

Hostess DEEDS

By JANICE CHRISTENSEN

Beauty to the inside of the home as well as to the outside, notes Martha Adams, extension home economics agent.

Miss Little, who got the idea for her garden from a special interest meeting, says she doesn't mind the extra watering that is required to keep the hanging garden beautiful.

APRONS INSPIRE

Sixteen "Golden Agers" in Cleveland county are wearing beautiful aprons, thanks to the clothing leader of the Galilee-Goldmine Extension Homemakers club.

"And this gift," believes Mrs. R. V. Stowe, the sewing leader, "may inspire the women to form their own Senior Crafts group."

Mrs. Stowe made the simple, yet pretty aprons with the help of an aunt who loves to sew, adds Thelma McVea, home economics extension agent.

LARGER WAIST

Patterns made in the last few months are larger in the waist. They are larger by one inch on the basic body measurement chart for all adult women's sizes except junior petite where the change is one-half inch, says Dorothy Barrier, extension clothing specialist, North Carolina State University.

APCO Taps Don Shields

J. Don Shields begins today serving as president of the North Carolina chapter, Association of Public Safety Communications Officers (APCO).

Elected as president-elect at last APCO conference, Shields will serve until July 1974. APCO is an association of administrators and communications technical, operational and command personnel.

The purpose of APCO is to foster the development and progress of the art of Public Safety Communications and to promote greater correlation of the communications activities of towns, cities, counties, states and federal agencies; to assist in the development of channels, methods, systems and other media for the rapid and accurate collection, exchange and dissemination of public safety communications; to represent such agencies before the Federal Communications Commission and other regulatory

IN-WATS STATE LIBRARY INFORMATION SERVICE
What do you need to know in a hurry? The North Carolina State Library's Inward Wide Area Telephone Service (IN-WATS) can provide the answers quickly and accurately.

This network links the more than 300 public, special, community college, college and university and technical school libraries in the state, providing North Carolinians with almost any type of information they can possibly desire.

Inaugurated in 1968 as the first such telephonic information service in the world, the service has grown enormously, and has been widely initiated.

hours a day by making a request from his local library. If the information is unavailable at the local facility, the librarian will take advantage of the state-wide IN-WATS system to obtain the answer to the patron's question by relaying it to the IN-WATS network at the State Library in Raleigh.

An automatic answering device records messages during the time the State Library is closed, and relays the information to the staff on the next day of operation. Individuals and planners throughout the state now have access to historical works and publications from any part of the state, and even further afield, if necessary.

The State Library is able to fill more than 80 percent of the requests it receives, according to Mrs. Virginia Gibson, interlibrary services network librarian, with answers gathered and mailed to the patron's home library, usually the same day the request is received.

For the first six months in 1973, IN-WATS received more than 6,500 calls, an average of more than 36 a day.

Ross Gregory's Rites Conducted

Funeral rites for Ross Gregory, 75, of Gastonia, Kings Mountain native, were conducted Tuesday afternoon from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jimmy Huskins, 2010 Midpines.

Rev. J. W. Moore and Rev. Floyd Hollar officiated at the final rites and interment was in Mountain Rest cemetery.

Mr. Gregory died Sunday afternoon at 4:30 in Gaston Memorial hospital. He was a retired textile worker and a veteran of World War I army service. His wife, Barbara Martin Gregory, died in 1953.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Will Huntsinger and Mrs. Jimmy Huskins, both of Kings heavy just now, the librarian noted.

So, any citizen of North Carolina with a need or desire for information of any kind—it's as near as the library. A request from IN-WATS will speed your information to you—ready for use—in whatever capacity you had in mind!

Among the unusual questions received recently are a request for a picture or diagram of a cow's brain. A call to the state veterinarian and NCSU provided three possible books to be sent to the patron. Also requested recently was the going price for a genuine Equadorian shrunken bear. Investigation determined that it is illegal to own, buy or sell a shrunken head in the United States.

HAVE YOU HAD YOUR VITAMIN H TODAY?

Don't tell us you have never heard of Vitamin H? What about Vitamin U? Or Vitamin P4? These are some of the "rare vitamins" which nevertheless play an important role in nutrition. Vitamin U for example is found in cabbages and is believed to be an anti-ulcer factor. Then there are vitamins B13, M and T. These may not be available on the shelves today, but in the future may play a part in disease treatment or prevention.

There is more to vitamins than you might think. So, do not take vitamin preparations indiscriminately. Rely on expert advice.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.
