

G-Webb Expands Program

BOILING SPRINGS Gardner-Webb College has announced an expanded annual giving program to provide for daily operational expenses.

The program, to be called the Annual College Fund, is a broadened version of traditional alumni-giving appeals. It will combine the efforts of all alumni, board members, parents, faculty and staff members, and other friends.

The goal of the Annual College Fund during the 1976-77 fiscal year is $80,000. Julius Pinkston, assistant controller of the Charlotte branch of the J. P. Stevens Company, will serve as general chairman. He is a 1951 graduate of Gardner-Webb.

While supporting the day-to-day needs of the college, the new program will provide for increased student aid, increased volumes in the library and overall academic program development.

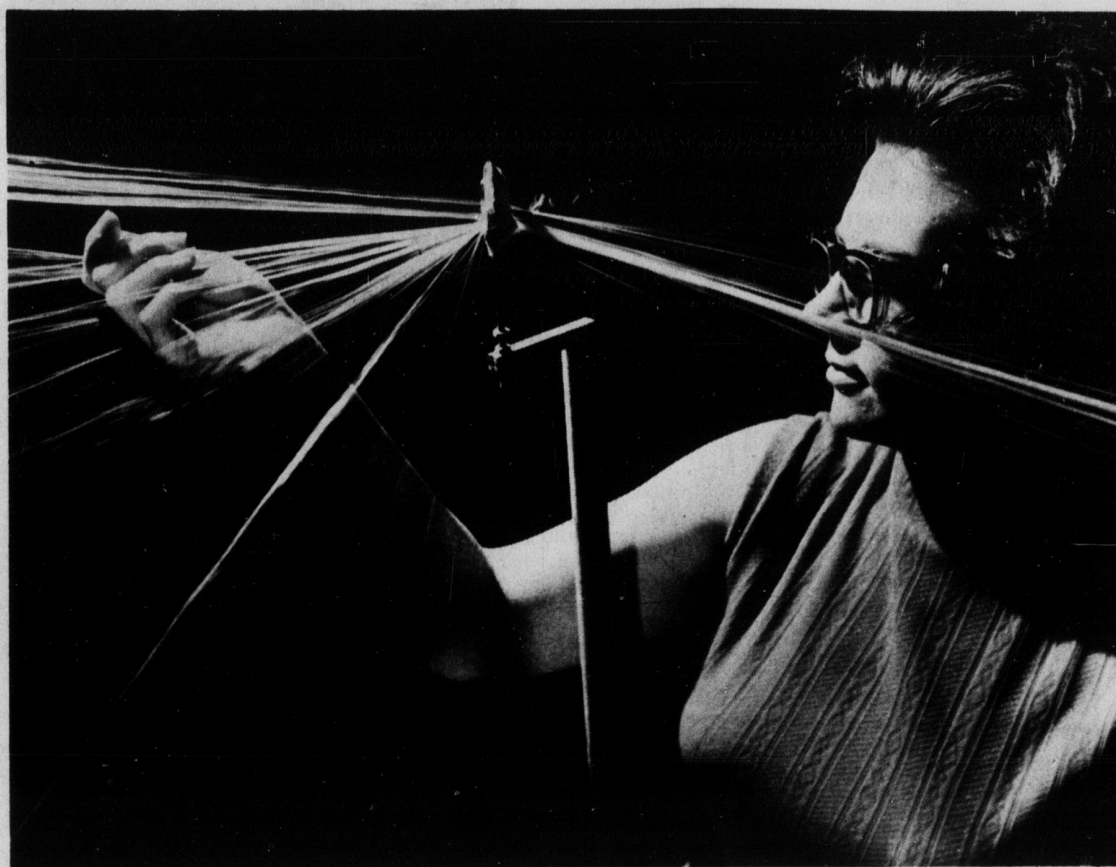

The Annual College Fund was outlined Friday at the quarterly meeting of the board of trustees and board of advisors. Howard Biggers of Charlotte, chairman of the trustees' development committee, and Dr. John Roberts of Greenville, S. C., vice chairman of the board of advisors, presented the fund to their respective boards.

In kicking off the campaign, Pinkston described the new structure as a "United Fund concept."

"The Annual College Fund will pull together all groups representing the college and place them under one unified, well-organized program. Their one gift annually to Gardner-Webb will be used to help support the operational budget," he explained.

"Even in the face of spiraling inflation, these gifts will enable Gardner-Webb to keep pace with the increased academic needs of the students and the community."

The 1976-77 fund drive will end June 30.

ROVING EYES — Edith Mann checks strands of fiber glass being wound from a reel into a roving package at PPG Industries' Shelby plant. Roving packages are cylindrical tubes of fiber glass strands, weighing about 70 pounds and containing 150 miles of continuous strand. Fiber glass roving is used to reinforce plastics for automobile, marine, electrical and other applications.

Carrousel Parade Slated

On Thursday, Thanksgiving Day the Yuletide season comes to Charlotte with the 30th annual Carolinas' Carrousel Parade. It starts at 2 p. m. this year, one hour earlier than in previous years due to the festivities in Marshall Park.

