the camel-color reefer

Once in a while a truly great style comes into fashion's picture. This moment, this year, this coat is definitely for you. The reefer is functional: double breasted, with deep pockets, easy rippling skirt, roomy sleeves and armholes. The reefer flatters like no other: see the pairs of long, shaped darts that indent the waistline. Oversized flapped pockets that minimize inches. Back belt riding over a deep single pleat. This reefer's fabric speaks with authority: wool plush fortified with nylon. Superb in camel-tone, equally classic in rich copper or slate blue.

 if your coat is short ...

Juniors like that close-to-the-body fit ... the clever way tucks mark a shoulder, define the waist. Plenty of news going on behind your back too ... via a single deep pleat, rippling or outline-stitched flare. All of it brought together with a twist-and-tie sash belt. This Fall and Winter, we see short coats topping everything that's new in your wardrobe.

- A. Notch collar; slanting yoke above tucked midriff. Camel, terra cotta, rust; wool & nylon melton. 7-15 ... $34.88
- B. Hooded wool and nylon plush. Much shoulder interest via clusters of tucks. Camel, rust, grey. 5-13 ... $58.88
- C. Pintucked bib front; ripple back above set-in waistband and sash tie. Flip up hood. Camel, green, rust. 5-15 ... $44.88
