

FULLMER- WEBB TITLE BOUT TOPS FALL SCHEDULE

CIAA Is Conference To Watch In National Ratings

Postponing Of Heavy Bout Places Middleweights First

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — With the postponement of the previously planned heavyweight title rematch between Ingemar Johansson and challenger Floyd Patterson, a middleweight title bout between Gene Fullmer and Ellsworth (Spider) Webb for the NBA middleweight title looms as the top money bout this fall. The bout is slated for Dec. 4.

The bout outshines the Sugar Ray Robinson-Paul Panther bout in Boston in November. Pender, although ranked among the top 10 middleweights, is not expected to cause Robinson too much anxiety.

On the other hand, Webb will be a strong challenger and must be given at least an even chance of lifting Fullmer's crown. Not only is Ellsworth considered one of the cleverest boxers in the game, but he is a sharp puncher who might stop the Mormon in much the same manner Gene disposed of Carmen Basilio.

Fullmer stopped the battle-scarred Basilio in August to win the NBA version of the middleweight title. But New York and Massachusetts still recognize Sugar as champion. Some observers feel that the beating Carmen took from Robinson started Basilio on the downgrade.

MEET BEFORE. Fullmer and Webb fought once before. They clashed in Fullmer's hometown here in a non-title 10 rounder Sept. 11, 1958, and Gene won a controversial decision. Webb follows claim, however, that it was a "hometown decision," and Ellis-worth will be out to avenge the loss.

Webb has beaten some of the best in the business, including the two middleweight muscle boys, Roy Calhoun (twice) and Joe Giardello (on a seventh round TKO).

Fullmer won and lost to Robinson in previous title outings. Fullmer and Webb, who signed contracts recently, will meet in their title bout in the college town of Logan, Utah.

Another top bout during the fall season will be middleweight bout between Rudell Stitch, currently riding a victory crest, and the unpredictable Holly Mims of New Orleans. The two will clash in a 10-round in that city, Nov. 2.

RETURNS TO AGGIES LINEUP—Tommy Day, big 6-2, 230 pound tackle, returning to the A&T College Aggies lineup after a one year layoff is making his presence felt in bolstering the Aggie middle line. Day, laid up last season with an injury, made All-CIAA choice in 1957. He comes from Washington, N. C.

Four Of Five Teams In Other Areas; But CIAA Is Threatening

Although four of the five outstanding teams in the Huddle's ratings are from other areas, the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Assn., better known as the CIAA, appears to be the conference to watch in the future.

Prairie View still rates the nod as No. 1 team. The Panthers will face Arkansas AM&N in Pine Bluff, Ark. in a Southwestern Conference tilt, but should have no trouble.

Rated second are the Southern Jaguar Cats. Southern also will be engaged in a Southwestern Conference tilt, but should take care of Texas College easily.

Another conference the team, the Grambling Tigers, is rated in the baker's dozen despite a mediocre record. Grambling should whip Jackson.

Third team is Florida A&M. The Rattlers will be un hospitable hosts to South Carolina State and should win their SIAC test easily. Tennessee State rates fourth. The Tigers have an off day.

Then come the A&T Aggies, a big rugged squad, strong on defense and short on offense. The Aggies, however, should easily take Morgan in CIAA competition.

Lincoln (Mo.) rates sixth. The Tigers play St. Ambrose in an interracial contest, and should win.

Then comes another CIAA squad, the Virginia State Trojans. Virginia State must face its bitterest rivals, the Virginia Union Panthers. This is a grudge CIAA battle, but Virginia State should win.

Two CIAA teams seeking national honors are the Johnson C. Smith Bulls and the Winston-Salem Rams in a crucial game in Winston-Salem, N. C. This is expected to be a close game that could go either way. Winston-Salem will win, thanks to its varied offense.

Elsewhere on the CIAA front should be a disappointing North Carolina College over Shaw as a homecoming gift for the old grade Bluefield over Fayetteville, surprising St. Paul's to win another one against Delaware State. Lincoln (Pa.) over Hampton, and Elizabeth City over St. Augustine's.

Other teams rated in the baker's dozen are Maryland State, Morris Brown and possibly Clark, Fort Valley, Allen or Norfolk State.

Two long term rivalries take the spotlight in the SIAC. Alabama State and Alabama A&M will meet in Birmingham, Ala. Neither team is doing well this season, but on the other hand, it will be Alabama State in the other battle it will be Clark against Morehouse in Atlanta, Ga.

Charlie Scott Stops Hart In Grudge Bout

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — behind the top-ranking Hart before last week's battle. Scott has lost nine bouts.

