Clyde Buckner, comedian, will give the entertainment program and announcement of Cleveland County's Farm Family of the Year will be made.

KM Battle Is Selected For Stamp

The Battle of Kings Mountain, termed the turning point in the Revolutionary War, will be depicted on the 1980 commemorative postage stamp and on postal stationery items.

Postmaster General William F. Bolger notified Kings Mountain Postmaster Fred Weaver and Kings Mountain Mayor John H. Moss of the stamp selection this week.

According to Bolger, the Postal Service in 1980 will issue commemorative postage stamps treating 14 subjects, including the historical Battle of Kings Mountain, and commemorative postal stationery items, including postal cards, treating another six subjects, including the Battle of Kings Mountain.

Bolger noted that his announcement closes the 1980 commemorative program and that the Citizens' Stamp Advisory committee, which recommends subjects and designs, will not consider additional subjects for commemoration in 1980.

The 10 cent postal card depicting the Battle of Kings Mountain on the stamp will be issued on a date in October 1980 to be announced. Oct. 7, 1980 will mark the 200th anniversary of the battle.

Artist for the Kings Mountain design is David Blossom of Weston, Conn. who also designed the "Molly Pitcher" and the George Rogers Clark commemorative postal cards.

Mayor Moss and Postmaster Weaver said they were elated with the news of Kings Mountain's recognition and that appropriate ceremonies will be held at the Postoffice next October when the new stamp is issued to the public.

Senior Citizens May Register For Program

Over 3,600 senior citizens in this area who are 60 years of age and older are invited to register with the Council on the Aging of Cleveland County and be listed in its Senior Tar Heel Card Program.

Registration has been underway for two months and Faye W. Webber, spokesman for the group, said the effort is continuing.

Persons who have not registered are invited to call the Shelby office at 482-3488 or may mail their registration forms to the Council on Aging, PO Box 1444, Shelby, N.C. 28150.

Mrs. Webber, Outreach Coordinator, expressed appreciation to the following individuals for their assistance in registration. They include

Mrs. Arlene Barrett, Rev. Prunelle Kilgore, Mrs. Janie Brooks, Mrs. Retie Falls, Mrs. Marion Cooke, R.J. Smith, Mrs. Zenobia Hector, Mrs. Maggie Peterson, Mrs. Addie Grier, Mrs. Edna Hord, Mrs. Sarah Adams, Mrs. Missouri Morgan, Robert Guyton, Ms. Loatha Lockhart, Ms. Karen Reep and Mrs. Pearl McClain.

KM Woman Is Selected

Mrs. Dorothy Roark, Cleveland Tech's coordinator for the displaced homemaker center, sponsored by the N.C. Council on the Status of Women, has announced the staff for this program. The following staff has been hired to operate the displaced homemaker center to begin the first of November at Cleveland Tech's Downtown Annex in Shelby:

Director - Mrs. Patricia Evans of Salisbury
Recruiter-Counselor - Mrs. Rita Conte of Shelby
Job Developer - Mrs. Eleanor Buse of Shelby

Secretary-Bookkeeper - Ms. Cynthia Gardner of Kings Mountain

The staff is slated to undergo a two weeks training session. Persons are encouraged to call 487-1901 after Oct. 15, for additional information.

This program is Shelby is one of four centers administered by the N.C. Council on Status of Women as mandated by the 1979 General Assembly, the program for displaced homemakers is funded through the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA).

The goal of the project as designed by the N.C. Council on the Status of Women in establishing these four Displaced Homemakers Centers in NC is to:

Provide displaced homemakers in North Carolina with the services they need to become self-sufficient, obtain jobs, and receive additional training.

Train economically disadvantaged women to assist in operating the Centers, as counselors and secretaries.

To serve as a model for other similar projects in the State.