There will be 125 units in the parade with bands from the following High Schools: Maiden High School, Chesterfield, S. C.; Sun Valley High School, Monroe, N. C.; Lewisville High School, Richburg, S. C.; East Gaston High School, Mt. Holly; Concord

High School; Piedmont High, Monroe, N. C.; Parkwood High, Monroe, N. C.; R. S. Central, Rutherfordton, N. C.; North Stanley, New London, N. C.; Southside High, Greenville, S. C.; St. Stephens, Hickory; Gamewell-Collettsville High, Lenoir, N. C.; South Iredell High, Barium Springs, N. C.; Central Cabarrus, Concord, N. C.; Cabarrus High, Catawba, N. C.; West Rowan, Mt. Ulla, N. C.

This years parade starts on North Tryon Street at Sears, proceeds down Tryon St. through the Square and on down to Stonewall. It turns left on Stonewall, and turns left again at Caldwell to Third Street, then turns right for the march to Marshall Park where the presentation of awards for band judging is presented.

On Wed., Nov. 24, a Queen's Luncheon will be held at the Civic Center. There will be entertainment provided, and the Queen and Princesses of the Carrousel will be introduced. The luncheon is open to the public and tickets are $3. The Luncheon is at 11:45 a. m. to 1 p. m.

On Wed. night, Nov. 24, at 8 p. m. the Coronation Ball will take place at the Civic Center. Tickets for this event are $4.

Tickets for all events of the Carrousel are on sale at Belk, Ivey's, Coliseum Box Office and the Carrousel Office.

This year the theme of the Carolinas' Carrousel Parade is "Two Hundred Years of Christmas," and all floats reflect that theme. The floats are put together with lots of color and tinsel and Christmas interest and deal both with the past and present, many are artistic and lend themselves to the transportation of the Queens and Princesses, and many are child orientated. . . some will have self contained generators for moving objects.

Seaman Apprentice Morris Completes Recruit Training

Navy Seaman Apprentice William E. Morris of Route 1, Box 180, Bessemer City, N. C., has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Orlando, Fla.

During the eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.

Among the subjects he studied were seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. He joined the Navy in August 1976.

INFANTRYMAN

Army Pvt. Richard S. Brown, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brown Sr., Route 1, Kings Mountain, recently was assigned as an infantryman in the 1st Armored Division in Illshelm, Germany.

Jackson Completes Training

Marine Pvt. Wendell A. Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy G. Jackson of Route 1, Box 375, Kings Mountain, has completed recruit training at the Marine Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C.

During the 11-week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines.

He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

A 1976 graduate of Kings Mountain Senior High School, he joined the Marine Corps in July 1976.

Club Predicts 20 Holiday Deaths

The N. C. State Motor Club has estimated that approximately 20 persons will die in North Carolina traffic accidents over the Thanksgiving holiday weekend.

Official observance of the holiday will be over a 102-hour period that lasts from 6 p. m. Wed., Nov. 24, until midnight Sunday, Nov. 28. Last year, 26 persons were killed on Tar Heel highways during a similar period.

"Fatalities during the Thanksgiving period usually run higher than other holidays," Thomas B. Watkins, chairman of the statewide motor club, said. "For the past 17 years, deaths at this time of year have averaged 26." Watkins pointed out that the long period during which the state counts its toll, plus frequent inclement weather, usually make Thanksgiving a perilous driving period.

"But we are always optimistic," he commented, "and hope that this year's Thanksgiving accidents will be fewer than usual. Overall, fatalities in the state are running behind last year."

In 1975, speeding was a factor in eight of the 24 mishaps in which fatalities occurred. Other accident causes were failure to yield right-of-way (four), and driving under the influence of alcohol (three).

"Speeding, drinking and carelessness resulted in 16 deaths last year that perhaps could have been avoided," Watkins remarked. "I caution our drivers to help eliminate these dreadful statistics."

Spangler Elected Chairman

BOILING SPRINGS — R. Patrick Spangler of Shelby has been elected chairman of the Gardner-Webb College Board of Trustees for the seventh time.

Serving as vice chairman during 1977 will be Howard Biggers, Jr. of Charlotte. Miss Charline Stamey of Fallston was re-elected secretary and Mrs. J. C. Hames of Cliffside was named treasurer, Friday at the board's quarterly meeting.

Treasurer of Spangler & Sons, Inc., of Kings Mountain and Shelby, Spangler last served as chairman in 1974. Last year, he was a member of the board's executive committee and chairman of the finance committee.

Biggers, president of Biggers Brothers, Inc., was chairman of the board's development committee during the past year. He is beginning his second term as a trustee.

Miss Stamey is beginning her third consecutive year as secretary. During 1976, she was also a member of the executive committee and the tone and character committee. She is vice president of Stamey Stores, Inc.

Mrs. Hames is beginning her second term as a trustee. She is a retired public school teacher.

The Gardner-Webb Board of Trustees is responsible for the direction of the school and must approve all major changes in policy. A total of 36 men and women are elected by the Baptist State Convention to serve on the board. Nine are elected annually to serve four-year terms.
