J. C. Smith Bulls Spoil Shaw Bears' Homecoming, 20-0

Unbeaten Charlotte Squad Now Boasts Five Victories

CHARLOTTE—Johnson C. Smith University's unbeaten football team extended its latest streak to five straight games with a 20-0 CIAA victory over Shaw University's Bears at Raleigh Saturday.

In bagging their first triumph over the Bears since 1951, the Bulls pushed over a touchdown late in the second period and then rallied for a pair of tallies in the fourth to win going away.

Thomas Brown, 215 pound rookie guard, recovered two fumbles to set up the Golden Bull's first two TD's. After chasing halfback Osborne Curry from the Shaw 13 back to the 3 yard line, Brown fell upon the pusklin to give JCSU possession 2 yards away from paydirt.

Quarterback James Walker quickly sent the Smith eleven into a lead they never relinquished with a jump pass which ended Nathaniel Aikens grabbed neatly after crossing over the goal line. Walker threw to Aikens for the extra point, but the brilliant sophomore was knocked off his pins short of scoring territory.

With quarterback Frank Baker fumbling for the Bears and Brown claiming the oval for the Bulls at the Shaw 24, the Herd hurried to their second 6 points. This time, on a third down-ten situation, Walker found fullback Seldon Chiles all alone at the Bear 18 and Chiles rumbled over to score standing on a pass-run maneuver that covered 25 yards.

Walker threw to Chiles for the extra points as JCSU stretched its margin to 14-0.

The Smith eleven covered 38 yards in nine stabs at the Bear's defense for its final tally. Halfback John Butler took it over from the three after an 18 yard pass from Walker to Chiles set it up.

most devoid of passes. Early in the second period, Willie Jones, Bears quarterback, took a punt on the 20-yard line and behind good blocking ran 80 yards to score.

Late in the third period James Withers cut loose on a 65-yard-run, then terminated in the end. From there the teams butted heads with neither presenting a big threat.

Ligon Ruins Rocky Mount's Homecoming By 24-6 Score

ROCKY MOUNT — The Ligon High Little Blues remained undefeated in triple A conference play Friday night in the wake of their 24-6 triumph over Rocky Mount on Friday night.

The Little Blues spoiled Booker T. Washington's homecoming celebration in the league contest played in a chilling October rain.

Halfback James Stewart sparked Ligon to its seventh straight conference victory and its seventh of eight overall, with two touchdown runs of 68 and 3 yards.

The Little Blues scored early in the first quarter, when Bennie Mack, Ligon quarterback, handed off to James Stewart, during the second play of the game. Stewart raced for 68 yards to paydirt. William Crockett ran over a two-point conversion.

Booker T. then scored in the second period, but the conversion attempt failed.

It was then, in the fourth quarter, that Ligon struck for two more touchdowns. Stewart and Bennie Mack scored these on six and two-yard plunges. Crockett added one conversion, and Roy Crowder the other.

Albert Hawkins and Bobby Gardner were the outstanding linemen for Ligon.

This week's game will be against old rival Hillside High of Durham. The game will be played in Durham.

Coach Pete Williams stated from his scouts report, that this will be a big one for his young ball team, and a tough one.

Durham, seeking revenge for the last two years, will get a third chance Thursday night. Assistant line coach Carl Easterling of Durham said they will expect an all-time record crowd for this occasion.

The probable starting line-up will be Wiley Latham and James Giles, at end; Bobby Gardner and Staley Keith, at tackle; Leymont Jenkins and Charles Jones, at guard; Timothy Robinson, at center; Bennie Mack, at quarter; Crockett and Stewart at the halfback; and either Robertson or Crowder at fullback.

GOOFIN' OFF BY "SKINK" THE LITTLE BLUES

Saw the Ligon outfit in one practice session, picked them to win the eastern football bunting, two more wins and they are in—think I called the right shot.

Hillsboro won't be easy for them to handle in Durham this weekend; but halfback Crowder and Stewart will be there to gether with Robinson and Mack in the backfield to break into daylight spots created by a forward wall that has more than held its own since the shellacking it took from the High Point crew early in the piskin season.

The Durham outfit could throw the eastern championship title into a middle by checking the Raleigh aggregation's stampede to its first conference title in the late years. . . . It would at least throw Raleigh and Durham in a tie for the title, necessitating a playoff, and coaches Blount and Easterling of Hillside will be angling to do just that.

LEXINGTON IS ROMPING AGAIN

Coach Charlie England's Lexington outfit is making a strong bid for its fourth consecutive western conference double "A" championship and its second back to back state title. . . . Lexington dropped an early season game to Winston-Salem's triple "A" Carver High School, which was a non conference foe. . . . but Dunbar has run the gauntlet against all comers in the double "A" division thus far.

Kannapolis was downed, 30-0; Monroe, 16-6; Mt. Airy, 42-6; and Burlington, 20-0. Thomasville and Shelby are next on docket and the deal favors Dunbar. . . . But Thomasville is always tough and no stones are ever left unturned to upset the upstate arch-rivals in any contest on the agenda.

