STORAGE PROBLEMS
"Put your clothes up" is a constant cry in many homes, and the answer might be "Where?" Many young people fail to keep their rooms neat due to lack of storage facilities which result in poor housekeeping habits.

Mrs. Sara Stewart, assistant home economics agent in Cabarrus County, demonstrated how storage in the bedroom could be improved by cleaning storage space regularly and placing things in order.

4-H CAMP
Chowan County 4-Hers are making plans to attend 4-H camp this summer.

According to Miss Catherine Aman, assistant home economics agent, colored slides of various camp activities were shown to the 4-Hers at all club meetings to stimulate interest and explain the camping program to the younger members.

CARE OF CLOTHING
For a well-groomed look, care of clothes is important. The 4-Hers in Chatham County have been instructed how to care for their clothes daily.

Mrs. Annabel Powers, assistant home economics agent, says the girls were amazed that a sweater could be washed using a cold water soap. Seasonal storage of clothes was emphasized to cut down the damage by clothes moths and carpet beetles.

GOOD LIGHTING EQUIPMENT
Emphasis was placed on good light for reading and study at recent 4-H meetings in Avery County.

According to Miss Marie Scott, home economics agent, the 4-Hers were shown how to make a good study lamp. Pin-up lamps as well as built-in lighting for the desk and bed were discussed.

DAIRY SPECIALS
The "Dunce's Delight" turned out to be a Cottage Cheese Cake

as Frances Ann McCleney and Ann Williamson gave their unique demonstration in dairy foods. Miss Earline Gibson, home economics agent in Columbus County, says that the girls made the cottage cheese which was used in the cake. The cake was made before several groups in the county stressing the importance of dairy products which are necessary in the daily diet.
