

JIM BROYHILL HAS THE BACKGROUND

Jim Broyhill has been an outstanding leader of his community and his State. Born in Lenoir, North Carolina, in 1927, he is the son of Satie and Edgar Broyhill. From an early age, he was influenced by his family with a sense of obligation for service to people.

Jim was educated in the Lenoir Public Schools and at the University of North Carolina. He is married to the former Louise Robbins of Durham and resides in Lenoir. The Broyhills are members of the First Baptist Church.

Formerly vice-president of the Broyhill Furniture Industries, he has also served as President and Member of the Board of Directors of the Lenoir Chamber of Commerce. In addition, he has served as an officer in many civic and fund-raising projects for community and area betterment. He was chairman of the Industrial Development Committee of the Northwest North Carolina Development Association working to bring new industries into western North Carolina. Later, he served as a member of the Board of Directors of the North Carolina Forestry Association (general conservation) and a Director of the Furniture, Plywood and Veneer Council. Jim Broyhill was the recipient of the Jaycee "Young Man of the Year" award in 1957 in recognition of distinguished service to Lenoir and Caldwell County.
