

Negro, White Churches In Joint Meet

COMBRIDGE, Mass.—(ANP)—Two local churches, one a Negro congregation and the other a 141-year-old white body, are holding joint religious services monthly in a campaign that has proved highly successful, according to one of the pastors. The worship services are held twice monthly on Sunday afternoons.

The program started as a pilot project, said the Rev. Lynce C. Smith, pastor of the First Baptist Church, with a membership of 700 whites. He believes the program strengthens relationship between Negro and white worshippers.

"I believe we can say that the joint services have brought our people into closer fellowship and led to a greater ministry in the name of Christ," he opined.

Sharing the pulpit on alternate nights with Rev. Smith is the Rev. James R. Holloway, pastor of the Western Avenue Baptist Church. The church has a total of 150 Negro members.

Said Rev. Holloway of the joint services:

"We accept each other as human beings"

Catholic Leader Hits Ike For His Bias Views

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (ANP)—The Rev. John La Farge, S. J., a key figure nationally in the Catholic Interracial Council, openly criticized President Eisenhower's views on segregation.

Mrs. Frances O. Massenburg To Social Action Institute

When the Eastern Christian Social Action Institute meets at the Congregational Conference Center, Framingham, Massachusetts, July 27th-31st, Mrs. Frances O. Massenburg, of Raleigh, will attend as a representative from the First Congregational Christian Church of which Rev. Howard Cunningham is pastor.

The all-expense paid trip is provided by the Council for Social Christian Action of the Congregational Christian Churches, New York, New York.

The Institute is concerned with the bearing of Christian faith upon social, racial, economic and international problems and the training of leaders in the work of the churches. The week's program includes a variety of learning and recreative experiences to be shared by representatives of many states.

Mrs. Massenburg will report the work of the Social Action Committee of the local church, specifically the Joe Louis Park Project on which Mr. John Sledge and Mr. Edward Holden are serving as social missionaries—a project initiated by Dr. Fraund of the United Church of which Rev. Gaylord P. Noyce is pastor.

The report will also include the Annual Vacation Church School, sponsored by the First Congregational and United Churches.

Mrs. Massenburg is an active member of the First Congregational Church. She is teacher of the Senior Young Peoples' Class of the Sunday School, a member of the Senior Choir and the Willing Workers' Emergency Club.

She is a sixth grade teacher at the Fuquay Springs Consolidated School, Fuquay Springs, and is secretary of the Wake County Teachers' Association.

Mrs. Massenburg is a graduate of St. Augustine's College, where she received the A.B. Degree. She received the Masters' Degree at N. C. College at Durham.

She is the wife of a well-known businessman, J. Kenneth Massenburg and the mother of one child, Cheryl Frances, a fourth grade student at Lucille Hunter School.

U. S. Pride In Ghana, Other African Nations Commended

NEW YORK (ANP)—Lawrence H. Fuchs, associate professor of politics, Brandeis University, Waltham, Mass., writes on "Minority Groups and Foreign Policy," in the current issue of Political Science Quarterly, periodical published at Columbia University.

"American Negroes," asserts Professor Fuchs, "are proud of Ghana and want her to succeed, not only for Ghana's sake, but for what success Africa will mean to our own Negroes in their quest for equal rights."

"In turn, the largest of our minority groups will soon lobby for Ghana just as American Jews now do for Israel and Irish-Americans for Ireland."

Fuchs cited the presence of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., and other American Negroes at the Independence Day celebration in Accra as "symbolically" linking the American Negro's drive "for status at home with his power to help Ghana in Washington."

State College Answers

QUESTION: My hens keep scratching in the litter. Why?

ANSWER: They're probably trying to find some relief from the lice that are biting them. Lice can be a real problem in warm weather. Thousands of lice may attack one bird. To control the pests apply 4 per cent Malathion dust at the rate of one pound per 50 square feet of litter.

QUESTION: I heard recently that the 4-H Club organization in North Carolina is the nation's oldest. Is this true?

ANSWER: Yes. North Carolina State College was the first Land Grant institution in the nation to sign a contract with the U. S. Department of Agriculture for the formal organization of rural youth into clubs. This work got under way officially on July 1, 1909 with the hiring of I. O. Schaub. The work wasn't known as 4-H at that time, however. This name came into being sometime later.

QUESTION: What does the tree seedling supply for this fall and winter look like?

ANSWER: The supply looks good. You should be able to get exactly what you want, if you order early. The North Carolina Division of Forestry is already accepting orders for delivery this fall and winter. County agricultural agents have the necessary order blanks.

Farmers use 20 per cent of the nation's rubber products. The nation's population is increasing at the equivalent of 85 towns the size of Raleigh each year.

North Carolina farmers spend about 275 million annually for food. Farmers use 10 per cent of the nation's chemicals.
