Youth Worker Here; Student Wins Honor

Dana Smith, June graduate of Kings Mountain high school, won the Betty Crocker award in home-making presented recently at commencement exercises.

General Mills Corporation sponsors the competition nation-wide with the national winner receiving a $5,000 college scholarship.

Miss Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Devere Smith, was among Debutantes who were presented to society at the Shelby Junior Charity League Ball in Shelby Saturday night.

Miss Camilla George, rising senior at Meredith college in Raleigh, has assumed new duties as summer Youth Corps worker at Kings Mountain Baptist church.

A native of Laurens, S. C., Miss George spent last week at Fruitland Baptist Assembly in an orientation program for her summer work here. The summer Youth Corps program is sponsored by the church training department of the North Carolina Baptist State Convention.

Sam Robinson, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Sam Robinson, is winner of the DAR Good Citizen award from the fifth grade at Bethware school.

Young Robinson is a student of Billy Lemmons. Colonel Frederick Hambright Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, presented medals to "outstanding citizens" from each of the fifth grades in the elementary system.

Young Robinson is also active in First Presbyterian church.

Kevin Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford, is recipient of the DAR Good Citizen award from East school fifth grade this year.

At East school Kevin was a student of Mrs. T. W. Grayson. He is a member of Macedonia Baptist church. Young Ford celebrated his 11th birthday on June 4th with a family birthday dinner at his home on Ford street.

DAR Medals go to outstanding students in each of the district school system's fifth grades.

Cynthia Renee Beatty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon H. Beatty, 200 Park Drive, is recipient of the DAR Citizenship Medal from the fifth grade at North school.

Cynthia is a pupil of Mr. Bryant and Mrs. Bridges' fifth grade. Other DAR Good Citizen from North school was Tina Whitaker, pupil of Mrs. Gerie McCarter's fifth grade, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Whitaker of Ridge street. "Outstanding citizens" from each of the school systems' fifth grades are honored annually by the Daughters of the American Revolution, Colonel Frederick Hambright chapter.

Church Weddings Unite Three Kings Mountain Area Couples

An event of wide social interest was the wedding Saturday of Miss Lynda Ann Mauney and Duncan Randall Frye.

The couple pledged vows of the double-ring ceremony in a 4 o'clock ceremony in Saint Matthew's Lutheran church before the Rev. Edgar Mauney Cooper of Pottstown, Pa., godfather and cousin of the bride.

Mrs. L. E. Hinnant was organist for the program of nuptial music and Will Klappert of Hickory was soloist. Mr. Klappert sang "O Perfect Love" by Barby before the ceremony and "Wedding Prayer" by Danlap as the benediction.

Organ numbers included "Lord Jesus Christ, Be Present Now" by Walther; "Song by Graham"; "Sheep May Safely Graze" by Bach; "Antiphon" by Muffat; "Beautiful Savior" by Ellsasser; "The Lord's My Shepherd" by Jacob; Brahms' "St. Anthony's Chorale"; "Jesus Makes My Heart Rejoice" by Elmore and Handel's "Arioso."

The altar of the church was arranged with calla lilies, and altar candles held burning tapers.

George Hoffman Mauney escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. The bride's wedding gown was a formal design of white silk organza over taffeta styled with a sculptured neckline enhanced by jeweled Alencon lace, sleeveless fitted bodice and A-line skirt. Her Chapel train was a coat-train with matching jeweled lace short sleeves. Her formal-length mantilla was outlined in matching Alencon lace with lace appliques scattered over the full veil. She carried a bouquet of gardenias.

Miss Susan Russell of Maryville, Tennessee, Lenoir Rhyne college roommate of the bride for four years, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Miss Nancy Marie Sporer of Hickory, Miss Mary Susan Marshall of Winston Salem, Miss Kathryn Melissa Powell of Charlotte, Miss Katherine Frances McKenzie of Wilmington, all college classmates of the bride, Miss Barbara Green McCarty, Miss Susan Meredith Green, both of Atlanta, Ga., Mrs. Nathaniel Roper, III of Kings Mountain, Miss Sarah Meredith Hamrick of Concord and Mrs. Harvey Hamrick of Shelby, all cousins of the bride.

