

Sunday Church Rites Unite Pair

MRS. ARTHUR ALLEN, JR.
(Mable Marlene Weir)

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Allen, Jr., wed Sunday, are on a wedding trip to Florida and afterwards will make their home in Charlotte.

Miss Mable Marlene Weir became Mr. Allen's bride in a 4 p. m. double-ring ceremony in First Presbyterian church. Dr. Paul K. Ausley heard the exchange of vows.

Mrs. Darrell Austin was organist for the program of traditional music and B. S. Peeler was vocal soloist. Mr. Peeler sang "Entreat Me Not To Leave This" before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" as the benediction.

The altar of the church was arranged with white glads and chrysanthemums and lighted by cathedral candles in numerous spiral candelabra. Branched candelabras were entwined with smilax and outlining the choir rail were potted palms. At the center of the setting was a white wrought-iron prayer bench.

Organ program included "Wedding Carillon" by Schreiner; "Adagio" by Handel; "Chorale" from "Suite Gothique" by Boellman; "The Bells of St. Anne De Beaupre" by Russell; "O Perfect Love" by Barnby; "Allegro" from "Organ Concerto No. 13" by Handel and "Adagio" from "Sonata In C Minor" by Gullmunt Purcell's "Trumpet Voluntary" was played for the entrance of the bridal party. As the bride entered, Mrs. Falls played "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" by Wagner. Recessional music was "Wedding March" from "Midsummer Night's Dream."

Samuel Sylvester Weir, Jr. gave his daughter in marriage. The bride's formal gown was of Italian silk-faced peau de soie and imported Alencon lace. The empire bodice was fashioned with Sabrina neckline outlined with lace scallops and eight buttons. A bias fold underscored the bustline and caught to a flat bow at the back. Long sleeves tapered to points over the hands. The sheath skirt, appliqued with highlighted by a wrap-around rain which spread to Chapel-length. Her formal-length veil of imported English Blusina and Alencon lace was worn in militia style. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, split carnations and stephanotis on a white testament.

Mrs. Fred Falls, Jr. of Fayetteville was her sister's patron of honor and the list of bridesmaids included Miss Mary Lillian Lewis of Charlotte, Miss Carole Powell of Harrisville, S. C., and Miss Gail Bryan and Miss Sally Stagg, both of Augusta, Ga., college classmates of the bride. Beverly Early of Lincolnton and Susan Moss of Huntsville, Ala., cousins of the bride, were junior attendants.

Flower girls were Lila Ann Moss of Huntsville, Ala., and Mary Early of Lincolnton, cousins of the bride.

BLUE-GREEN-AND-YELLOW
All the attendants wore long rows of blue-green silk chiffon and Venice lace designed with empire bodices, scoop necklines and elbow sleeves. A satin fold accented the bustline of each gown and caught to a flat bow at the back with streamers falling to the skirt hemline. Their matching picture hats were of blue-green and earthy tan and they carried bouquets of yellow daisies. The flower girls carried white baskets filled with yellow lily petals.

The bridegroom's father was best man. Ushers were John Owens of Kings Mountain, Jimmy Black of Clover, S. C., Roy Bettorf of Richmond, Va., and Roy Belair of Greenville, college classmates of the bridegroom. Terry Clemmor of Dallas and Rev. Fred Falls of Fayetteville, brother-in-law of the bride, Darrell Austin, Jr. was ring-

Whirl Of Parties Prior To Wedding Honor Miss Weir, Arthur Allen, Jr.

Miss Marlene Weir and Arthur Allen, Jr., whose marriage was an event of Sunday, were entertained at additional parties prior to their wedding day.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Weir, aunt and uncle of the bride, were hosts to members of the wedding party and friends of the engaged pair at a cake cutting Saturday evening at their Grover road home.

A color note of pink, green and white was carried out in decorations. Overlaid with pink tulle and ruffled tulle, the bride's table held a three-tier pink and green cake as highlight. Topping the cake was a handmade bridal couple standing beneath an arch of pink and white flowers. Pink bouquets caught up the corners of the floor-length tablecloth. At one end of the table a silver candelabrum was arranged with pink and white flowers and candles.

A second table in the hall was done in pink and green. Punch was served from a silver service by Mrs. Jack Moss of Huntsville, Ala., aunt of the bride-to-be, and Mrs. Wilson Shaw. The cake was set and served by Mrs. Bob Early of Lincolnton and Mrs. T. E. Glauster, Jr. of Elizabeth, N.C., aunts of the bride-to-be.

The bride-elect wore an azalea silk chiffon cocktail dress with corsage of white daisies, gift of her hosts. The hosts also presented the bride-elect and prospective bridegroom a gift in their wedding china.
