ATTACK - Members of various county volunteer fire departments were in Kings Mountain last week to attend the LP Gas Fire School. The local department was host for the 12 hour course that culminated Thursday with an actual demonstration. The firemen gathered on the lot formerly occupied by the Roller Mill on Gold St. to practice LP Gas Fire control. Approximately 35 firemen from the Cleveland County Volunteer Fire Department, Bethlehem VFD, and Oak Grove VFD as well as firemen from East Gastonia attended. Instructor for the course was Dawson Nethercutt and the school was sponsored by the N.C. Dept. Insurance.
