

Oratorio Singers Perform Saturday

The Oratorio Singers of Charlotte, under the direction of Donald B. Platt, Chairman of the Music Department of Davidson College, will present their first concert of the season on Saturday, January 17, 1970 in Owens Auditorium at 8:15 p.m.

Two great choral works, "The Lord Nelson Mass" by Haydn and the "Te Deum" by Kodaly, will be given by the 150 voice chorus accompanied by full orchestra and nationally known soloists.

Soprano Janice Harsanyi has appeared with the Singers in the Bach "B Minor Mass" and in Handel's "Israel In Egypt." Widely sought as a concert singer, Miss Harsanyi has appeared extensively in recital and oratorio, and on radio and television. She has sung with the Philadelphia Orchestra, the National Symphony and in the 1966-67 season she toured as the soprano soloist with the Bach Aria Group and the Princeton Chamber Orchestra.

Baritone Thomas Palmer has a wide range of experience including appearances with some of the leading orchestras and opera companies in the world. His role of Von Eisenstein in "Die Fledermaus" with the Charlotte Opera Co. in March of 1969 has won him a large following in the Carolinas.

Rosalind Hupp, Mezzo-soprano made her debut with the Metropolitan Opera Co. in Von Karajan's "Die Walkure." Her experience in opera and oratorio is extensive, and she has appeared with the New York Opera and the Goldovsky Opera Theater.

Tenor Gary Glaze is an active member of the Metropolitan Opera Studio, and has appeared with the Kansas City Lyric Opera Co.

"The Lord Nelson Mass" was composed by Haydn in 1798 in 53 days. Nelson's decisive victory at the Battle of the Nile is thought to have inspired the use of the trumpets in the Benedictus portion of this Mass. The unique orchestration consists of only brass, percussion and stringed instruments. Zoltan Kodaly has been considered the leading Hungarian composer since the death of Bartok. His "Te Deum" composed in 1938 has a romantic quality with contemporary overtones with the changes in mood coming rapidly and suddenly. This stirring work combines the flavor of Hungarian folk music in melodic content and rhythmic elements.

The Oratorio Singers of Charlotte was formed in 1951 under the sponsorship of the Charlotte Chapter of the American Guild of Organists. This year marks the

Baggy Pocket And Phone Booth

Upon completion of a long distance call to his family in France, the man was informed by the operator, "That will be $99, sir."

"OK," said the customer as he began feeding quarters into the coin slot. It wasn't long before the operator had to call for help. Because the coin box was already partly filled from other calls, the steady stream of quarters filled the coin chute to the top before he had deposited the full amount. He said he had enough quarters to deposit, but reluctantly agreed to have the balance placed on his home phone bill.

One Didn't Get Away

An Ohio farmer plowing his field uncovered what he thought was one of the largest snakes he had ever seen. He jumped down from the tractor, grabbed a club and proceeded to beat it beyond recognition.

Excited, he ran to the house to call a friend to tell him of his encounter only to find that his phone was dead. So, he decided that as long as he had to report his phone out of service anyway, he might as well kill two birds and do it from his friend's house.

A repairman was dispatched, and with the farmer in tow, traced the underground cable to the freshly plowed field. "Good night," exclaimed the repairman, "What in the world happened to this cable?"

"Cable?" asked the surprised farmer. "I thought it was a snake, so I killed it."

"You sure did," sighed the repairman as he began the task of restoring service.

Spinning your car's wheels will only melt ice and snow and reduce traction, warns the Allstate Motor Club. Always apply power slowly and creep gently forward. In a pinch you can use rubber floor mats from your car placed in front of the rear wheels to obtain extra traction to get you going again. But never permit anyone to stand directly behind a turning or spinning wheel which can throw debris.

Tenth anniversary of Director Donald Platt. During the years the Singers have won national acclaim as they appeared for the lighting of the Christmas Tree in Washington, D. C. in 1965, and made a command appearance in Raleigh in 1963 with "King David."

Tickets for this outstanding performance are on sale at the Oratorio Office, 827 E. Blvd. Telephone 375-7512.

This Milkman Speaking Out

RALEIGH — For the past 51 weeks, the milkman has been taking it on the chin with a grin. Dogs have been barking at him.

Critics have been demanding ice cream cones out the truck. He and his associates have been scribbling him illegible notes on their orders.

An insomniac husband complained about the milkman "rattling" the cardboard containers at 8:00 o'clock in the morning. And, once in a while, he has had engine trouble on frigid mornings.

Next week, the milkman is going to talk back.

He will do so when the North Carolina Dairy Products Association holds its annual convention at Pinehurst.

One of the "milk men" who will be talking is Governor Bob Scott, the keynote speaker to the 400 dairymen, suppliers and guests at the Carolina Hotel Thursday at 9:30 a.m.

Others talking will include North Carolina State University dairy and food processing authorities.

F. Howard Suttle of Wilmington, President of the NCDPA, said "the economical cost of milk in North Carolina will be the theme of the 1970 convention."
