

WORLD AWAITS REMATCH OF PATTERSON-JOHANSSON

Say Floyd Never Knew What Hit Him; Sept. Rematch Seen

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The eyes of the world will be focused on the September rematch between the new world heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson of Sweden and ex-champion Floyd Patterson.

The Swedish Viking uncovered the mystery right hand he hid in training and won the world heavyweight boxing championship Friday night by flooring Floyd seven times and whipping the defending champ in 2:03 of the third round.

This battle was described as the most dramatic and shocking boxing upset since Schmeling beat Joe Louis in 1936.

Johansson became the first non-American born heavyweight champion since 1933-34

when Primo Carnera won the title.

The flop of the 1952 Olympics, Ingemar was disqualified for not fighting in the final bout with America's Ed Sanders, and thus completed one of the greatest "rags to riches" stories in the history of the ring by whipping the man who was the hero of the same Helsinki Olympics and later became world champion.

The gory Patterson seven times was sent reeling to the canvas with blood pouring from his face. Floyd never seemed to know what hit him after the first right hand dumped him on his back for the count of nine.

Down for counts of 9, 9, 6, 6, 7 and 9, the completely stunned and bewildered young New Yorker was saved from complete destruction by Referee Ruby Goldstein.

When Patterson went down for the seventh time, the count had reached only 1 when the referee stopped the complete slaughter.

Suddenly, late in the first he flashed one right that landed on top of the champ's head. This was the type of punch that claimed highly rated Eddie Machen as a first round knockout victim last September and won Ingemar the title shot.

Johansson moves away to go to the nearest neutral corner. At 2:03 of the round, referee Ruby Goldstein decided that Patterson had taken enough punishment and stepped in to stop the fight. (UPI PHOTO).

Urban League Executive To German Post

NEW YORK — Sandy Perry, industrial secretary of the Omaha Urban League, left New York Friday for West Germany.

Mr. Perry has been selected as one of twelve American social workers who will go to Germany this summer at the invitation of the West German Government. The program will extend through September 2, 1956. The American visitors will spend approximately eight weeks in and near the City of Hamburg. First, they will live in private homes and participate in courses on German youth work and welfare work. Then they will work in German children's camps or youth-serving agencies.

Mr. Perry was invited to participate in this exchange program partly because he meets the requirement of having knowledge of the German language.

Lester B. Granger, executive director of the National Urban League, recommended Mr. Perry's participation in the program. The U. S. State Department, a party to the program, conducted a two-day briefing prior to the group's embarking.

Mr. Perry hopes that his trip will afford an opportunity to broaden his perspective towards motivating young people to reach for higher goals. He particularly to observe programs and techniques in Germany which will be adaptable to the Urban League's nationwide youth incentives program—"Tomorrow's Scientists and Technicians"—which was launched last year in 63 cities and 32 states across the nation.

The National Urban League is an interracial, educational service agency, established in 1910 to further equal opportunity for Negroes in employment, education, housing and social welfare.

Maurice Stokes Determined To Overcome Brain Ailment

CINCINNATI (ANP) — Maurice Stokes former cage star with the Cincinnati Royals now convalescing from a strange brain ailment at Christ hospital, has been described as grimly determined to recover.

Stokes, who celebrated his 26th birthday in high spirits, is the guy who more than a year ago set the National Basketball league afire with his rebounding skill. He was stricken aboard a plane bound for Cincinnati following a game in Detroit. The ailment left him paralyzed and unable to speak. He is gradually regaining to form words.

played with Stokes and now is his legal guardian, reported the big star from Pittsburgh is confident he will some day walk out of the hospital. Doctors describe his progress as gradual.

Stokes' ailment was finally diagnosed as post-traumatic encephalopathy, which means a brain sickness from a head injury.

The ailment has hampered him to the extent that he is forced to use "a system of charades" when speaking to others. That is, the visitor calls off the letter of the alphabet and he nods when the one he wants is spoken. Thus, words and sentences are finally formed.

Stokes has been in the hospital for 458 days. However, he is not yet hard-pressed for funds, as two NBA benefit games have helped pay his hospital bills and tide him along. His case also comes under the State Industrial commission, from which he receives financial aid for medical expenses.

The problem will come, according to Twyman, when Stokes leaves the hospital and must meet considerable expenses.

Before his illness on March 15, 1954, Stokes was one of the most colorful and talented players in the NBA.
