Grace Pastor Assumes Duties

Rev. T. Dixon Adams, the new minister of Grace Methodist church, comes to Kings Mountain from Lee's Chapel Methodist church at Greensboro where he served for five years.

A native of Carthage, he has served pastorates at Salem church, Mount Airy, and at Pinnacle Circuit near Mount Airy.

Mrs. Adams, a registered nurse, is the former Margery Funk of Pittsburgh, Pa. She is a graduate of Juanita college in Huntington, Pa., and John Hopkins School of Nursing in Baltimore, Md.

Rev. Mr. Adams is a graduate of High Point college, Duke University and Wesley Theological Seminary, Washington, D. C. He was a member of the Greensboro Lions club.

The Adams family includes three boys: Tad Adams, age nine; Roger Adams, age six; and Neil Adams, one-and-a-half.

The family has occupied the Grace Methodist church parsonage and Mr. Adams delivered his first sermon at the church Sunday morning.

Miss Rogers' Rites Sunday

Funeral rites for Miss Willie Mae Rogers, 48, of S. Cherokee street, will be held Sunday afternoon from Good Hope Presbyterian church. Interment will be made in St. Peter's cemetery near Grover.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gremie Rogers of Kings Mountain, Miss Rogers died of cancer Tuesday morning.

Other survivors include her sister, Mrs. Mildred Smith, of Grover and her brother, Elijah Rogers of Kings Mountain.

Bill & Brown Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Many Events

Residents to display the American flag on July 4.

Members of American Legion Post 155, Auxiliary will display American flags on graves of servicemen in Mountain Rest cemetery.

An all-day celebration will be held at Davidson Park and Davidson Pool with events beginning at 10 a.m. Families will spread picnics in the picnic area, Mrs. Verlee Roberts said.

A double-header baseball game will be played on the baseball field at 5 p.m. There will also be a program and beauty contest followed by a dance at 8:30 p.m., Mrs. Roberts added.

Crowning of "Little Miss Independence" and "Miss Independence" will feature July 4th festivities for members of Kings Mountain Country Club and their guests.

The beauty pageant will be held at 5 p.m. on Monday and eligible beauties are invited to register at the clubhouse or telephone Mrs. Henry Neisler, who is heading the committee on arrangements.

"Little Miss Independence" will be selected from girls ages five to 12. "Miss Independence" will be selected from girls ages 13-17.

A full-day of activities will begin at 10 a.m. with a Family Scotch Foursome open to a father and son or daughter and a mother and son or daughter. An entry fee of 50 cents will be charged and for reservations and pairings, contact Hoyle (Snooks) McDaniel.

Leaches Back From Convention
City Policeman John M. Leach and Mrs. Leach have returned from Durham where they attended the 14th annual convention of the North State Law Enforcement Officers' Association held at Jack Tar Hotel.

Governor Dan K. Moore, in his keynote address, told the 160 law enforcement officers present, that "the people of North Carolina have the responsibility of observing the law as the basis for maintaining a free society." Elaborating on the theme, "Free Society Depends On Law," he declared that one of the "gravest problems today is the increasing disregard for law and order.

"The time for demonstrations has passed," Governor Moore continued. "Many of the differences which divide people can be settled at the conference table if a spirit of good will and understanding is brought by the two sides," he said.

James Price of Durham presided.

The officers and their wives toured sites in Durham, among them the $3 million N. C. Mutual Life Insurance Company, which employs 267 persons and is the largest Negro-owned and operated business in the world.

The newlyweds will live in Gastonia where Mr. Blanton is a member of the Gastonia police department.

You And Social Security

Q—I will be 65 in a few months, but I plan to continue working. Should I apply for medicare now or wait until I stop working?

A—You should apply now. Retirement is not a qualification for medicare. Nearly everyone 65 or older is eligible for medicare.

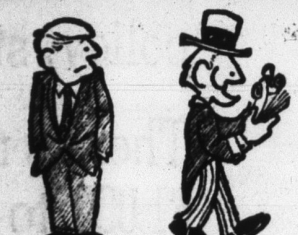

Q—I will be 65 in three months. I am working now, but will retire in the month I reach 65. Should I apply for medicare now or wait until I retire?

