

Six-state joy ride lands teens in jail

A joy ride through six states by two teenagers from Ohio ended in Kings Mountain Thursday with a hit and skip accident that injured a motorcyclist.

Ronnie Lee Johnson Jr., 16, of 338 Charity St., Bethel, Ohio, is in Cleveland County Jail where he is being held in lieu of $5,000 bond for felony auto theft.

His companion, a 14-year-old teenager from Williamsburg, Ohio, is being held in a juvenile detention center in Shelby.

Police say the two boys will probably be returned to Ohio where the older boy has a lengthy record with the Clearmont County Juvenile System.

Ohio Police Chief George

Schramm said the two boys skipped school last Wednesday, telling relatives they were headed for Ohio's Brown County Fair. Instead, they reportedly spotted an unlocked white Chevrolet pickup in the parking lot of the Village of Bethel's water department and found the keys over the sun visor and drove it off.

According to the Chief the truck was not reported as being stolen until Thursday because more than one worker uses the vehicle "and everyone else thought the other person had it." The Village of Bethel is a town of about 2,000 people in Bethel, Ohio.

In Kings Mountain Thursday Johnson was driving west on King Street, ran the stop light and struck a motorcycle traveling south on Gaston Street. Travis Leon Bess, 26, of 919 Grace St., Apt. C, was knocked off the bike and was treated and released at Cleveland Memorial Hospital.

Kings Mountain Police said the two juveniles skipped the wreck scene and then abandoned the truck in a church parking lot.

Officers apprehended the youths in Gaffney, SC and Johnson waived extradition. A hearing was held in Cleveland County District Court Monday.

Ten local firms donate to D.A. R. E.

Ten local businesses and firms donated $100 each to the D.A.R.E. program in the Kings Mountain Schools as sponsors of the recent D.A.R.E. golf tournament at Woodbridge.

The city's D.A.R.E. officer Lisa Capps called the benefit highly successful and expressed appreciation to the local merchants who made it possible.

Donors were Harris-Teeter, Premier Federal Credit Union, Carolina State Bank, Plonk Tire, Town and Country Restaurant, Commercial Intertech, Wade Ford, an anonymous donor and the officers and staff of the Kings Mountain Police Department.

Jennifer Lineberger celebrates birthday
JENNIFER LINEBERGER

Jennifer Lineberger, daughter of Jeff and Karen Lineberger, celebrated her sixth birthday September 18.

A Barbie-theme/slumber party was held September 15. The children played games and enjoyed a decorated Barbie cake, pizza and ice cream from 4-6 p.m. Treat boxes were distributed to the guests.

That evening the girls held a slumber party and painted t-shirts and strung glass beads to make necklaces.

Attending the party were Katie Cooke, Lauren Gaffney, Austin Gardner, Jacob Lineberger, Courtney Tate, and Ashley, Charlie and John Witherspoon.

Jennifer has a two-year-old brother, Jacob.

Grandparents are Haskel and Reatha Blackwell of Kings Mountain and Harold and Patsy Lineberger of Dallas. Great-grandmother is Viola Eaker of Cherryville.

REAGAN CHILDERS
Reagan Childers born September 7
