Two New Vice-Presidents Gardner-Webb Announces Promotions

BOILING SPRINGS, N.C. — Dr. Craven Williams, president of Gardner-Webb College announced the promotion of two main college administrators, Dr. Paul Holcomb and Mr. Barry Hartis.

Dr. Holcomb is being promoted to vice-president for development from director of development. Mr. Hartis' position will change from treasurer and business manager to vice-president for business and finance.

In making the announcement to the College's Board of Trustees Williams said, "Sound financial management and the development of financial resources are critical to the well-being of any private business. Private colleges are no exception. Mr. Hartis and Dr. Holcomb have given outstanding direction to these key areas. I have complete confidence in them and value their counsel. These title changes reflect their overall value to the college and their level of contribution to our total program."

Dr. Holcomb came to Gardner-Webb College in May 1977 from Meredith College in Raleigh as director of development. Dr. Holcomb carried with him to Gardner-Webb a record of significant achievement in the field of college public relations and development. Since that time, he has proven to maintain his high qualifications.

Dr. Holcomb holds a bachelor's degree from Indiana University and the juris doctorate from the College of Law of the University of Kentucky. In 1965 he was discharged from the United States Army with the rank of captain and then served for three years as an instructor with the Westinghouse Learning Corporation, a subsidiary of Westinghouse Electric Corporation in Franklin, Indiana.

Married to Mary Catherin Holcomb, they reside on South

Washington Street in Shelby with their two sons, Aerick and Brian.

Mr. Hartis, a native of Kannapolis, N.C. is a graduate of A.L. Brown High School and completed business administration studies at Evans Business College. He received a B.S. degree in accounting from the University of North Carolina at Charlotte.

Hartis was employed as a certified public accountant for Ernst & Ernst in Charlotte prior to joining the Gardner-Webb staff.

He is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, the North Carolina Association of Certified Public Accountants and the Charlotte Area Chapter of CPA's.

Hartis and his wife, the former Dianne Sides of Kannapolis reside in Boiling Springs with their two daughters, Pamela and Melissa.

Pinstripe Story

Hickey-Freeman.

in well-bred pinstripes

We hope you'll take time to note all the patterns in our new Hickey-Freeman collection for Fall. But most particularly we invite your attention to the pinstripe vested suits.

These splendid all-wool fabrics receive the painstaking craftsmanship they deserve: hand-cutting, hand-basting, interlining, underpressing and final hand-pressing—a lost art many places, but alive and well at Hickey-Freeman.

The results speak for themselves, quietly yet forcefully, as gentlemen speak when they have something to say.

Inflation

Strikes Again

Subscription rate to the Kings Mountain Herald will increase, effective today.

The new rates are $10 for one year for in-state subscribers and $11 for out-of-state subscribers.

Newsstand prices of The Herald remain the same, 15 cents per copy, and subscribers can realize a savings of $5.60 by subscription on a yearly basis.

General Manager Darrell Austin said the increased rate, from $8.50 to $10, and from $9.50 to $11, are dictated due to the increases in cost of paper and postage.

Ross Has Withdrawn

Jerry Ross, who filed this week as a candidate for District Three commissioner in the Oct. 9 city election, has withdrawn his candidacy, he told City Elections Chairman Luther Bennett Tuesday.

Mr. Ross was an unsuccessful bidder for district commissioner in the most recent city elections.

The pace of city political activity quickened this week as races developed in District Four, where Norman King is opposed by Dutch Wilson, and in District Three, where Corbet Nicholson is opposed by T.J. (Tommy) Ellison, a former commissioner.

Mayor John Henry Moss announced Monday that he will seek re-election.

District One Comm. Jim Childers is unopposed for reelection.

The filing deadline is Friday at noon.