A—You should file now. Medicare is divided into two parts—hospital insurance and medical insurance. If you file now, or in any of the three months prior to the month you reach 65, both parts of medicare will start with the month of your 65th birthday. If you file for medicare in the month you are 65, or any of the following three months, your medical insurance will not begin immediately, although you will have hospital insurance protection from the month you become 65.

Q—I am 67 and my wife is 65. I am still working full time and earning about $3,000 a year. Can I get social security benefits?

A—You may be able to get some social security benefits now, since the amount of money you can earn and still receive some benefits has been increased. So you should apply now.

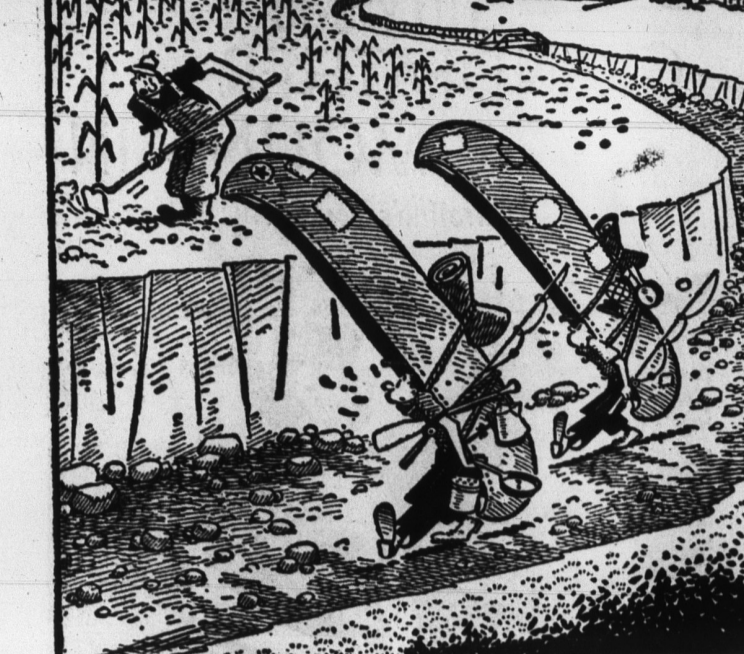

STRICTLY FRESH

Businessman's lament: "I've worked out a capital gains deal with Washington. Every time I work, the capital gains."

Husband to wife: "I'll say this for television—the more unsuitable the program, the quieter it keeps the children."
In this scientific age, the only impossible things are people.
In a town in New Mexico, an Indian school staged its senior dance. It rained for 19 days straight.
The only woman who wishes she were a year older is the one who is expecting a baby.
Gardening tip: To tell real plants from weeds, pull them out. If they come up again, they're weeds.

FIX-IT TIP
Protect exterior plywood by sealing the edges, priming the panels before they are put into place and using quality exterior paints. For edge sealing, use a heavy coat of lead and oil paint. Prime the back of plywood panels in advance when they are used in especially damp areas.

COMEDY CORNER

"If you fellows aren't in too big of a hurry, we expect some rain in about a month!"

Named Town
Gen. Arthur St. Clair, governor of the Northwest Territory in 1790, named the town of Cincinnati in honor of the Society of the Cincinnati, a Revolutionary officers' society.

Old Clock
The Henry De Vick clock in Paris' Palais de Justice is one of the world's oldest clocks. It is still running after almost 600 years of operation.

Progress is being made in eradicating measles, the pesky disease that has made children sick for centuries. The U. S. Communicable Disease Center reports a major decline in reported cases because of immunization through a new vaccine. Twelve million children have been vaccinated but another 12-million remain to be treated, the department said.

The U. S. raises more lemons than any other country. Italy is second.

Newspapers Produce Light And Information. Their Absence Results In Darkness.

Correct information is invaluable to a free people and for keeping a free people free.

Few other nations of the world are as fortunate as the United States, which, through the wisdom of their forefathers, is legate of a heritage of freedom of speech, of assembly, of religious worship, and of the press.

Maintaining of these freedoms has not always been easy, but they have nevertheless been maintained through the years.

A free press is the cornerstone of the others. Without the dissemination of the news—factual information gathered by trained professional newsmen—the other freedoms would soon be abrogated in practice, if not in the text of the United States Constitution.
