

Former Herald Owner Haywood Lynch Dead

He was consultant for Southern Railroad land rights and an appraiser for the Prudential Life Insurance Company. Ever alert to the needs for the wheels of justice to run smoothly, Mr. Lynch urged leadership from statesmen, city bankers, manufacturers, and textile executives in local politics, urging them to seek and use legal tactics to collect back taxes from store owners, some of the taxes having been in arrears for as long as 40 years. In these ways, he turned depression into small business ownership for local families, some of these businesses still strong today.

A member of the Kings Mountain Kiwanis Club, Mr. Lynch later brought the Rotary Club to Kings Mountain and served as president for two years. He taught the Bible Class at First Presbyterian Church, served on the building committee of the present Presbyterian Church, where his membership now stands.

His health forced Mr. Lynch's retirement in 1969 and chronic illness followed until his death. He was preceded in death by a daughter in 1969, Jean Lynch (Mrs. William Mauney) Herndon and in 1982 by Betsy Lynch (Mrs. George R.) Tolleson.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Simmons Lynch, of the home; one daughter, Lottie (Mrs. Sam) Harrell of Atlanta, Ga., 10 grandchildren: Jane Elizabeth Harrell and Amy Kathryn Harrell, Dr. William Mauney Herndon, Jr., Chapel Hill; Mrs. Virginia Herndon Baker, Washington, D.C.; Robert Herndon, Raleigh; David Herndon, Arlington, Va.; Chip Tolleson, Greenville, S.C.; Woody Tolleson, Taylors, S.C.;

Andy Tolleson, Columbia, S.C.; Mike Tolleson, Columbia, S.C.; and two great-grandsons, Alexander Bird Herndon, Chapel Hill, and William Christopher Tolleson, of Greenville, S.C.

Mr. Lynch is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Tucker Lynch Lyon and Mrs. Georgia Lynch Nixon of Goldsboro and Smithfield; two sons-in-law, George Tolleson of Columbia, S.C. and Sam Harrell of Atlanta, Ga.

Also surviving are two nieces, Tucker Lyon of Charleston, S.C. and Corrine Smith of Fort Mill, S.C. and two nephews, Brad Smith and Davie John Smith, both of Fort Mill, S.C.

Active pallbearers were Paul Walker, John Warlick, Robert Bradley, Hall Goforth, Tom Tate, Marriott Phifer, John George, Jr. and Wilson Griffin. Honorary pallbearers were Warren Reynolds, Carl Mauney, William Davis, George Ruppe, H. Carl Mayes, Dr. A.R. Gangoo, Rev. Dwight Edwards, Dr. Robert Baker and Bill Craig.

Harris Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Nurses Making Christmas Brighter

A Santa Tree at Kings Mountain Hospital will make Christmas merrier for underprivileged children.

Tina Henderson, Director of Personnel at KMH, said the Santa Tree is how employees of the hospital will say Merry Christmas this year. In previous years, a decorating contest has been held by city employees and prizes are presented to the winners. This year, in lieu of prize money, each employee will take a card from the decorated tree and buy a gift for the boy or girl whose name is written on the card. The toys and gifts will then be distributed by Kings Mountain Fire Department during its Toys for Tots program on Christmas Eve.

The Santa Tree went up at the hospital this week and Ms. Henderson said that all employees are participating in the project.
