I THINK

By Harold Lineberger
Candidate For
Kings Mountain
Board of Education

One of the most important things a school board can do is hire a competent superintendent. It is he who has the day-to-day job of making the System work. If he is a good administrator, he delegates most of the routine management jobs to his staff, but as the Board's number one employee, the superintendent is its number one responsibility.

The Board must back the superintendent with a complete set of written policies and then see to it that these policies are carried out. There is no substitute for an easily understood set of policies in preventing misunderstandings between school employees, the public and the Board of Education.

The function of the Board is not to run the schools, but to see to it that they are run effectively.
