Heavner Host Of Smith Show

Kings Mountain native Jim Heavner, whose broadcasting company owns the rights to Tar Heel basketball games, has taken over the Dean Smith Basketball Show this season, replacing Woody Durham. The show is aired in this area each Sunday on WBTB Channel Three.

FIRES FOR TWO — Kings Mountain's Lisa Baity fires in two of her eight points in Monday's jayvee win over Shelby at the KMHS gym. The Mountaineers will face a much tougher test Monday when they host Burns at 6:30.

past three seasons. "It was nip and tuck all the way and McGill's experience really paid off for us. He showed good leadership, not only in scoring and rebounding but also in his will to win."

On three different occasions, McGill, who was the team's number two scorer and top rebounder a year ago, went up over the rim to tap in missed shots.

Coach Napier was also pleased with the play of Gerald Byers and Mark Scruggs, who came off the bench to play some good basketball.

In three other games involving junior high teams Monday, KM posted a pair of victories and only one defeat.

The varsity girls opened their season with an impressive 46-31 victory on the Crest floor.

The varsity girls got 17 points and 16 rebounds from Diane Williams and 15 points from Cheryl Goode as they completely outclassed the Crest ladies.

Coach Candy Albergine cleared her bench in the second half after the Lady Pats stormed to a 32-9 lead at intermission.

"We played real well except for too many turnovers," said Albergine. "But I guess turnovers are to be expected in the first game."

The jayvee girls, who won the conference titles the past two years, suffered the only loss for a KM team, dropping a tough 30-24 loss on their home floor.

Angela Bell was the only double-digit scorer for Becky Summitt's girls with 10 points.

The jayvee boys won their ninth straight game over the past two years, opening their season with a 40-31 win over Crest in a game played here.

Terrence Blalock and Demetrius Goode shared scoring honors with 10 points each and Tim Bell had six points and eight rebounds.

Coach Danny McDowell also got good play from his 4-foot-8 point guard Jimmy "Mini-Mite" Brown, who did an excellent job of ball-handling and running the offense.

Patriots Whip Crest In Opener

Matters Host Greenies

Kings Mountain High's wrestlers, coming off a third place finish in the Gaston Invitational Tournament, open regular season action tonight at 7:30 at home against 4-A Gastonia Ashbrook.

The Mountaineers, under new head coach Steve Moffitt, will go into the match as underdogs. The Green Wave won the Gaston tourney for the second straight year.

The Mountaineers, a predominantly sophomore and senior team, will be using this match and several upcoming non-conference matches to gear for the Southwestern 3-A Conference race, which begins in January. Coach Moffitt has three returning All-Conference performers in David Gordon, Robert Ingram and Tim Mitchem, and he has some outstanding sophomore talent in such men as Miles Boyce, Sammy Bell, Kenny Womack, Maurice Jamerison, Darryl Brown, Lenny Thompson, Johnny Ross and others.

Ross, a 132-pounder, copped first place in his division in the Gaston tourney, as did Gordon, a senior heavyweight. Both should be strong in the SWC, along with several other grapplers.

The Mounties travel to Crest next Monday for another non-conference test.

Pop's Story To Rerun On WBTB

If you missed the Carolina Camera feature recently on Kings Mountain's 72-year-old golfer, Pop Foster, you'll have another chance to see it Friday on WBTB Channel Three.

The feature, which was filmed at Kings Mountain Country Club's golf course, will be rerun Friday between 6:15 and 6:30 p. m. Foster, who is employed by KMCC, shoots par golf even though he uses only five golf clubs. His story is an interesting one and you'll want to see it Friday.
