

Tea Is Kicked Off At West School

"Different strokes for different folks" is how Mrs. Sara Simpson illustrated the services that 50 or more "volunteers" will perform in their new capacities in the volunteer program of the West School Auxiliary.

The program was officially kicked off Tuesday with a Volunteer Tea in the West School Library where volunteers were lauded by Supt. Bill Davis, Community-Schools Coordinator Bill Hager, and Reading coordinator Sara Simpson for what will be a most vital contribution to the school program.

"Parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles, neighbors and senior citizens are all needed as school volunteers," said Chairman Sara Faunce. "Now that the teachers are trying to reach each child of his or her level, personalized assistance can make the difference that will spur each child to succeed," said Mrs. Faunce.

Mrs. Faunce said that volunteers can choose the hours and type of service and may volunteer an hour or two a week or on a regularly scheduled basis or be listed on a volunteer substitute list.

Refreshments were served from a festive decorated Halloween table and volunteers met with teachers after the tea for an orientation get-together.

Hand washing? White vinegar in the rinse water will cut down rinsing.

ORIENTATION TEA FOR VOLUNTEERS—An orientation tea for West School volunteers was held Tuesday and attracted 50-60 members of the newly-formed West School Auxiliary who are volunteering an hour or more in the classroom. Sarah Faunce is chairman of the Auxiliary and committee members are Wanda Conner, Sandra Murphrey and Beth McIntyre.
