

Earl Garden Clubbers See Program On Trees

EARL — The Earl Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Warren Starnes Monday night. Members and visitors were welcomed by Mrs. Starnes, president, including Mrs. Ed Champion, Mrs. C. Q. Lavender, Mrs. Johnny Lavender and Mrs. Hagen Barrett. Devotions were given by Mrs. Steve Johnson. Mrs. Morris Runyans gave a report on the club's project of waste paper, saying that a central place has been set up in town for collecting the waste paper. After a short business session, the plant for the month to be studied, varie-gated and plain liriope, were passed around and discussed by members. Also, a six bloom Amaryllis was passed around and each member told how she cared for such a plant in planting and feeding it. Mrs. John T. Moore, Jr. of High Point gave the program on trees. She started by telling the history of Arbor Day, saying, "Long before Arbor Day was celebrated in the U. S. A., there had been Tree planting customs in other parts of the world. The man who must be given the honor of promoting the first formal observance of

Arbor Day is J. Sterling Morton, of Nebraska, a newspaperman, who migrated from Detroit in 1854 and found there only open prairies where the wind swept along unhindered, often with devastating results. In 1885 through his influence, April 22 was set aside in Nebraska as a legal holiday called Arbor Day. Within 16 years a total of 600 million trees had been planted and 100,000 acres of waterlands had been turned into forested land. Miss Marie Davis gave instructions on how to grow the house plant, kalanchoes, which resembles Christmas Cactus.

"Horticulture Quiz" was given to members. Mrs. Jeff Champion will be hostess to the next meeting. Mrs. Steve Jackson, co-hostess, assisted Mrs. Starnes in serving refreshments.

Club Visits SLS

Good Earth Garden Club members met one week earlier than usual, on Wednesday, March 2, to go as a group to the Southern Living Show in Charlotte. Members were able to formulate ideas for their own home gardens from the displays of plants and flowers. Other items of interest were the hand-crafts and beautifully furnished rooms of furniture. Before leaving, each member was given a soil testing kit from WBT.
