

Sets Fire To Home, Dies In Leap To Roof Of Adjoining Building

Arsonist, 32, Perishes In Long Plunge

DETROIT (AP) — A 32-year-old eastside man Arthola Woods died Sunday in Receiving Hospital of head injuries sustained apparently when he fled after setting fire to the roof of his home.

Firemen found Woods unconscious at the side of his home, with a strong gasoline odor on his clothing. Police said they received a run to Wood's home Saturday night after Woods became involved in a fight with his wife, Earle, 35. The said Woods had been drinking all day.

Further investigation disclosed that Woods bought gasoline from a service station at 3640 John Rd., then climbed a fire escape to the roof of a house at 60 Mack and leaped five feet to the roof of his own home.

Police said after starting the blaze Woods fell when he attempted to jump back to the other roof.
