Citizens Are Due Refunds

Five Kings Mountain citizens are among many hundreds of North Carolina taxpayers who have a windfall awaiting them in the form of a Federal income tax refund check.

than 2,000 More undeliverable refund checks totalling $725,589 are on the list, the IRS said. Bill Lovelace, Chief of the IRS Taxpayer Service Division, said, "These are checks generally from this year's filing, but some are for prior years. In most cases, the checks were returned to the IRS as undeliverable because the taxpayer moved without leaving a forwarding address with the Postal Service and the IRS." Lovelace observed that the largest check on this year's list is for $7,969, while the smallest is in the amount of $1.12.

Persons wishing further information about a refund check or who can help locate someone on the list should call the IRS at 1-800-424-1040 (toll-free), any weekday between 8:00 a.m. and 4:45 p.m.

The individuals from this area having undelivered refund checks are: Sourisoud, Outhone; Whitfield, Kenneth W.; Goodwin, Karen S.; Hutchins, Clyde L.; and Kanesouphonh, Somphone & Oneta.

KM's Smith At College For Weekend

Mrs. Mary-Wade Smith of Kings Mountain was among the 150 mothers who took part in Mother-Daughter Weekend at Peace College on Nov. 9 and 10. Mrs. Smith of 505 Garrison

Dr. is the mother of Peace freshman Wendy Smith. Friday evening activities included a reception and a special showing of "The Diary of Anne Frank" by Peace College theater students. On Saturday, the mothers and daughters attended a fashion show, a performance by the Peace Pacers Dance Troupe and a brunch. They also heard a presentation on the image of the professional woman today. Most of the mothers stayed overnight with their daughters in the dormitory. The event was sponsored by the Peace Student Government Association. Peace is a two-year college for women which offers associate degrees in liberal arts, business and music.
