LIGON NAMES MISS STEVENS COUNCIL HEAD

She is vice-president of the Student Council. This year, some other of her accomplishments this year include winning a trip to the U. N. on an essay she wrote and being a member of the first place group in the science exhibit. She is a member of the cheering squad, French Club, New Home-makers of America and the U. S. History Club.

Betty is a member of the St. Paul A.M.E. Church and is interested in a career in law or psychology.

The campaign efforts of the officer leaders at Ligon got into high gear last week at the convention held in the auditorium with flag bearers and all the works. All that week speeches of promise were made by the nominees.

Signs were plastered all over the school to really provide the atmosphere to stimulate student participation in the election.

Three nominees were in the running for each office. The nominees were selected from names submitted by the home-rooms. Names coming up must receive the nomination.

The candidates were formally confirmed at the convention.

Miss Anzella Kinz, outgoing secretary, introduced the candidates and gave their qualifications. The enthused supporters with their flags and placards waving for their particular candidate gave further indication of the sincerity of the students. Great response was brought by the candidates by their "catchy" slogans and campaign speeches.

Congratulatory remarks were made by the national chairman, H. E. Brown, principal of Ligon. Miss Eleanor Nunn, outgoing president, supervised the proceedings under the direction of Mrs. T. T. Daley, girl's counselor at Ligon.

Miss Stevens won over William Haywood and Walter Davis. Other officers elected were: first vice-president, William Crockett, over Barbara Lightner, and Lloydine Perry; second vice-president, Delcie Johnson, over Patricia Robinson and William Manuel; secretary, Alice Mann, over Marilyn Yarborough and Frances Roberts; assistant secretary, Patricia Gill, over Brenda Koe and Madelyn Yarborough; treasurer, Annie J. Wilson, over Clifford Grimes, reporter, Viola High, over Jennie Davis and Barbara McCoy, and Parliamentarian, Joe Gibbs, over Wallace Peace and Wiley Latham.

RALEIGH WOMAN SHOOTING HUSBY, HIS FRIEND

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) seeing her husband rushed to the hospital, she returned to the car where the other woman was still lying on the seat. She said she picked up a root and struck the woman with it until she jumped out of the car and ran.

She is expected to be tried in City Court as soon as the definite condition of her husband and Miss Larken has been established.

MOB ACTION IS AVERTED, GRAVES RUSHED HERE

beat her about the head and cut her throat.

In another story, Mrs. Starnes said Graves came to the house twice. On the first occasion he begged her for a cigarette and matches. She told him she had none. He returned later asking for a match. Again she told him that she had no matches.

He then reportedly grabbed her and dragged her through the kitchen into a sitting room and into a chair, beat her and cut her. She said that she scared him off by telling him that her brother would be coming to the house shortly. Neighbors said that they heard Mrs. Starnes' screams while the Negro beat her.

At first when the officers came to her home, Mrs. Starnes had not charged Graves of assaulting her indecently. It was not until she had conferred with her husband that she made the accusation.

Meanwhile, Graves has denied the charge of rape.

Graves, at the time, was an escaped convict of Chatham prison. He claims that he escaped because he did not receive any mail.

He has been accused of attempting to rape previously but no record of his punishments have been revealed.

IND. QUEEN "PRAYED ALL LAST WEEK"

Miss Streets said she took her prayer book with her to the contest, "but I didn't think I'd win it. I've been praying all week, and my boy friend and sorority sisters have been praying with me."

Majoring in speech and theater, the coed edged 14 white students to win the first beauty contest ever entered by her.

She has stage ambitions, but says she would drop a career for marriage. She measures 34-24-35, and won approval from a five-judge panel after appearing in a bathing suit, formal gown and by performing a dance interpretation of "Harlem Nocturne."

When asked how IU fellow students took her precedent-shattering victory, the fetching coed replied: "On the whole, everybody has been very nice. A few don't go for the idea, but I don't let things like that bother me. Nobody has said anything unfavorable to me directly."

Other sources on the university campus confirmed that most students are satisfied with Miss Streets' selection.

"Most of the students seem quite pleased with the choice," said a staff member of the Indiana Daily Student, campus newspaper.

NAACP SEC'Y LEAVES MISS. BEFORE ARREST

of intimidation, violence or otherwise."

Several plain clothes deputies converged on the meeting attended by more than 1,200 persons and were prepared to serve the warrants immediately after the meeting. Meantime, however, other officials of the city and state heard about the warrants and persuaded the deputies to withdraw from the scene, after reporters and photographers had gathered to witness the arrests.

