

KM Senior In Running For Century Scholarship

Kenneth Richard Boheler, of 1202 Shelby Rd., has won the Century III Leaders Scholarship competition at Kings Mountain Senior High School, according to Principal Forrest Wheeler. The 17-year-old senior is now eligible to compete with other high school seniors throughout North Carolina for one of two $1,000 scholarships and also for a $10,000 national scholarship that will be awarded in a conference of state winners in historic Colonial Williamsburg, Va. Boheler triumphed in the local phase of the Century III Leaders Scholarship Program, a national future studies, writing, citizenship and current events awareness competition. To do this, he scored highest at the school in a current events examination and the writing of a brief essay on America's needs and challenges for the future. The program is administered by the National Association of Secondary School Principals and funded by Shell Oil Co.

Norman Jean Camp of Rt. 2. Boheler now competes with other high school winners from around the state for two scholarships and an opportunity for the $10,000 top national scholarship. The two N. C. winners will receive an all-expense-paid trip to the third annual Century II National Leadership Seminar in Williamsburg, Feb. 24-27, to participate in seminars on current issues. In previous years, speakers at these seminars were such notables as architect-futurist Buckminster Fuller and anthropologist Rene Dubos. Entries were judged on the basis of the student's demonstrated leadership potential and their viewpoints, as written, on particular issues that America is likely to confront and how such challenges should be met.

Smith Runs For Flag Saturday At Gaffney

GAFFNEY — Late model sportsman's top name drivers, headed by Gaffney's Mike Duvall, Morganton's Bennett Clontz and Lavonia C. L. Pritchett, return to the Cherokee Speedway here Saturday night for another exciting racing program. Gates open at 5 o'clock with the first heat races slated to get under way at 7 o'clock. Promoter Ed Gault is starting earlier due to the cooler nights. Races continue each Saturday night here. Gault also has a gala Thanksgiving Afternoon race slated to begin at 2:30.

Other late model favorites expected are Kings Mountain's Freddy Smith, Spartanburg's Billy Bishop and Harold Painter, Gaffney's Mike Humphries, David Perry, Tommy Robbs and Charlie Blanton, Shelby's Floyd Weaver and Preston Humphries, Woodruff's Doug Osteen and Fred Hawkins, Dennis Williams, Boiling Springs; and Georgia favorites, Ray Allison and Aaron Galley.

expected, along with Larry Petty, Jerry Gantt and Jimmy Bullock.

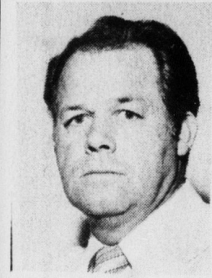

Rookie favorites include Billy Tessenner, last week's winner; Rick Gosnell and Tommy Turner, and many others.

The concept of canned food was introduced in the 19th century by an English merchant, Peter Durand.

Christmas Show Opens Saturday

It's a secret wish of most people to own an original. Something fresh, different, and totally one's own. Visitors to the Southern Christmas Show, Nov. 5 through 13, at the Charlotte Merchandise Mart, will have their wish granted.

To celebrate its anniversary the show will offer visitors a "gift" of exclusive recipes created especially for the Holiday season.

The recipes have been conjured up by professional home economists from the Yam, Peanut, Pork, Egg, Dairy, Seafood and Poultry Commissions of North Carolina. These professionals, along with their counterparts from Duke Power Company, will prepare the show recipes for audiences at the Holiday Kitchen Magic Theatre, which will be part of the show this year.

Joanne Ivey, representing the N. C. Egg Marketing Association will be bringing a special guest with her on "Egg Day" Sat., Nov. 5. Howard Helmer, a nationally recognized, award-winning Chef with the American Egg Board will demonstrate egg recipes highlighting a special Southern Christmas Show Holiday Dessert Omelet. Helmer frequently entertains senators and congressmen with his eggs-pertise in Washington, D. C. circles and his simple techniques are a joy for gourmet and novice cooks alike.

Both Sundays, Nov. 6 and 13, Duke Power's shows will "shed the light" on conserving energy during the holidays, making Christmas decorations, and will also demonstrate their Southern Christmas Show Delight, a sugary concoction of pecans, cream cheese, whipped topping and instant pudding.

Monday, Nov. 7, is "Pork Day" at Holiday Kitchen Magic. Pat Reed, Home Economist for the North Carolina Pork Producers Association, Inc. has a spectacular Southern Christmas Show Glazed Ham planned, as well as a delicious Crunch Ham Salad and other porky perfections. April Dawn Clough, the reigning North Carolina Pork

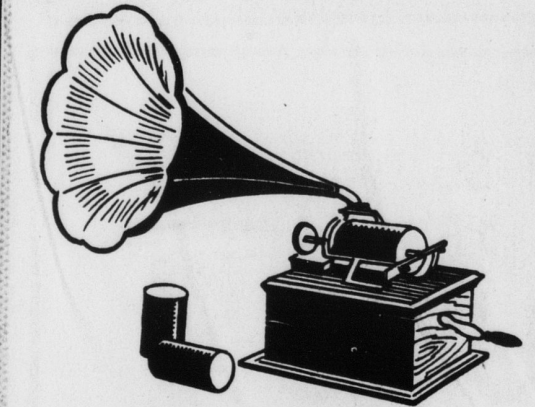

Queen, will join Ms. Reed on stage. Visitors will enjoy Dianne Hain's Southern Christmas Show Yam Treats on Tuesday, the 8th. She represents the N. C. Sweet Potato Association, and just might make yams an even greater Holiday favorite.

What holiday table would be complete without ice cream? Margie Gilbert, Director of Dairy Education and Consumer Services for North Carolina has created the finishing touch with Southern Christmas Show Ice Cream Tarts. Wednesday, November 9, is the date to learn how to prepare this delicious-sounding peppermint, almond and chocolate freeze-ahead dream.

Fay Lewis of the N. C. Department of Commerce says seafood is quite at home on the holiday table. And, she's created a complete Southern Christmas Show Seafood Party Buffet to prove it. Her party ideas, at the show Thursday, November 10, include a seafood yule log, shrimp Christmas tree and yuletide seafood spread. The home-baked goodness of Southern Christmas Show Peanut Cookies will bring out the old-fashioned holiday sentimentality in everyone. Betsy Owens, Director of North Carolina's Grower's Peanut Food Promotion can vouch for that. Packed with nutrition, this flavorful combination of peanuts, oatmeal and chocolate bits make cookies fit for any cookie jar, as well as wrapped in boxes and baskets for gifts. Peanut Day is Friday, Nov. 11th.

Thanksgiving and Christmas automatically spell 'turkey!' But Emmie Whitley of the N. C. Poultry Federation, who'll be the Sat., Nov. 12 cook, says don't settle for the ordinary. Her Southern Christmas Show Turkey Nuggets are an easy-to-eat party treat with a crunchy sesame seed crust. You can dip them in a choice of three tasty sauces — nippy pineapple, dill, or royalty, or they're just as good by themselves.

The Holiday Kitchen Magic, in a modern General Electric kitchen installed at the Show, will follow a regular schedule each day allowing visitors
