

Turner-Falls Vows Exchanged In Home Ceremony

Miss Teresa Lane Turner and Roy Keith Falls were married last Friday at the bride's home in Clover, South Carolina. Rev. Jimmy Sanders officiated at the 6 p.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Shirley Alexander of Kings Mountain and Howard C. Turner of Clover, S.C. She is a graduate of Clover, S.C. High School and was employed by Pharr Yarns, Clover, S.C.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Worthen and the late Roy Lee Falls of Kings Mountain. He is a graduate of Kings Mountain Senior High School and is employed by Warner & Swasey Textiles of Bessemer City.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose her sister, Miss Robin Turner, of Clover, as her maid of honor and only attendant.

Forest Collins of Kings Mountain was best man. The bridegroom's sister, Miss Lisa Falls, of Kings Mountain, presided at the register.

A reception was held after the ceremony. After a trip to Gatlinburg, Tennessee, the couple will live at Oak Grove Road in Kings Mountain.

Couple United In Double-Ring Ceremony

East Gold Street Wesleyan Church was the setting Sunday, Aug. 4, for the wedding of Miss Debra Juanita Jackson of Kings Mountain and Jeffrey Scott Safrit of Cramerton.

The couple pledged vows of the double-ring ceremony before the Rev. Leroy C. Cox, minister of the church, assisted by Rev. Alvin C. Newcomb, pastor of Troy Wesleyan Church, uncle of the bride. Mrs. Betty Johnson was organist for the program of nuptial music and vocal selections were by Miss Joy Wells.

The church was decorated with an ivy-covered arch with a basket arrangement at each side. Two candelabras were set with seven white tapers. A kneeling bench was used in front of the arch with unity candles mounted on top. Two palms enhanced the setting, along with two floral arrangements of blue carnations and white glads. Light blue bows marked the mothers' pews. Centering the organ was a blue and white silk floral arrangement with two altar candles flanking the centerpiece.

After the entry of the mothers, Miss Wells sang "Whither Thou Goest", and following the exchange of vows sang "The Wedding Song." The bride and bridegroom lighted the Unity candle and were administered the Sacrament of Holy Communion. Miss Wells sang "The Lord's Prayer" as the benediction.

Johnny D. Jackson escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. The bride's gown was a formal design of white dacron organza styled with high neckline, straight sleeves and empire waistline. The gown was enhanced by Chantilly lace and dainty lace ruffles. Her fingertip veil of illusion was trimmed with Chantilly lace and attached to a lace-covered Juliet headpiece. She carried a bride's bouquet of blue and white carnations atop a white Bible.

Miss Darlene Short attended the bride as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Linda Peterson and Miss Cathy Barnette, both of Kings Mountain, Mrs. Teresa Alexander of McAdenville and Miss Linda Wyatt of Gafney, S.C.

All the attendants wore long formals of light blue dotted swiss and royal blue rosebud material featuring long, fitted bodice with flared skirt enhanced by sash. A capped collar, which transformed the sleeves and opened in back of the dress, complemented the dresses. The bridesmaid dresses were made by Mrs. Hazel Smith. They carried bouquets of blue and white carnations with streamers attached.

Ricky McDaniel of McAdenville was the bridegroom's best man. Ushers were Frankie Jackson and Harold Jackson, both of Kings Mountain, brothers of the bride, and Danny Safrit of Gastonia and Johnny Safrit of Cramerton, brothers of the bridegroom.

Altar candles were lighted by Danny Safrit, brother of the bridegroom, and Frankie Jackson, brother of the bride.

Jennifer Safrit, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl, and Kevin Safrit, nephew of the bridegroom, was ringbearer.

Resurrection Lutheran Church Is Setting For Plonk-Davis Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Steven Forest Davis, who were wed Saturday, are on a wedding trip to the North Carolina mountains and afterwards will be at home in Greensboro.

Miss Judith Lee Plonk became Mr. Davis' bride in a formal 6:30 p.m. wedding in Resurrection Lutheran Church.

