

Second Vote On Colors Change Fails

By CINDIE FALLS
KMSHS Correspondent

A joint House and Senate meeting was held last Friday. The topic of changing the school colors was once again voted on but it did not pass.

Representatives from a disco dance organization spoke to the student government on a disco dance the Student Participation Organization are wanting to sponsor. Further discussion was suggested to be made on this subject later.

Members of the House and Senate, including SPO officers, class presidents and some House members, will attend a student exchange day at Burns High School.

The Beta Club of KMSHS sponsored a "Spirit Week" March 1-4 to raise money for a scholarship to be given to a deserving senior. Some major events during "Spirit Week" were chain link sales, piethrowing and softball throwing contests and a pretty legs contest. Sponsors of the Beta Club are Mrs. Virginia Raymer and Kay Bridges.

The student body of KMSHS was presented with a musical-comedy show put on by the Drama Class at the high school. The show began with Brenda Young (Salt) and Douglas Sincos, Pepper, acting as your host for the show. They opened up with a song and then an inroduction of the guests. Theron Feemster highlighted the show by doing an impression of Stevie Wonder. Larry Gill, Tammy Appling and Greg Byers did a doctor scene in which the nurse went wild. Sheila Branton and Scott Waddell were the main characters in a skit which involved a baby manufacturing company. Those students who made up the "baby machine" were Kevin Tinsley, Kenny Self, Tim Hamrick, Delores Conner, Michelle Mintz, and Ray Horx. Square dancers who a number and they included Brenda Young, Tammy Blanton, Scott Waddell, Delores Conner, Greg Byers, Tammy Appling, Ray Hord and Darryl Edwards.

Kevin Tinsley, Patricia Turner, Tammy Blanton and Jeff Goudeock were also involved in a skit concerning robots. Students in the drama class built their own props. Gene Alexander is the drama teacher.

FATHER-DAUGHTER — Charles T. Carpenter Jr., 413 Crescent Hill, Kings Mountain, was one of over 170 fathers who attended the Father-Daughter Dinner-Dance with his daughter, Laura, at Peace College campus in Raleigh. This was the second annual event sponsored by the Peace Student Government Association.

Library Mystery; Garden Books Gone

The clue: a rose garden. If any of you citizens see a particularly beautiful rose garden this summer, please, in the interest of your own tax dollar, ask the owner if she or he has any of five beautiful rose books missing from the shelves of Mauney Memorial Library.

Although the rose books evidently vanished without being checked out, the library also maintains a file of books borrowed by card but never returned. After numerous notifications, these names are placed in a separate file and these patrons may no longer borrow books until the books are returned or paid for. If you are a guilty party, or one of your children, please return the books through the door slot in the dark of night and all will be forgiven.

You can prevent steaks from curling while broiling by making diagonal slashes at 2 inch intervals in fat along the outer edge of steak.

For a change, use long strips of beef for kabobs instead of cubes. Thread them onto the skewer in an S-shape with small pieces of vegetable, or what have you, in the curves.

Money-saver: Buy beef in large pieces and cut into strips or cubes yourself instead of paying a butcher to do it. It is easiest to slice when half frozen.
