Stoney Jackson fired a 54-hole total of 223 to win the annual Kings Mountain Country Club Golf Championship Labor Day weekend.

Jackson, who also won the title in 1977, finished four shots better than last year's champion Johnny Gamble, who shot a 227. Mike Ballard, runner-up in 1975 and '78 was third at 230 and Scott Ledford fourth at 234.

255 and Jim Cloninger fourth at 257.

Phillip Russ fired a 257 to win the second flight. Jim Bradley was runner-up at 260, followed by Buford Spicer at 265 and Gene Timms 270.

Larry Dunn shot a 233 to win the championship B flight. Mickey Powers was second at 234, five-time champion John Howze third at 235 and Darrell Austin Jr. fourth at 241.

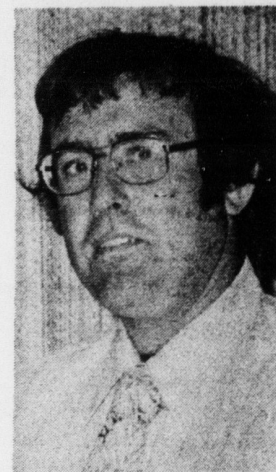

Dan Finger shot a 246 to win first flight honors by six shots over Dexter Tate. Bill McGinnis was third at Bobby Wooten's 296 was good enough for third flight honors. Clyde Whetstone shot a 306 for second, Joe McDaniel was third at 318 and Bruce McDaniel fourth at 333.

The next tourney at KMCC will be the Member-

Member September 15-16. Mike Ballard and Guy Trout are defending champions but will get tough competition from John Howze-Stoney Jackson, John Gamble-Darrell Austin and Jim Lybrand-Mickey Powers.

Mountainette Netters Open Season At BC

ED GUY

Coach Ed Guy's Mountainettes return home Monday afternoon to host R-S Central in their first Southwestern 3-A Conference match.

Guy has a 16-player roster which includes only one senior, seven juniors, three sophs and five freshmen. Even though the Mountainettes are young, Guy expects them to be contenders in the strong SWC.

The girls completed playoffs for positions on Monday afternoon. Bridget Glass, a talented junior who played number three a year ago, captured the number one position.

Kim Gladden, the only senior, will play number two, followed by Ronda Guy, Jamie Humphries, Edie Schronce and Kim Moss. Other members of the team are Wanda Witherspoon, Dana Horne, Karen Ledford, Terri Plonk, Lisa Roark, Pam Baity, Tina Forbes, Martha Alexander, Sandra Cobb and Christy King.

"We've got the makings of a real good team," said Guy, who coached the girls to an 11-3 record and second place in the SWC last fall. "We're looking forward to the season. All of the top 10-12 girls are playing good tennis and even those on down the line are improving every day. We're expecting a lot out of them in the future."

Guy is in the process of trying to schedule some more non-conference matches. The SWC season will consist of only one round with league matches play on Monday.

"The decision to go with one round of conference play has left us with a scheduling problem," Guy said. "The 4-A conferences in the area are playing twice a week so the only conference we're having any luck with is the Southern District 2-A. Personally, I would rather play every conferecne opponent twice."

Guy thus far has scheduled non-league bouts with Bessemer City, Cherryville and Myers Park.

Looking to the conference race, Guy picks Shelby as the team to beat and figures Myers Park will be the toughest non-conference opponent.

"I'd say we have a real good chance of going into the Shelby match undefeated," he said. "And I'd have to say we'll have a good chance of beating them."
