HEART VOLUNTEERS — This trio of Kings Mountain women are Heart Fund volunteers handling the telephone campaign to recruit door-to-door solicitations during Heart Month. Pic-

Heart Volunteers Cover Kings Mountain

About 90 Kings Mountainians have been enlisted so far to work in the local Heart Association campaign this month, according to Mary Greene, city chairman.

The association office staff, Peggy Ramey, Sharon Raley and Judy Hendrixon, is operating out of office space donated by First Union National Bank.

Enlisted to head various fund-raising committees. Mack Lefevers heads the committee contacting small businesses for Heart Fund donations; Mary Ann Hendricks is chairperson of a balloon sales committee. The committee is made up of youth groups who begin their sales all over the city this weekend and will continue for the next three Saturdays.

Pam Goforth heads the poster committee proclaiming the benefits of the Heart Association and those posters have been distributed around the city.

Gall Cheshire is chairperson for Heart Sunday (Mar. 19) and on that day all of the volunteers enlisted by the office staff through telephone contact will go door-to-door all over the city to solicit donations for the heart Association.

In May a bridge benefit will be planned and held and Sarah Cox Shaw is in charge of this project.