The Scott-Hart bout was a grudge fight and the two fought bitterly from the start. They even refused to shake hands.

Scott, 23, pressed the action throughout, crowding Hart, who likes to pitch punches from the outside. But until the eighth, when Scott set him up for the knockout, Hart battled his man on even terms, with each taking turns at jolting the other.

In the eighth, Scott put Hart down for a count of two just before the bell. When Garnet came out for the ninth, Scott went all out for the kill and nailed his man with a series of lefts and rights to the head. Hart was helpless on the ropes when Referee Joe Sweeney halted the action.

Scott, weighing in at 146, thus racked up his 24th victory and put himself in line for a title shot at Jordan. He was ranked No. 2

Delaware State Tramples Lincoln Gridders, 38-13

DOVER, Del. — Playing under a cloudy sky and on a wet field, Delaware State defeated Lincoln University 38-13, although Lincoln made 10 first downs to 2 for DSC.

After a scoreless first quarter, Delaware State scored in the second quarter when Halfback Harrison Wilder from Charleston, S. C., ran 18 yards for a TD following a bad punt by Lincoln from deep in its own territory. Irvin Heath of Philadelphia passed to End Ralph Neal of Washington, D. C., for the conversion. The half ended with DSC ahead, 8-0.

Early in the third quarter, End Eddie Davis from Pittsburgh intercepted a Lincoln pass on his own 27 yard line and scampered 73 yards to score. Heath passed to Halfback Richard Saunders (Wilmington, Del.) to put DSC ahead 16-0. In the same quarter when Guard Carl Barnes (Philadelphia) of Lincoln went back to punt, a bad pass from center sailed over his head. End George Bratcher (West Chester) recovered the ball on the 6 yard line of Lincoln for DSC. After DSC lost 2 yards, Quarterback Heath ran around end for 5 yards and a TD. The attempted conversion failed, and DSC led 22-0 at the end of the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter, DSC's tackle, John Haynes from Roxborough, Mass., intercepted a pass by Lincoln's Horace Judson (FT. Lauderdale, Fla.) on Lincoln's 20 yard line. Quarterback James Griffin from Conshohocken, Pa., then heaved a 16 yard pass to End Evander Duck from Asbury Park, N. J., for a first down on Lincoln's 4 yard line. Halfback Fred Wilson from Tazle, Va., then ran 4 yards to score for DSC. Halfback Eugene Jones from Atlanta, Ga., went over to make the score 38-0. DSC

Lincoln came to life in the closing moments of the game when Guard Carl Barnes blocked a DSC pun and recovered it on the 27 yard line of DSC. Quarterback Jonathan Latimer (Washington, D. C.) then hit Halfback Douglas Jones (Pittsburgh) with a pass that put the ball on DSC's 15 yard line. On the next play, Latimer hit Horace Judson with a pass for a TD. The attempted pass for the conversion failed, score, 38-6. DSC

Story Starts Chamberlain Versus Russell Verbal Battle In Minn.

A verbal battle centering on the comparative abilities of Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain of the Philadelphia Warriors and the Boston Celtics' Bill Russell started here recently. Chamberlain made Russell look like an ordinary player. The two had opposed each other for the first time in the NBA game.

Springing the defense of Russell, Coach Red Auerbach of the Celtics branded the story ridiculous, said the writer didn't know what he was talking about. Said Red:

Chamberlain is great and will be greater but he certainly didn't make Russell look like an ordinary player. No one who ever played basketball would ever say that.

Auerbach said Chamberlain is Russell on rebounds, Bill's forte mainly because the latter plays only three quarters while Chamberlain played the entire 48 minutes.

Santa's Mighty Nice To Tan Baseball Champions

NEW YORK (AP) — After playing in the richest World Series in baseball history, members of the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers and the losing Chicago White Sox last week shared in record player pools, according to an announcement by Commissioner Ford Frick.

Therefore, Santa Clause not only came early, but was mighty generous to the five tan players, who along with the others, played in the series.

Charlie Neal, Junior Gilliam, Ino. Roseboro and Maury Willis as members of the champion Dodgers, drew full shares of $11,231.18 each, highest ever voted to individual players in the series. Willis, it is understood, was voted a full share even though he joined the Dodgers late in the season.

Of the White Sox, outfielder Al Smith and relief catcher Earl Baley joined other Pale Hose players in drawing full shares of $7,275.17.

The previous record for a full share given to a winning player was $11,147.00 to the New York Giants, 1954 series champs.

The Dodgers voted 29 full shares, the White Sox 31.

The second place, Milwaukee