All the attendants wore formal length maize gowns of silk organza with portrait necklines and three-quarter length sleeves highlighted by a single ruffle of white lace. The modified empire bodices were enhanced by two tiny bows. Back panels of the gowns were gathered with matching bows. Their headpieces were matching maize bows held by double tiers of shoulder length illusion. They carried cascades of gardenias.

The bridegroom's father was best man. Groomsman were George Hoffman Mauney, Jr., and James Edward Mauney, brothers of the bride; Robert George Coon of Lincolnton, William Clyde Ratchford of Gastonia, Caleb Hubert Noley of Conover, William Patrick Allen and John Allen Gibson, both of Newton; Edward Lewis Rowe of Conover and Kenneth Lee Ferguson of Hickory, all college classmates of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Mauney was gowned in a peach silk suit with matching accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

The bridegroom's mother was gowned in beige lace with matching accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

Mrs. W. K. Mauney, Sr., paternal grandmother of the bride, was gowned in beige lace and wore matching accessories and a corsage of white orchids. The bridegroom's paternal grandmother, Mrs. James Frye of Hickory, was gowned in blue lace and wore matching accessories and a shoulder corsage of white orchids.

William Claude Suber of Kings Mountain was Acolyte and lighted the altar candles.

Ringbearer was Mark Frye of Hickory.

Mrs. Bill McKinzie of Charlotte, college classmate of the bride, directed the wedding. The bride's parents entertained at a reception immediately following the ceremony at their home on North Piedmont avenue.

Wedding colors of maize and white were beautifully carried out throughout the Mauney home. "The Esquires", a combo, of Charlotte, provided music for dancing.

The bride and bridegroom, their parents, and members of the wedding party formed a receiving line to greet wedding guests.

Miss Linda Smith presided at the register. Reception helpers included Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Anthony, Mr. and Mrs. Glee E. Bridges, Mr. and Mrs. Tom W. Harper, Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Mauney, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Finger, Dr. and Mrs. George Webb Plonk, Mrs. Amos Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Finger, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Mauney, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hinnant, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hedden, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Suber, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William T. Berkeley, III, Mr. and Mrs. Lee McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. George Thomason, Mr. and Mrs. Drace Peeler, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fulton, Dr. and Mrs. Jacob Mau.

Eight o'clock rites Friday evening in Temple Baptist church united Miss Sheila Ann Moss and Jerry Franklin Ledford in marriage.

The couple pledged vows of the double-ring ceremony before the Rev. Frank Shirley, minister of the church and pastor of the bride, and Rev. Russell Hinton, minister of Oak Grove Baptist church and pastor of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Russell Hinton was organist for the program of traditional music and vocal numbers were by Bobby Webster. Mr. Webster sang "O Promise Me" before the ceremony and "The Wedding Prayer" as the benediction.

The church sanctuary was lighted by candlelight. Seven wrought-iron candelabras held cathedral candles and formed an arch with palms and two baskets of white flowers banking the setting. The couple knelt for the benediction on a satin-covered kneeling bench. Included in the Order of Service was the presentation of roses to mothers of the bride and bridegroom by the new-laws as they left the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of silk organza and imported Peau d'Ange lace styled in skimmer silhouette and posed over fitted faille liner. The lace bodice featured a scalloped portrait neckline traced in pearls. Short lace sleeves were finished with lace scallops. Miniature silk covered buttons closed the back, and garlands of pearl lace motifs applied the A-line skirt. She wore a cathedral length mantilla veil of imported English tulle and matching Peau d'Ange lace beaded in seed and oat pearls and carried a cascade of white pom-poms.

Miss Vickie Ann Moss, niece of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaids included Miss Jean Ledford, Miss Nadine Bell and Mrs. Diane Ledford, all cousins of the bridegroom, Mrs. Linda McDermid and Miss Ava Spear.

Grace Methodist church provided the setting Sunday at 4 p.m. for the wedding of Miss Gail Elaine Bennett and Terry Burton Black.

Vows of the double-ring ceremony were pledged before the Rev. W. C. Sides, Jr., a former minister, now of Greensboro, assisted by the Rev. J. C. Lane, minister of the church.

Miss Andrea Huffstetler was organist for the program of nuptial music which included vocal selections by Allen Jolley who sang "O Perfect Love" before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" as the benediction. Mr. Jolley is minister of music at First Baptist church.

