Bell Has Upped Construction Budget For '72

Southern Bell has increased its construction budget by six million dollars for the year to expand and improve telephone facilities in North Carolina. The recent revision raises the projected annual expenditures for construction to a record $128 million, compared with $102 million in 1971.

This increase reflects Southern Bell's constant efforts to meet the public's changing needs for telephone services, stated John J. Ryan, vice president and general manager.

The continual, rising demand for our various services has prompted Southern Bell to adjust its construction upward in the state, Ryan commented. Thru June 1972 we have committed $56.3 million in North Carolina expanding present equipment and adding new facilities.

Reviewing the company's progress at midyear, Ryan noted that in North Carolina Southern Bell has already added 1,840 main telephones of the projected 42,000 total for 1972. A record gain for the company, this figure represents a 17% increase over the previous year. Construction or expansion projects are underway at each of the 92 Bell exchange areas across the state to handle this increase and improve present facilities.

In North Carolina each day approximately 692,000 calls are placed through Southern Bell, Ryan added. About 338,000 of the calls are handled by operators and over 354,000 are dialed by the customers. To carry this volume of calls across the state, Southern Bell is adding 6,154 million conductor feet of cable to its present network to improve and replace existing cable facilities.

Through Southern Bell's modernization program our customer constantly gains new and improved services for his same telephone, year after year. We intend to maintain a high quality of service to our present subscribers in North Carolina, while we enlarge and improve our facilities for our future customers, concluded Ryan.

An estimated 3.6 million youths (16-24) will enter the labor force during the months April-July. This represents a decrease of 400,000 from the same period in 1971.

VA Questions And Answers

Q — I named my mother as beneficiary of my VA insurance while I was single. I have since married, but now plan a divorce. Can I change beneficiaries again?

A — Yes. VA regulations permit an insured to change beneficiaries as many times as desired.

Q — I was separated from active duty several years ago. When will my GI Bill entitlement expire?

A — Assuming you are otherwise eligible and were released from active duty after Jan. 31, 1965, you have eight years to use your GI Bill benefits or until May 31, 1974, whichever is later.

Q — Can the lender who gave me my GI home loan legally raise the interest rate on my balance?

A — No. VA regulations do not permit interest rates to be increased above the contract rate agreed upon when the loan was made to the veteran.
