tables from which supper was served 20 guests. Red chrysanthemums centered the tables.

The hosts took the occasion to present the couples their wedding gifts—outdoor grills.

Yvonne Falls, bride-elect, was honored Friday night at a drop-in shower given by Mrs. Wesley Kiser, Mrs. Fred Kiser and Mrs. John Lee in the fellowship hall of Second Baptist church.

Bridal colors of green and white were featured in decorations and refreshments.

The 17 guests showered Miss Falls with household gifts and the hostesses gave her a pink carnation corsage which she pinned to her white party dress.

Miss Falls and Elvin Greene plan a summer wedding.

Stork Notes

From Brunette To Blonde In 10 Minutes

For every woman who colors her hair—or would like to—a new speed-processing machine now on the market develops permanent haircolor in as little as one tenth the time.

Called the Accelomatic, this machine "is fabulous" according to Kathy Yarbrough who recently changed her hair from brunette to blonde tresses in less than 10 minutes.

Frosting or tipping to any degree requires even less time, says Mrs. Helen Jenkins, who has installed one of the machines in her shop here, the first in this area.

The veteran beautician says the Accelomatic, which looks like a hairdryer, leaves the hair in good condition for the color only has to be on for a fraction of the normal time it would take to color blonde, brown, red or black. "Whether your hair is being lightened and toned to the palest blonde shade—tinted a vibrant new color or fashionably frosted,

Local women say the machine cuts bleaching time 10 to 1. What normally took hours, now takes 10 to 20 minutes.

Is the machine safe? According to Mrs. Jenkins, the machine is completely safe. Generating very little heat, the machine's hood is luminous inside and reflects the light rays evenly, which produces a perfect color over the entire head.

The same bleaching products are used, but the machine eliminates the two-step method of applying solution to first the roots and then the hair ends.

A bleaching solution was applied and Miss Yarbrough was placed under the machine for about six minutes. This solution was rinsed out, and toner or desired color applied. Under the machine again for about four minutes and the change was complete.