Shelby can't be the same without its great All-State quarterback, Bobby Bell, who won a football scholarship to the University of Minnesota. . . . So if Lexington can top Thomasville, Shelby should be taken in stride.

WHO IS ON WHAT TEAM?

Some years ago little Center College went up and defeated the Great Harvard team, but Center College had the All-Time Great Bo McMillan. . . . The Little Carlisle Indians ripped the stiff shirts off two or three major colleges during their football heyday; but they had the world's greatest all-round athlete, Jim Thorpe.

Maybe St. Paul's and Elizabeth City has a Bo McMillan or a Jim Thorpe. . . . At least St. Aug. and Shaw think so.

North Carolina College in Durham still has a loaded football squad, but somehow the team is still losing. . . . Maybe the players didn't come "ready made" for the state pattern of football.

RECRUITING IS AN ART — NOT A FAD

When a fellow pays out his money, he expects results from the recipient. If a team has twenty-two scholarship or part scholarship players on its squad, how does it continue to lose games to minor colleges with less to offer? Recruiting is not for everybody, it's a specialty. Of course, every individual thinks he knows good football material at sight. . . . But the coach that uses the material should be the one to make the selection, and then, if the outcome backfires, only the selector is to blame.

But when a galaxy of pressure influence enters the picture no one person shoulders the blame for the poor showing of the prospect. . . . Then, too, if a prospect can't deliver up to the expectations of his benefactor in due time, his athletic benefits should be cancelled.

Back when Eddie Hurt was head coach at Va. Seminary, before moving over to Morgan, there were about 40 boys living in the dormitory and over half of them were on the football team. . . . But they won the CIAA championship in football and basketball. . . . Hurt, for a long time, was a top recruiter.

BITS AND BITES: Morningside Hi in Statesville has a good football team this season.

Don't hear anything about Bradshaw's Chapel Hill Lincoln Hi Tigers.

Henderson is whipping heads, but silent on the publicity as usual. Kinston and New Bern are average teams this year.

Rocky Mount has been surprising with its load of sophomores.

Roanoke Rapids, Weldon and the lower eastern hi schools just play for the fun of it. . . . Never hear a word about them.

A great number of large Negro Hi Schools in the state don't trouble themselves about playing football. . . . the white school across town has a fabulous team.

Taylor's athletics have dipped to a low ebb since the days of Charlie England. . . . Ditto for Fayetteville State since the early days of Gus Gaines and the heyday of Weeks T. Armstrong. One man can make a difference in any situation, it all depends on, who the man is.

Smith and Livingstone will have record-breaking crowds at their homecomings on Nov. 7 and 14, respectively.

"Big House" Gaizer and Tank Conrad promote a good recruiting job at "TC" in Winston-Salem. . . . Tops in homecoming attractions is the caption for "TC's" annual celebration; and for years it has surpassed all others in the state.

Tan Players Off To Fast NFL Start

Abe Woodson, another Forty-Niner, was sixth among punt returners, averaging 10.3 yards on seven runbacks. Natson, eight, averaged 7.20 yards on five returns. Tenth was Johnny Sample, of the Colts, who returned eight for a 6.5 average.

Sample was second in kickoff returns averaging 25 yards on five. Lennie Lyles, a former Colt, was third, averaging 24.0 on none for the Forty.

Rookie George Scott, of the Giants, had returned six for a 24.3 average, and Matson had run back eight for a 24.1 average.

Eric Barnes, defensive back for the Bears, had intercepted two passes.

Falcons Employ Both Land And Air Attacks In Victory

FAYETTEVILLE — Employing both the land and air route on a muddy field, the Saint Augustine's College Falcons pushed over touchdowns in the first and second quarters to wrap up a bitterly-contested football game here last Saturday, 20-8.

The Falcons broke the game wide open early in the first period when Pirate back Donald Thompson dashed over from the six yard stripe and Herbert Burrows converted for eight markers.

The visitors took the ball at midfield. Minutes later quarterback Herbert Burrows' 30 yard heave in the end gave the visitors another marker.

And on the first play of the second period a James Bridget to George Jones pass was good for 99 yards and the Falcons final TD of the evening.

The third period saw the Broncos come alive, stop Coach George Walker's charges in their tracks, and score themselves when back Robert Gordon, big fun for the homeboys, concluded a sustained drive from the 47. He streaked down the sideline for 23 yards and a TD. The Broncos wrote two more scores in the book on a safety during the final period.

Grambling Faces Tough '59 Foes

Grambling college will face five basketball poequeurs during the 1959-60 cage season.

Among the top opponents for the Tigers will be Prairie View college, Texas Southern and Wiley of Texas, and Southern university.

The Grambling schedule includes 11 games at home and 13 away.

Few employees refuse to leave their desks when the clock signals an end to the working day.

Capacity of the horizontal slip can be readily altered to fit the changing size of the herd.

SHORT GAIN — Lloyd Oakley, power laden fullback (with ball) with the A&T College Aggies bulls for short yardage against Winston-Salem Teachers College in the game played in Greensboro last Saturday. The Aggies won the contest, 23-18 to keep their conference slate clean.
