For every TWO people out of work when the Nixon Administration took office, there are THREE today.

That adds up to 4,100,000 people.

There are another 2,700,000 people working only part time.

THAT ADDS UP TO 6,800,000 PEOPLE OUT OF LUCK.

And it's getting worse.

Tartan and Kilt Centuries Old, Interest Fresh

If there is anything more typically Scottish than Scotch whisky it's a Scotsman's tartan. Almost like clubs, the Scotsman's family seems to belong to an especial tartan, rather than vice versa. Of course, it is for the kilt of the Scot's traditional dress that the tartan material is used, and a magnificent and pleated creation it is. The fascination of the tartan and the kilt is centuries old, but interest in them is as proverbially fresh as tomorrow.

The ripple of the military Scotsman's kilt, as he marches in en masse unison, cannot be beat for spectacle, or for the chill-down-the-spine drama. Under the aegis of Columbia Artists Festivals, Inc., the military band of England's Coldstream Guards are joining the famed pipes, drums and dancers of Scotland's majestic Black Watch regiment for a tour of the U. S. A. and Canada, appearing here at the Charlotte Coliseum, on November 21 at 8:00 p.m. for one performance.

Actually the word 'tartan' is, historically, a corruption of 'braican,' the Gaelic for 'spotted,' or 'chequered,' and the distinctive weave was almost certainly chosen in the beginning as camouflage.

Tickets prices are $3.00, $4.00 and $5.00, and may be ordered from the Charlotte Coliseum Box Office, 2700 Independence Blvd.

TODAY, IT COSTS US ABOUT $1765 TO INSTALL A TELEPHONE.

First, there's the cost of the phone itself. Figure in the installer's salary, his training and equipment, the same for the lineman, the switchman, the cable-splicer, the ten or so people directly involved. Add to that the cost of all that custom wiring connecting the one phone with every other phone in the country. That totals up to about $1765. Considering the little you pay, your phone has to be one of your biggest values.