Rev. Arthur Glenn Boland, former pastor of the bride, of Salisbury, Rev. William Gerald Weeks, pastor of the church, and Seminarian Gary Steven Plonk, brother of the bride, heard the exchange of vows in the double-ring ceremony.

Mrs. Aubrey Mauney was organist and Miss Elizabeth Ann Eaker was flutist for the program of nuptial music.

The prelude of wedding music included "All Glory be to God on High" by Armstorff, "Aria" by Peeters, "Jubilate" by Young, "Flute Solo" by Arne, "Praise to the Lord" by Rohlig, "Beautiful Savior" by Christiansen, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach, and "Trumpet Tune" by Roman. The processional march was "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" by Wagner and the recessional was to Marcello's "Psalm XVIII." The congregation prayed together "The Lord's Prayer" after the prayer of blessing.

On her wedding day the bride visited her shut-in grandparents, Mrs. Clarence Sloan Plonk and Mr. and Mrs. T.A. Pollock, presenting corsages to her grandmothers and a blue garter to her grandfather as momento of the occasion.

The bride's descent down the aisle on the arm of her father was enhanced by single lighted tapers on either side of the sanctuary extending the full length of the aisle. Miniature ivy was draped on the choir rail and highlighted by gypsophilla. The altar vases were arranged with pink snapdragons, white gladioli, iris, chrysanthemums and gypsophilla.

Clarence Samuel Plonk escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. The bride's wedding gown was a formal design of angel peau and re-embroidered Alencon lace fashioned with a portrait neckline and tapered, fitted sleeves. The Alencon lace was used to applique the bodice and the sleeves were of the same lace. Seed pearls were embroidered into the imported lace for accent.

The skirt of the gown fell into a Chapel train, and the entire hemline and train were edged in a deep scalloped border of Alencon lace and seed pearls. The bride's headpiece was a Camelot cap of matching Alencon lace holding a fingertip mantilla of white bridal illusion edged in scalloped Alencon lace. The bride's nosegay was centered with a corsage of pink sweetheart roses surrounded by white and pink sweetheart roses, gypsophilla, variegated ivy and was accented with white satin streamers caught with gypsophilla.

Miss Donna Sue Smith of Kings Mountain attended the bride as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Karen Robbs Barnes, Miss Peggy Ann Rowell, Miss Jodie Johnson Plonk, cousin of the bride, all of Kings Mountain, and Miss Kim Janette Garmon of Troy. Junior bridesmaids were Miss Jan Michelle Davis, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Jennifer Lynn Sawyer, both of Gastonia.

Julia Ann Plonk of Columbia, S.C., niece of the bride, was flower girl. All the adult attendants wore long gowns of chalk green Silesta brocade. The dresses were designed with high regency necklines, blouson bodices, slitted sleeves, and bias skirts which had self-tie sashes. The maid of honor carried a nosegay of varied shades of pink miniature carnations, iris, pompons, and gypsophilla centered around a cluster of pink sweetheart roses. The bridesmaids carried nosegays of pink miniature carnations, iris pompons, and gypsophilla with variegated ivy and white satin streamers.

Junior bridesmaids wore long gowns of ivory chiffon with pastel print in shades of iris and chalk green. Designed with tucked bodices and satin sash trim. The sheer chiffon dresses were gathered at the wrists. They carried miniature nosegays in the same style as the adult attendants.

The flower girl wore a floor-length pinafore in pastel print over a long-sleeved white eyelet gown. She carried a white basket filled with iris pompon petals.

Cynthia Ann Brown attended the register. She wore a off-shoulder pink gown and a wristlet corsage of pink miniature carnations.

The bridegroom's father was best man.

Groomsmen were Barney Amar Boles, Jr. of Brunson, S.C., John Peter Brasca of Dover, New Jersey, Thaddeus Walter Brunson, IV of Allendale, S.C., Robert Andrew Juback of Annapolis, Md., Michael Stanley Plonk of Union, S.C. and Richard Sloan Plonk of Kings Mountain, brothers of bride.

The bride's mother chose a floor-length gown of mauve print organza in shades of iris, rose and green. The gown was designed with a draped
