LODGE MEETING

An emergent communication of Fairview Lodge 339 AF&AM for work in the second degree will be held Monday night at 7:30 at Masonic Hall, Secretary T. D. Tindall has announced.

Club Group Hears Roark

House candidate Lester D. Roark added another plank to his platform Monday night in a speech at the Bethware Progressive club.

The candidate discussed law enforcement as a second area in which local governments should become stronger. Roark has earlier called for a tax on cigarettes to aid local school systems.

He cited "an urgent need for local law enforcement agencies to retain control of law enforcement programs in North Carolina," and added, "We must not allow local conditions to reach the point that law enforcement efforts are taken over by the federal government, which might lead to a national police state."

Roark suggested that the state assist local units in several areas including:

- Providing training for law enforcement personnel. Such training would cover all problems of modern law enforcement practices.
- Obtaining modern equipment.
- Appropriate funds for setting up, training and equipping local auxiliary police units, thus relieving the full-time professional officers for his more specialized duties.

He also called for higher salary scales for law enforcement personnel and public awareness, understanding and cooperation with law enforcement agencies.

Roark then reviewed his stand on a cigarette tax, pointing out that a one cent per package levy could gross about $5 million annually for education.
