

Shower Honors Bride-Elect

LOCAL MAN RECEIVED AWARD—C. Grieg Beam, chairman of the board of Carolina Freight Carriers Corp., Cherryville (left) received a special award when he was signally honored as N.C. Department of Transportation Secretary Tom Bradshaw of Raleigh presented the founder plaque on behalf of the American Truck Historical Society. The inscription read "In the early part of this century there were men of vision who perceived the enormous potential of the motor truck as a means of providing industry with swift, efficient and economical transportation. In the face of odds that often seemed insurmountable, they persevered with unbounding faith. The result of the collective effort was the emergence of motor transportation as one of America's greatest industries." R.Y. Sharpe, board chairman of Pilot Freight Carriers, Inc., Winston-Salem, also received the special award.

A drop-in miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Sandra Dee Henderson, whose wedding to Richard Farris takes place in November, was given at the home of Mrs. Stonewall Jackson Sunday afternoon.

The 26 guests, who called between 2 and 4 p.m., enjoyed party refreshments from a table appointed with white lace over yellow and centered with a punch bowl with yellow and blue flowers surrounding it and appointed with silver appointments holding party food.

Mrs. Ted Ledford of Lawndale, Mrs. Lawrence Oliver, Mrs. Wilburn Smith and Mrs. Dean Oliver, aunts of the bride elect's mother, assisted in entertaining.

The bride-to-be wore a white and orchid dress and was given a corsage of yellow and white daisies.

Special guests were Mrs. Jim Thompson, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. G. P. Oliver, grandmother of the bride-elect.

A lingerie shower honoring Sandra Henderson was given at the bride-elect's parents home in the Bethlehem Community Monday night.

The 20 guests, who called between 7 and 9 p.m., enjoyed party refreshments from a table appointed with yellow candles and a yellow and green centerpiece on a white and yellow tablecloth. Crystal appointments held party refreshments.

Mrs. Nancy Wiggins, Mrs. Donna Henderson, Mrs. Jackie Wease and Lynn Thompson assisted in entertaining.

The bride-to-be wore a grey and white vest suit and was given a corsage of yellow silk daisies.

Special guests were Mrs. Jim Thompson, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. G. P. Oliver, grandmother of the bride-elect.

Kathryn Goforth Honored On Her Fifth Birthday

KATHRYN GOFORTH

Kathryn Goforth celebrated her fifth birthday on Sat., Sept. 20th, at Temple Baptist Church. Temple Baptist Church Pupeteers performed the theme of the party, "Muppets". A BIG Bird birthday cake was cut and served with party refreshments to family and friends attending.

Kathryn is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Goforth and granddaughter of Commissioner and Mrs. Corbet Nicholson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goforth, all of Kings Mountain. Great-grandparents are Mrs. Alice Nicholson of Kings Mountain and Mrs. Rettie Goode of Shelby.

Kathryn has a two and one-half year old brother, Tripp.

Shower Honors Miss Hullender

Miss Elaine Hullender, whose wedding to Jeff Dixon will be an event of Oct. 25 in Kings Mountain Baptist Church, was honored Monday evening, Sept. 15th, in the home of Mrs. Wayne Blanton with a miscellaneous drop-in shower.

Entertaining with Mrs. Blanton were Mrs. Rick Bennett, Mrs. Eddie Carroll, Mrs. Carl Morrow, Jr., Mrs. Alex Owens, Miss Margaret Owens and Mrs.

M. L. Williams.

The bride's table was overlaid with a natural lace tablecloth centered with a bouquet of assorted roses from the garden of Mrs. Steve Ellis. The roses were used in a large crystal champagne compote as the centerpiece for the table. The rose theme was further carried out on a horseshoe shaped cake with "Best wishes Elaine and Jeff". Party pickups were served on crystal trays and punch was served from a crystal punch bowl.

Miss Hullender received her guests in the Great Room where she opened gifts from 40 guests and displayed them before the picture window on tables covered in white. A ceramic bride music box decorated the gift table.

The hostesses presented Miss Hullender a corsage of assorted miniature roses which she pinned to the shoulder of her teal blue party dress. They also took the occasion to present her an electric skillet.

Dennisha One Year Old

Dennisha Curtrice Edwards celebrated her first birthday on Friday, September 5. A small gathering of a few neighborhood children honored her. Dennisha is the daughter of Sharon D. Edwards and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Edwards.
