RUTH CURRENT—The problem is solved by packing a picnic lunch and heading for the nearest superhighway, which leads to swimming or boating at a lake or beach, or to a state recreation park—even to a secluded wooded area, where the family can have a day or several days of family fun.

There's no question but that the children go along. Many parents have vivid memories of events of a few years ago when families were separated by wartime conditions. They want their families to be together as much as possible, particularly when there's family fun involved.

Take some good books along on vacation (read them together or not); everyone will enjoy games, and even the smallest can enjoy good food to cook, or supervise the cooking. Take your hobbies if the recreation spot lends itself to what you do.

ing the first semester completing requirements for the Ph.D. degree. Dr. C. R. Blake, associate professor of English, will be at the University of Michigan completing the writing of a book. Mrs. Annice C. Buck will also be at the University of Michigan completing her dissertation for the Ph.D. degree in Zoology.

93rd Session Of Morgan To Begin Sept. 11

BALTIMORE, Md.—Activities of the ninety-third session of Morgan State College will begin with the annual faculty institute, September 11-14. Dean George C. Grant announced this week.

Continuing a more-than twelve year practice to explore ways to improve instruction, the institute this year will make studies of Ruml - Morrison's controversial "Memo To A College Trustee," and of the Report of President Eisenhower's Advisory Committee on Science.

In another high point of the institute, Maryland Governor J. Millard Tawes will discuss "What the State Expects of Its Institutions of Higher Education." Governor Tawes will address the annual dinner hosted by President and Mrs. Martin D. Jenkins Saturday, September 12, 6 p. m., Morgan Memorial Refectory.

Opening day of the session, Friday, September 11, will feature the presentation of three reports. Dr. Otis D. Froe, Director of Evaluation and Research, who is returning from a year's leave as a Southern Regional Education Board Fellow, will discuss "The College-Wide Testing Program"; Walter Fisher, assistant professor of history, will report on an experimental Independent Study Project he conducted last year with freshman classes in "The History of Western Civilization," and Dr. Albert N. Whiting, Assistant Dean of the College, will report on "Grading Practices."

These presentations will be made in the afternoon session commencing at 2:30 p. m.

RUML-MORRISON REPORT
Consideration of the Ruml-Morrison Report will come at the opening session on Saturday, Sept. 12, beginning at 9 a. m.

Dr. Samuel L. Myers, professor of economics, will review the report and Dean Whiting will lead a discussion.

Meetings of the three divisions of the college — the Humanities, the Natural Sciences, and the Social Sciences—will follow at 1:30 p. m.

In addition to Governor Tawes' faculty will also hear Dr. Richard I. McKinney, professor of philosophy, make "Some Observations on the Sabbatical Year."

Dr. McKinney spent last year abroad and in the United States studying at major institutions.

J. C. Smith Univ. Sets Opening

CHARLOTTE—President R. P. Perry of Johnson C. Smith University announced that registration for former students will be held on Tuesday, September 15, this year. The formal opening convening the ninety-second session of the university will be held at 10:00 A.M. Wednesday, September 16 in the University Church.

Freshmen will report to the university on September 8 for a week of orientation before the formal opening.

Dr. Perry also announced that Harbans Singh, Ph.D. from New York University, will be added to the faculty as assistant professor of Physical Education.

The Reverend Calvin A. Wood will return as an instructor in the School of Theology. He has completed the M.A. degree in Biblical Literature at Boston University.

Miss Bernice Spence, a graduate of North Carolina College at Durham, will be an Assistant Librarian. Several faculty members will be on leave this year. Jack S. Brayboy, associate professor of Physical Education will be on leave dur-
