Mrs. Hamrick Is Honored

Mrs. Frank Hamrick was honored Sun., Nov. 19th, at a surprise birthday dinner hosted by her children and grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Webster and children, Beth and Brian, hosted the party at their home on Putnam Lake Rd. A decorated birthday cake centered the dining birthday Sun., Dec. 4 at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Huffstetler of Kings Mountain. Nikki's birthday is Dec. 1.

A Mickey Mouse cake was served with ice cream, cookies and punch to 15 guests. The guests included Jay Myers of Wellford, S. C., Lee Farris, Vincent and Tracey Sullins of Kings Mountain and Stacey McMurray of Shelby.

Nikki is also the granddaughter of Mrs. Lawrence White and great-granddaughter of Mrs. R. G. McMurray, both of Kings Mountain. Nikki's mother is the former Gail Huffstetler.

room table from which the meal was served buffet-style. Mrs. Hamrick was remembered with a variety of gifts.

Present, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Hamrick and the Webster family were Kelly, Kim and Kent Goodson of Kings Mountain and Mr. and Mrs. Randy Hutchinson and Keesha of Bessemer City.

Angela Kay Cornwell, was christened Sun., Dec. 4 at Robinson Memorial Presbyterian Church in Gastonia by the Rev. Thomas Richie. She was christened on the same day as her mother was 26 years ago, and wore the same gown as her mother, which was hand-made by her grandmother.

Angela is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cornwell of Gastonia.

Sunday was also Angela's second birthday, and she was honored by a surprise birthday party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kerr in Gastonia.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Suman of Kings Mountain, Mr. and Mrs. Don Crawford of Nags Head, formerly of Kings Mountain, and great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McGinnis, Ethel Crawford, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blalock, all of Kings Mountain.

Clear Frosty Windows

Motorists who fail to clear frost from their car's windshield, side, and rear windows not only risk having or causing an accident, but they also risk receiving a traffic citation, according to Highway Patrol Commander, Colonel John T. Jenkins.

Jenkins pointed out that failure to clear all the frost from all car windows was not only unsafe but also a violation. North Carolina law requires the windshield, rear, and side glasses to be free from discoloration which impairs the driver's vision or creates a hazard, he said.

During this season of the year, Jenkins suggested, motorists should anticipate frost and cover their car glasses at night. If they do not, they should scrape all frost from all car glasses before starting out on these frosty mornings.

Motorists attempting to reach their destination while peering through a "peephole" of frost can expect enforcement action by the Patrol, Jenkins said.

EMPLOYEE HONORED — James Mintz receives a certificate of appreciation for five years of service to Burlington Industries' Phenix Plant in Kings Mountain. Mintz is employed on the first shift in the carding department. Ray Baughman, (left) head of the department, presents the framed certificate.

RECOGNIZED — Edna Teseneer, spinning department supervisor at Burlington Industries Phenix Plant in Kings Mountain, was recently awarded a certificate of appreciation for 35-years of employment at the local plant. Presenting the award is Darrell King, head of the spinning department.

Bumper Stickers

More than 10,000 bumper stickers declaring "North Carolina is Art Country" will begin decorating Tar Heel automobiles this week.

The first project of the recently formed Governor's Business Council on the Arts and Humanities, the bumper stickers are sponsored by Wachovia Bank through vice president and business council member Scott Kramer.

The theme is derived from a 1977 summer cover story of Wachovia Magazine on North Carolina artists.

"The bumper stickers are another way to emphasize North Carolina as the 'State of the Arts,'" commented Secretary Sara W. Hodgkins is for everyone," she said.

Beginning Nov. 28, the bumper stickers are available free through local arts councils, members of the N. C. Association of Art Galleries and the affiliate galleries of the N. C. Museum of Art.

WEEKLY Health Tips

From Wilson Griffin

Salt addicts are more prone to high blood pressure, report doctors with the National Heart and Lung Institute. They found that people with hypertension have a history of consuming four times as much salt as persons with normal blood pressure. High salt consumption and fluid retention have been associated with high blood pressure for years.

CELEBRATES 94th BIRTHDAY — Mrs. Florence Navy is seated at a gala birthday table at Kings Mountain Convalescent Center surrounded by other friends celebrating birthdays this month and her two children, standing, Mrs. John Oates and Roy Navy, both of Kings Mountain. A decorated yellow, green and gold tiered cake was cut and served with party refreshments to all residents of KMCC. Not present were three other children of Mrs. Navy and the late Frank Navy, Mrs. Donnie Lattimore of Springfield, Va., Mrs. Hattie Gardner and James Navy, both of Charlotte. Mrs. Navy, 94 years young Nov. 28th, is confined to a wheelchair because of a broken hip but belies her age in spirit and activity. Monday's party was arranged by Mrs. Carl Wilson.

Removal Okayed

The North Carolina Board of Transportation approved Friday a $19,940 contract for the removal of a bridge on Jolley and Haynes Bridge Road (Secondary Road 1188) Southwest of Bolling Springs in Cleveland

County. The bridge has been closed to all traffic since August 1977. The contract to remove the bridge over the Broad River was one of 12 different highway construction projects approved, totaling more than $17 million. Keith Yount Construction Company of Salisbury was awarded the contract for the project. Work on the bridge removal may begin as early as next month and is scheduled to be completed by June 1978.
