Far-Flung Program Set Up By
Ass'n Of Colored Women's Clubs

WASHINGTON — A unique military campaign which uses soldiers ranking from privates to generals, but no firearms is currently underway across the country.
The objective is the enrollment of 100,000 women in the ambitious and far-flung program set up by the National Association of Colored Women's Clubs, Inc.
The Commander-in-Chief of the whole operation is Mrs. Rosa L. Gragg of Detroit, Michigan, who was elected president of the Federation at its 31st biennial convention there last June.
Serving under her is a network of officers whose job it is to marshal forces in five regions. The purpose of the drive as stated by Mrs. Gragg is to:
1. Extend the reach of the Association's fellowship and more adequately represent the views and aspirations of women.
2. Unite the greatest possible number of women in the Association's program.
3. Provide a national directory of 100,000 names and addresses for the files of the association.
Mrs. Gragg emphasized that this is not a membership drive, but is a National Enrollment of Women. She believes that most national women's groups have common purposes and goals, but there is a need to pool their efforts to reach more non-organized women with a program. The national enrollment visualizes having a handy reference list which could be used for quick mobilization of women on many important projects as well as reaching down to the grass roots level.
Co-Commanders in the campaign are Mrs. Ella P. Stewart, Toledo, Ohio; Mrs. Iola Rowan, Dallas, Texas; Mrs. Louella Goff, Covington, Virginia; Mrs. Irene McCoy Gaines, Chicago, Illinois; and Mrs. Dollie J. Alexander, Atlanta, Georgia.
The National Commander is Mrs. Fannie Jenkins Benford of Gary, Indiana and the National Chairman of Enrollment is Mrs. Ella H. Mitchell, Chicago, Illinois.
Serving as special assistants to the National Commander are Mrs. Susan Bockson, Sewickley, Pa.; Mrs. A. E. S. Johnson, Marlin, Texas; Mrs. Lillian Frazier, Pensacola, Florida; and Mrs. H. Corinne Lowry, Washington, D. C.
National Chairman for Special Gifts is Mrs. Hallie Hayes, Gary, Indiana and National Chairman of Citizens Enrollment is Mrs. Mayme Mason Higgins, Chicago, Illinois.
Regional Commanders: Mrs. Fannie Baxter O'Banion, Chicago, Illinois; Mrs. Inez W. Tinsley, Boston, Massachusetts; Mrs. Mae C. Baker, Pueblo, Colorado; Mrs. Ruby Stutz Lyles, Jackson, Mississippi; and Mrs. E. L. Dunning, Eldorado, Arkansas.
Regional Generals are Mrs. Emily Kelly, Chicago, Illinois; Mrs. Naomi Hatcher, Atlantic City, New Jersey; Mrs. Thelma Unthank, Portland, Oregon; Mrs. Alice Mickens, West Palm Beach, Florida; and Mrs. J. O. A. Conner, Waco, Texas.

Airline Offers New Low Fares
For Excursions To West Indies

A circle excursion that covers nine of the West Indies islands and touches South America is offered by Pan American World Airways from its Miami and New York gateways beginning May 1.
The excursion almost amounts to a quick trip around the world, covering lands indelibly imprinted with the cultures of the Spanish, Dutch, Danes, French and British, and costs only $203.50 from Miami and $248 from New York.
Limited to 30 days and to tourist class accommodations, the new fare from Miami is $48.50 less than the $252 year-round tourist ticket. From New York the excursion ticket savings amounts to $61.80.
The excursions, good until December 15, and the fares are subject to the approval of the governments involved.
Puerto Rico is the first stop on Pan Am the excursions from both Miami and New York. From San Juan, flights swing southward through the Lesser Antilles and the traveler may stop at any or all of the following: St. Croix, Virgin Islands; Antigua, British West Indies; Pointe a Pitre, Guadeloupe; Fort de France, Martinique; Bridgetown, Barbados and Port of Spain, Trinidad.
Returning, there are stopover privileges at Caracas, Venezuela; Curacao, Netherlands, West Indies and Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic.
Travelers returning to Miami may also stop at Port au Prince, Haiti. New York passengers may return by direct flights from either Ciudad Trujillo or San Juan.
Those who wish may limit travel to a round trip from Miami or New York to Trinidad with stopover privileges at San Juan, St. Croix, Antigua, Point a Pitre, Port de France and Bridgetown but the fare is the same as the circle tour.
The islands touched on the tour offer misty mountains and sandy beaches, gay nightlife and pleasant hideaways, free port bargains and booming capitals.
All have beaches of unsurpassed beauty and individual charm and all are air-cooled by the constantly blowing trade winds.
But all of the West Indies islands are different. They have different languages, different cultures and different customs.
From San Juan where the United States and Spanish culture mingle charmingly, it is a 40-minute flight to St. Croix, now under the U. S. flag but which retains the culture of its former Dutch owners. Antigua is a British isle, and