Hinds County Sheriff Albert Jones was out of town.

Gov. J. P. Coleman said he was making a speech elsewhere and said he did not know of the warrants until later. One source said officials who were responsible for warrants being withdrawn were afraid Wilkins' arrest would "stir up too much trouble when Mississippi already had enough at Poplarville" where FBI Agents are investigating the lynching of Mack Charles Parker.

WOMEN'S CLUBS CONCLUDE 50TH NC CONVENTION

Some 500 women of North Carolina and neighboring states assembled at the Darden High School cafeteria where delicious food was served to delegates who had reached a fervor through the theme—"Lifting as We Climb."

Introduced by Miss Mae D. Holmes, superintendent of the State Training School for Girls at Kinston, the speaker, Mrs. Mason, addressed the group on the subject: "A Half Century Past—A New One Beginning."

She then traced the united force that was responsible for the organization reaching half century mark.

"Dr. Charlotte Hawkins Brown, burning with zeal, believed that Negro women united, bearing themselves with great dignity and purpose, could effectively and rapidly raise the status of Negro women to become more articulate and concerned citizens. The women of North Carolina felt her enthusiasm, collating sharply new areas of service and welfare pointed up to them by this great leader and humanitarian," declared Mrs. Mason.

To emphasize "the New Century Beginning," the speaker said that our present times are "characterized by the element of speed in every aspect of human existence in the advanced countries of the world."

Continuing, Mrs. Mason declared that "organization such as ours must devise deliberate and calculated programs to find the most gifted, talented and promising youngsters; these young people should form the hard core of prepared, brilliant leaders of the future."

As a final requisition, the speaker urged the Negro women's organizations to work to extend and maintain an atmosphere and opportunity for both races to come together to generate good works beneficial to all. No occasion must be lost by default to reason together, study and work together for the common advancement of all.

Mrs. E. M. Spellman, president, emphasized that club women "cannot and must not lose sight of the good that has been accomplished. It is the duty of each of us to join hands to combat in many ways the forces that overshadow us."

ATTY. MITCHELL FACING NATION'S HIGHEST COURT

The law requires every applicant to be able to read and write any section of the state constitution.

Mitchell argued that registrars can give tougher tests to Negroes than to whites because the law contains "no standards whatsoever" for the examinations. He said the state constitution contains some words whose meaning would be known only by lawyers.

Mitchell is counsel for Mrs. Louise Lassiter, a Northampton County Negro who is challenging the literacy test. She refused to take the test and was denied registration. She appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court after the North Carolina Supreme Court held the test statute valid.

A "Friend of the Court" brief submitted by Attorney General Malcolm B. Seawell of North Carolina called the literacy test "a very minimum considering the educational facilities of the State."

"It is submitted that a democratic government depends upon the education and mental alertness of its citizens," the brief said. "It was not intended that everyone would be reduced to the lowest common denominator . . ."

Church Bonus Money Rules

All purchase slips or receipts presented to your church must come from stores advertising in the CAROLINIAN.

Each week carries a date in the Bonus Money period. Purchases eligible must come from the store during the week the "ad" appears.

No purchase slips representing a business should be submitted. All receipts must come from individual purchases.

All churches in Raleigh and Wake County are eligible.

All purchase slips must bear the name of the store from which the purchase was made.

All purchase slips should be submitted in the name of the church; and should be in the office of the CAROLINIAN the Monday following close of bonus period.

In order that smaller churches may have an equal opportunity to share in the Bonus Money the following regulation is expedient: No church of over 200 members will be awarded 1st Bonus Money consecutively, i.e. should a church of 200 or more members receive 1st Bonus Money after the first period, it would have to wait until the third Bonus period to be presented 1st award again, except where a church has 200 or less members, then it could win top Bonus awards consecutively. However, this does not mean that second and third awards cannot be sought consecutively. Consequently every church group has the opportunity to secure an award every period.

No purchase of over $30 from any one merchant during a week can be counted.

There is a ceiling of $15 per person a week for grocery purchases.

In the event of the same amount of purchases by more than one entry, the award will be divided.

Weekly purchase totals should be shown on each packet and total placed on the outside of the envelope carrying the period's entry along with name and address.

Bonus money earners will be announced in the issue following the closing of each period.

All entries remain the property of The CAROLINIAN.

All listing is that when the name of the Bonus Money earners are announced in The CAROLINIAN and no responsibility is accepted by this newspaper beyond that point.

No receipts from bonus will be considered, except payment on mortgages.
