CAROLINIAN CLUBBERS' CORNER

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Championship Game will be played on Sunday, August 30, at 2:30 p.m., at Chavis Park. All Clubbers' teams and the public are invited.

Does Mama Love Papa?

This should never happen, particularly not in front of the children. Of course there are bound to be disagreements between parents. But they should never be allowed to develop into the sort of thing we see here.

These children are puzzled and frightened. The shrieks of their father and mother terrify them. Homes that rock with family fights can't produce happy, well-adjusted children.

YOU ARE THE DETECTIVE

You are seated at a restaurant table with your friend, Captain Martin Brady. His face, weather-beaten by more than thirty years at sea, is even more deeply etched by lines than ever. He is very much worried about his coming appearance before a board of inquiry regarding a recent occurrence at sea.

"Well," he begins, "on the day in question, we were steaming south. The sea was as flat as a table—not a breath of air stirring—and it had been that way for almost two days. Shortly after noon, our lookout reported a vessel ahead of us. He made it out to be the S.S. Miranda. It seemed to be laying to, or at least moving along very slowly. We passed within a mile or so of it, but since there seemed to be nothing unusual and no sign of distress—we kept on our course. And I heard nothing further about it, until last week when I made port."

"What's the case against you?" you ask. "Captain Joshua Mather, of 'The Miranda,' claims he was in distress at that time, and had been since the night previous. He says they had lost all power aboard ship, their radio was useless without the power, and that during the night they had used up all their distress rockets. He says they had not been too much alarmed because they were in a regular shipping lane and felt that sooner or later another ship would come along and give them a tow. He claims my ship was the first one to come along, and that he immediately ordered a flag hoisted upside down... you know, the international signal of distress. Says he was 'horrified' to see us move on and away. Captain Mather wants very much to see me stripped of my master's papers, and Captain Brady shakes his head mournfully.

"I don't think there's any danger of your papers being taken from you," you say. "All you have to do when you appear before the board is to remind them of one thing. 'What's that?'" he asks. "Do you know what it is that will absolve your friend?"

The day was calm, with "not a breath of air stirring." Therefore, the distress flag would have hung limply, and your friend passing a mile or so away could not possibly have told whether the flag was hanging upside down or not.

3 State Conferences Held At A&T College

GREENSBORO — Three conferences of statewide interest were held at A&T College during the week of August 3-7. More than 250 home economics teachers attended the annual State Vocational Home Economics Conventional Home Economics Conference held at the college August 3-7. The meet held under the supervision of Mrs. Marie L. Moffitt, Durham area supervisor, featured lectures and demonstrations on the latest teaching methods and instructional techniques.

—Thirty African women were jailed last week for "malicious destruction of property," grow out of a mass protest against the government's program of dipping—a health pre-emption. In rebuttal, natives carrying spears set a fire to nearby fields to protest the arrests.

HENDERSON AND SMITH-PIELD—These teams closed the CAROLINIAN League season with a 10-10 record respectively. Each team had to play a minimum of ten games.

OTHER TEAM REPORTS — Tarboro did not lose a game all season, but started too late to get in the required ten games. Hillsboro was leading the league at the close of the season but fell down in paper sales. The sales were not enough to cover the players on the team.

Apex, with Mr. Sinclair as director, lost two games, but Mr. Sinclair struggled to keep his paper sales intact although the boys dropped off in assisting him.

Louisburg, under Mr. Perry, did a good job with their sales and diamond performances. They lost only two games. The tobacco season wrecked the Wilson and Holly Springs teams. Both teams were thrown out of the running.

Rev. McGrier of Cooley Springs and Mr. Goodson of Eagle Rock put forth great effort to keep the league intact. Rev. McGrier did a good job with sales.

Mr. Roosevelt Warner and Mr. William McPherson of Hillsboro are to be credited for holding the Hillsboro team together and giving transportation. However, paper sales supervision was not effective enough because a grown person was not available to supervise sales and reports.

Mr. Hearnly of Clayton took over the boys as a part of his recreation program, but the young man in charge of sales fell down on his job.

Smithfield under Mr. Charles Forte started off with a boom in paper sales but began to lag in mid-season. The team was good and because of the insistence of Charles, Jr. paper sales zoomed again.

Mr. Thomas Hunt in Henderson came out of his barber shop and parlayed the CAROLINIAN team into a community affair. When the paper agent got slack he sought the assistance of his barber shop manager to check sales and reports. Tarboro was the only team to defeat the Henderson team. Mr. Hunt's record of following the schedule and making his dates is perfect.

Mr. Bussy at Tarboro did an excellent job, collecting perhaps the strongest team in the league and directing a top paper sales program. But the team started too late to get in ten games.

NOTE TO DIRECTORS: Please keep the paper sales program intact until a CAROLINIAN representative can call on you. Appoint a paper manager for the time being. A winter program for the club will be explained soon. A representative will call on you. Don't lose a customer.

New Bern started off strong with Rufus Hatten handling paper sales and the team. But distance from other towns presented transportation difficulties. Charles Atkinson, regular CAROLINIAN salesman in New Bern was out of town when the team was formed. Later he returned and took over the circulation job. He will continue his work through the winter months.

DIRECTORS, please remember to continue or place the paper sales into the hands of responsible persons until a CAROLINIAN representative can call on you. Your man, "SKINK".

White Youth Threatens To Stone Home, Is Jailed

CHICAGO (ANP) — A white youth who threatened to stone the home of a Negro family in a so-called white neighborhood during a racial flareup recently, was given 90 days in the County jail to think it over. Another youth was fined $700 for his part in the anti-Negro demonstration.

Sent to prison was Fred Bahling, 18, who along with 14 other defendants, were arrested in front of the home of the Negro family Aug. 6. Police charged them with disorderly conduct, inciting a riot and refusing to leave the vicinity.

Police were rushed to the scene after thousands of whites gathered in front of the home, angrily protesting the purchase of the building by the Negro family. In the crowd several women shouted insults at the family.

At first police tried to reason with the crowd, asking them to go home. However, they were forced to get tough when people like Bahling continued to demonstrate. Several ring-leaders were rounded up and hauled off to jail.

The other youth, Frank Bleers, also 18, was charged $200 on a disorderly conduct count and $500 and costs on a charge of failing to obey a police order to leave the scene.

Sgt. John Baker of the Fillmore station told the judge Bahling carried a piece of concrete and an empty bottle. He said Bahling told him he intended to throw the bottle through the window of the house.

Before imposing the penalties the judge gave the two youths a stern lecture.

The trial of some of the other defendants were continued.

DRAPERY HARDWARE

What are extender plates and plain traverse rods? According to Mrs. Charlotte Rumbley, home economist agent in Lincoln County, there are now know the use of various drapery hardware.

Many types of fixtures and hardware available to help beautify windows was discussed. Some of the women have already bought extender plates to make their windows appear wider.

The modern supermarket has over 4,000 items from which to choose.
