Judy Dellinger, Paul Scism Feted At Cake-Cutting After Rehearsal

Miss Judy Dellinger and Paul Scism cut their wedding cake Saturday evening at an after-rehearsal party at Kings Mountain Woman's club.

Entertaining together were

Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Scism, Mr. and Mrs. David Scism, Mr. and Mrs. Moffett Scism, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. John Butler Plonk, all of Kings Mountain, and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Wright of Shelby.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Plonk greeted guests and Mrs. Nolan Scism headed the receiving line which included the bride-elect and bridegroom-to-be; Mrs. W. V. Dellinger, mother of the bride-elect; William G. Dellinger, brother of the bride-elect; and Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Scism, parents of the bridegroom-to-be.

Mrs. Moffett Scism served punch and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Patterson cut and served the cake. Mr. and Mrs. David Scism invited guests to register and goodbyes were said to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Paul.

A color motif of yellow and white was beautifully carried out in decorative details. The bride's tables, overlaid with linen and lace, held the five-tier white and yellow cake as high-light. The cake, decorated in yellow roses, was topped with wedding bells and lovebirds and had a bridal party standing near the side of the cake. A two-tier "weddelabra" of yellow tapers with yellow snapdragons and white and yellow daisies was at one end of the table. Yellow and white mints and cheese wafers were served with the cake and golden wedding punch.

The punch table, also in the club reception room, was covered with a white lace cloth and held crystal appointments. Yellow and white daisies and yellow tapers, wedding rings and lovebirds, decorated the foyer and white daisies and yellow tapers decorated the mantel in the young. Green potted plants were used on tables throughout the receiving rooms.

The bride-elect wore a tangerine party dress with a white shoulder corsage. The 65 guests were members of the two families and wedding party.

TAXPAYERS ASK IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—I want to clear out some of my old bank records, check stubs, cancelled bills and the like. Is there any need to keep these personal records for tax purposes?

A—Records should be kept as long as they are material in administering any Federal tax law. As a general rule, the IRS may assess additional tax or you may claim a refund within three years of the due date of a return. Therefore, any record you might need to support an item listed on your return should be kept at least three years.

Naturally, you will want to keep some records longer. For example, records on the purchase of a home or the acquisition of stock should be kept longer, because they will be needed for your tax return when the assets are sold or exchanged.

Q—Do U. S. citizens living in another country have to pay U. S. income tax?

A—U. S. citizens, wherever they are, are subject to U. S. tax laws. Under certain conditions, however, certain income earned abroad by those who are bona fide residents of a foreign country or who are physically present in a foreign country for a specified period of time is not subject to U. S. tax.

Details can be found in Publication No. 54, Tax Guide for U. S. Citizens Abroad, available free by dropping a postcard to your IRS District Office.

Q—How can I get a copy of my 1969 federal income tax return?

A—Write the IRS Service Center where you filed your return. Be sure to include your name, address and Social Security number. The basic rate for reproduction of a document is one dollar per page.

Q—I don't understand the letter I got from the IRS. What should I do?

A—Contact your local IRS office and explain the situation to them. Identify the letter you received so that the person helping you can advise you what action may be necessary.

Q—I'm trying to determine whether I can claim my mother as a dependent next year. Do I count the Social Security benefits she receives in figuring if I furnished one-half of her total support?

A—Social Security benefits used by the dependent for her support during the year must be included in computing total support, even though such sums are tax exempt.

For example, if your mother's only two sources of support are you and Social Security, you would have to provide more than she gets from Social Security to meet the support test.

Test Tube Magic Produces

RALEIGH — It's not "black magic" but test tube magic that produced the new fibers, fabrics and finishes found in today's clothing.

Thompson Wins Promotion

R. Leon Thompson has been appointed plant manager of the new polyester filament yarn plant now being built by American Enka Company as part of its Clemson, S. C. operations.

When completed in the latter part of 1972, the new facility will produce about 30-million pounds of fine denier polyester yarns for apparel markets. It will be Enka's second plant at the Clemson location and will employ 500 to 600 persons when in full production.

Thompson has been transferred from Enka, where since 1969 he has served as production manager of the nylon plant. He began work with Enka in 1953 as a shift chemist and was named assistant to the plant's production manager in 1958, advancing to production manager 11 years later.

The new plant manager is a native of Chester, S. C. He received a degree in chemistry from Erskine College and did graduate work in chemistry at the University of South Carolina. He served in Korea with the U. S. army.

Thompson is a deacon in the Arden Presbyterian church and was formerly Sunday school superintendent. He has been active in the Cub Scouts program and in Little League baseball.

Thompson is married to the former Iris Patterson of Kings Mountain. They have two sons. The family moved in early August from 30 Bevllyn Drive, Asheville to 111 E. Brookwood Drive, Clemson.

fast to keep up with what's happening in the fabric world.

It's not that there are so many new fibers coming to market, but that test tube magic is taking the latest fibers and doing unusual things to them, explains Harriet Tutterow, extension clothing specialist, North Carolina State University.

With chemical "slight of hand," shiny fibers become dull, dull ones shiny, and transparent ones opaque.

Manufacturers can now dye a fabric and come out with a feathered, two-tone effect using only a single dyebath, the specialist notes.

Also, fibers can now be made into yarn and woven into a pattern that can be seen only when the fabric is dyed.

Consideration is being given to the development of a thermo-reactive fiber. Warm in winter, cool in summer, clothing made from this fiber could be worn year-round.

Another possibility is a fiber that would be permanently sanitized.
