Highway Accidents Are Mounting

When the fireworks explode this Fourth of July weekend, be sure it's not you smashing into one of the nearly 1,000 traffic accidents which the N. C. State Motor Club warns may snuff out lives of at least 24 persons on North Carolina's streets and highways during the long holiday period.

The state will officially count its holiday highway fatalities from 6 p.m. Friday, July 1, through midnight Monday, July 4, for a period of 78 hours. For the same period last year, North Carolina's traffic toll skyrocketed to 28 killed and 685 injured in 950 accidents.

Leading driver violations reported were: speeding, 214; drove left of center, 163; followed too closely, 104; failed to yield right of way, 84; and reckless driving, 49.

Traffic congestion on national holiday weekends averages three times normal, and July Fourth is worst of all, Thomas B. Watkins, president of the motor club and the National Automobile Association, said in cautioning that "your chances of becoming involved in an accident increase accordingly."

"Hot-headed motorists with explosive temperaments and fuses can be far more dangerous than firecrackers. So stay calm under all road conditions, follow the safe driving rules and stay alive," Watkins advised.
