Battle Drama Big Success

The 100-member cast of "Then Conquer We Must" completed its season this week before record audiences.

Wednesday's performance was the eighth for the amateur group which began weekend showings of the commemorative drama Sept. 26. A Sunday performance was rained out and Wednesday's show was the makeup show for the rained out performance.

Jerry King, company manager, said that more than 4,000 persons saw the drama, revived this year after 29 years by the City of Kings Mountain and Limestone College and produced by Dr. William Briggs, president of Limestone College, with Dr. Charles Hannum as director. The drama was presented in cooperation with the National Park Service and staged at the amphitheatre of Kings Mountain National Military Park.

The late Robert Osborne wrote the original script in 1951 and the drama was presented by the Kings Mountain Little Theatre. Thomas McIntyre, former editor of the Kings Mountain Herald, revised the script this year.

King said that plans are being discussed for presentation of the outdoor drama again next year.

Mr. King described the 1980 season as a "definite" success and the standing room only crowds, plus press comment, attested to its success from the several standpoints of production, acting and crowd appeal. Many persons collaborated in voluntary non-paid work to assure the success of the performances which included long hours of rehearsals.

Majority of the cast of "Then Conquer We Must" are Kings Mountain area and Limestone College area citizens and all who tried for roles on-stage or off-stage were accepted by Director Hannum.
