Because Of Jim Crow Catholic Scout Troop Withdraws

HAVELOCK — A Catholic boy scout troop here has withdrawn from scouting activity because the regional council operates on a segregated basis.

Father Frank J. Howard, pastor of Annunciation parish here, turned in the parish's charter after he was informed that a Negro boy in his troop would not be welcome at a regional outing.

The parish's Boy Scout Troop 304 has 30 members, one of whom is Negro.

Father Howard said the Eastern Carolina Boy Scouts of America Council told him that it is a segregated organization and said that anyone who accepted its charter had to accept and abide by its bylaws.

Returning the charter, Father Howard wrote to the council, "If we had known that you were set up on a segregated basis, we would never have sponsored a troop in the first place."

Father Howard said parish scouting officials have tried for a year to obtain a copy of regional scouting bylaws, but without success. "It looks like there is some evasion," he stated in his letter.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

BY STAFF WRITER
SPEECH CORRECTION

In this country, there are hundreds of thousands of people who need rehabilitation in speech. The need is so great that 20,000 speech correctionists could go to work tomorrow if they were trained and available.

The duties of the speech correctionists are varied. The speech therapist may start his (her) day playing special games with his young patients. Through play such handicapped children are encouraged to learn how speech is made, first in sounds, then in whole words. Adults are sometimes taught by exercises and rhythmic drills.

Frequently, he goes right into the home, aided by information and help from schools, social agencies, and medical authorities. Lip reading may be a part of his duties for teaching deaf children. Children who cannot hear sounds are taught to watch the face of the speaker closely and get cues by eye as well as by ear.

The average salary of the speech correctionist ranges from $2400 to $3000, while many of them begin at $2600.

Persons who are interested in the opportunities in this field should write the Speech and Hearing Clinics at the University of Michigan, University of Wisconsin, Minnesota University at Minneapolis, State University of Iowa at Iowa City, Iowa; Northwestern University at Evanston, Illinois; and Wayne State University at Detroit, Michigan.
