N. C. Spent $426 Per Child In School Operations For '67

RALEIGH — For current operation of the public schools, exclusive of capital investment and debt retirement, North Carolina spent $426.29 per pupil in average daily attendance during 1966-67, an increase of $57.50 per child over the previous year. Dr. Charles F. Carroll, State Superintendent of Public Instruction pointed out that during the same period, the national average expenditure per child was increased by $54. However, the national average expenditure per pupil was listed at $623 as compared to $569 during 1965-66.

This is the picture drawn by a study just completed by Statistical Services of the State Department of Public Instruction, and a recent national survey made by the U. S. Office of Education in cooperation with the 50 state departments of education.

Federal spending in North Carolina increased from a flat 8% in 1965-66 to 15.4% in 1966-67. There was, of course, a proportionate decline in the percentage of State and local school funds expended.