Brass tree candelabra at either side of the altar held lighted tapers and seven-branch candelabra holding lighted tapers were interspersed among palms and white flowers. A white satin-covered prayer bench centered the setting and the couple knelt there for the benediction.

Thomas Luther Bennett escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. The bride's wedding gown was a formal design of white bridal satin and Chantilly lace designed along empire lines with satin-ribboned lace accenting the lace scalloped neckline and pointed sheer lace sleeves. Her Chapel-length train of triple tiers of lace was held by a lace bow. She wore a lace mantilla and carried a white lace-covered Bible, gift of Grace Methodist church, topped with a white orchid showered with ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Larry Cline of Panama City, Fla. attended her sister as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Judy Blackburn of Groves, Miss Cathy Hardin, Miss Joy Jolley and Miss Sandy Ledbetter, all of Kings Mountain. Lisa Cline, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid and LaShelle Cline, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Thursday, June 12, 1969 KINGS MOUNTAIN HERALD, KINGS MOUNTAIN, N. C. SECTION B

'Crafty Hints' Are Simple, Easy-To-Make

(Ed. Note)—The Herald begins this week a "Crafty Hint" column by Mrs. Barbara Baity, wife of former Herald staffer David Baity, Kings Mountain native.

By BARBARA BAITY

Do you ever have the feeling that you should advertise for one mis-placed brain?

If so, you aren't by yourself. Every now and then most housewives get the feeling that all they use their brains for is to read recipes or directions on cleansers.

And if you're a mommy with enough kids to put the old woman in the shoe to shame, you probably get kinda desperate at times for things for the little ones to do so Daddy won't come home and find you swinging from the light fixtures, especially since the little darlins' are home for the summer.

If you caught yourself saying, "Yep, that's me, that's me", then this column should be right down your alley.

What I'm going to do is give you some ideas for some different things to do. Some of them will be for decorating, some for presents to make and some just for the fun of doing. And best of all, you won't have to rush right out and buy, buy, buy. The things can be made from all those scraps and "I've been meaning to throw out but now they'll come in handy for something" — odds and ends.

If you've never worked with crafts, now is the time to begin. All of these ideas will be simple, so don't be afraid to try. After all, you might be surprised how much fun and how relaxing it can be.

The next couple of weeks will be of special interest to the little ones and the leaders of Bible Schools, camps or parks.

Since June 15 is the day you pay homage to the "king of your roost" here are the directions for a nautical desk set the children can make for him.

For the letter holder use the top three and half inches from a "Lux" plastic detergent bottle.

To remove the bottle neck and form a slot for the letters, cut down the sides (check illustration) along the dotted lines and across a half inch from the bottom.

Paint the bottle blue and make a band with white tape around the sides.

For the rings, cut two eight and half inch lengths of three ply Manila rope—You'll need one ring for a tray, too. Unravel a half inch at the ends, overlap and tape the ends into a ring.

Now glue the rings to the bottle with the taped section at the top edge.

To make a stamp or clip-tray paint a tuna can to match the letter holder and add the same tape trim.

Make a life saver from a styro-foam or heavy cardboard ring, circle it with a rope ring and band it with tape. Finish up by taping this to the side of the bottle.

Since the letter holder is to teach Daddy to keep a tidy desk, maybe a lighthouse bank will teach the children to save.

To make, you will need a ketchup bottle (empty, of course), a coffee can lid, two milk bottle caps and a wide adhesive tape roll.

Cut the center from one of the bottle caps so it fits snugly around the bottle neck. Place the ring over it and the second cap on top. Cut a coin slot in the top cap.

When you have checked the fit, take it apart and paint the bottle white, the bottle caps black and the ring yellow. Let it dry.

Now tape black paper strips to the yellow ring and mark the window panes. Reassemble the caps and ring and glue them together.

Cut a black paper door and windows and glue them to the bottle. Fit the light section over the bottle top.

To make the rocky island base, mix blue tempera paint with powdered detergent (it might be a good idea not to use the kind of detergent that has those little bleach things added if your kids have a tendency to eat any and every thing) and a little water, and place it in the coffee can lid.

With the bottom side of a spoon shape the waves. Push small stones into one side of the base and glue the bank in place on top of the stones. If your bank is shakely, you can glue it to the lid first, make waves and add the rocks.