FIRST LIEUTENANT AND MRS. THOMAS DAVIS YOUNG

Impressive Home Rites
Unite New Yorker And Pilot

FLUSHING, N. Y. — In a setting of pink gladioli, white carnations, snapdragons and cut leaf philodendron, Miss Betty Kinckle Jones and First Lieut. Thomas Davis Young, USMC, were married here on Saturday afternoon, March 21, at 4 p. m. at the home of the bride, 26-11 160th street.
The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene K. Jones Jr. of Flushing. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Bernard Young Jr. of Norfolk, Va.
The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. P. Hayes. A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Marion Punter.
The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore the new short length afternoon dress of white pique de soie, styled with a square neckline, cap sleeves, and full skirt with wide belt that fastened in the back, and white satin slippers. Her shoulder length tiered veil of illusion was arranged from an eyelet crown embroidered in pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gladiolus.
Miss June E. Tucker of Detroit, Mich., was the maid of honor and only attendant. She wore an aqua chiffon waltz length dress over tulle, fashioned with a round neckline, brief sleeves, and a full skirt. Her headress was a white band with aqua flowers.
She wore matching slippers and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.
Vann K. Jones, brother of the bride, was the best man. The bride's mother wore a white lace sheath over pink satin, styled with a round neckline, cap sleeves, and pink satin cummerbund that fell to the hem in the back. She wore a white flower hat, pink satin slippers, and a white corsage corsage.
The mother of the groom wore a silver gray silk organza dress designed with a shawl collar, three-quarter length sleeves, a full skirt and matching velvet belt with a pink organza, and a small pink silk organza hat. Pink accessories and pink carnation corsage completed her outfit.
Immediately after the ceremony a wedding supper was held at the Fresh Meadow Inn. The private dining room was decorated with cut leaf philodendron and the tables with lovely arrangements of pink gladioli, white carnations, fern and lighted candles. A combo played during the supper and for dancing that followed.
Guests included relatives and close friends of both families. They were: P. Bernard Young Jr., P. Bernard Young III, and Davis C. Young of Norfolk, father and brothers of the groom; Mrs. Blanche R. Jones, the bride's grandmother; Mrs. Udine Davis Bassett, Hampton, the groom's grandmother; Mr. and Mrs. Basil Oliver, Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Penn, Flushing, aunts and uncles of the bride; Thomas W. Young, Norfolk, uncle of the groom.
Also Dr. and Mrs. Farrow Allen, New York; Mrs. Ruth Harris Marshall, Miss Lois Leatherman, Dr. and Mrs. Dressed Harris of Brooklyn, Miss Jacqueline Reid, Dr. and Mrs. John E. Lowry, Mr. and Mrs. Judson Henry, Mrs. Marie Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. William Oestman, Mrs. Hele Harris, Mrs. Pierre Patin, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Joyner, Henry P. Joyner and Miss Patricia Thompson.
FOR HER going-away outfit the bride wore a beige silk dress, pink and white flowered hat and a pink orchid corsage.
The newlyweds spent their honeymoon in Cherry Point, N. C.; Norfolk, Va.; Washington, D. C.; and New York City.
Late in April the bridegroom begins a year of overseas duty with his jet plane interceptor squadron. Mrs. Young will complete her graduate studies at Columbia University.

only of "survival."
"Those who won the independence of this nation," he declared, "those who conquered the frontier, and those who made our country great in so many ways were not afraid of taking necessary and reasonable risks."
"The risk of continuing the present state of 'mutual deterrence,' with the threat hanging over us of mass annihilation is, in my estimation, however, an unreasonable and unnecessary risk," Senator Humphrey said.
"The armament race could well bring death to millions of human beings," he said. "It is, in my judgement, too great a risk when there is a more prudent and practical alternative."
"The alternative is a highly effective inspection system for a suspension of nuclear tests," he said. "While there are admittedly risks in any disarmament agreement establishing an inspection system, they are risks that are manageable and not such as to threaten the very existence of mankind."

Senator Humphrey Introduces Resolution Urging
Continued Negotiation On Test Suspension

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Senator Hubert H. Humphrey (D., Minn.), the Chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Disarmament, introduced today in the Senate a resolution supporting the efforts of the United States "to continue to negotiate for an international agreement for the suspension of nuclear weapons tests," endorsing "the principle that an adequate inspection and control system must be part of any such international agreement," and requesting the President to submit the resolution to the Soviet Government so that the Soviet leaders and people "will know of the desire of the American people . . . for the successful outcome of the negotiations in Geneva."
"It would be highly appropriate for the Senate to express at this Eastertide," he said, "its willingness and determination to further the works of peace throughout the world."
"For many years we have witnessed fruitless negotiation by the governments of the world to eliminate or curb the instruments of mass destruction," Senator Humphrey pointed out. "Within the past couple of months, however, there is at least a genuine possibility of making the breakthrough toward real disarmament and peace."
"There is now almost within our grasp an agreement to end nuclear weapons tests under an effective and workable system of international inspection and control; the successful signing of such an agreement by the nuclear powers could be the opening of a door to a new chapter in the history of mankind," he said.
Senator Humphrey charged that there are "still many who appear faint of heart, their sole consideration being the preservation of a state of one hundred percent security. Crumpling in the hole of their fears," he said, "they dream
