

Ligon High School Items

NCC COUNSELOR SPEAKS AT LIGON

BY RICHMOND STEWART

W. J. Holloway, former counselor and acting principal at Ligon High School and now director of personnel at North Carolina College, was the main speaker at a colorful ceremony to install the student council officers, held in the school's auditorium. Mr. Holloway, who left Ligon to attend the University of Illinois to complete the requirements for his Ph.D., spoke briefly on "The Impact of Changing Society Upon Youth."

The counselor spoke first of the many Ligon graduates doing well at the college in Durham. He continued by speaking of the responsibilities on the shoulders of the students as a result of uncontrolled powers and its effect on America, due to technological advancement.

Mr. Holloway stated, "our programs do not in many instances prepare students in the wake of advancement." "The changing names in the headlines are symbolic of a rapidly changing world."

Hampton Haywood, senior at Ligon, gave the introductory remarks for the program by reporting on his trip to Williamsburg, Virginia, last week to a student council presentation. The officers up for installation were presented by G. L. Foxwell, assistant principal, to H. F. Brown, principal. Mr. Brown made the installation official.

The officers installed were: Betty V. Stevens, president; William Crockett, 1st vice-president; Delia Johnson, 2nd vice-president; Patricia Gill, assistant secretary; Alice Mann, secretary; Annie Jean Wilson, treasurer; and Joseph Gibbs, parliamentarian.

Platform guests included Mrs. Sallie Griffith, past president of the PTA; Rev. C. W. Ward; Mrs. Dorothy Goodson, supervisor of elementary education in Raleigh; and J. C. Washington, president of the Ligon PTA.

47 STUDENTS MAKE HONOR ROLL AT LIGON

The guidance department of the J. W. Ligon High School released the names of students making the honor roll for the first six weeks by maintaining an average of 80 or above.

Those listed were: Joyce McNeil, Alfreda McCullough, Vera Ann Harris, Lottie Avery, Betty Chavis, Myrtice Beéat, Elaine Johnson, Lloydyne Perry, Marilyn Yarbrough, Brenda Kae, Madelyn Yarbrough, Jennie Davis, Viola High, Bertha Baker, Itez Yarbrough, Patricia Thomas, Leatha Debnam, Robert Manual, Freddie Curtis, Betty Chavis, Marion Bunch, Deloris Young, Dianne White, Linda High, Robin Alexander, William Peasox.

Reginald Ann Smith, Denyce Stokes, Carolyn Judkins, Barbara Keith, Barbara Brodie, Cynthia Ferrell, Barbara Smith, Mildred Snellings, Margaret Deberry, Jas Hunter Celestine Walker, Cornelius Walker, Kay Frances Stanley, Carol Anne Adams, Ben Vyk Alston, Joye Dunston, Cheryl Jamie, William Hardy, Mary Harris, Janie Lindsay, and Patricia Miles.

LIGON MEETS HILLSIDE IN CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

Ligon's Little Blues take off for Durham Thursday to meet the Hillside Hornets in a game that could decide the championship of the Western Division of the Eastern Triple A conference. The Raleigh team goes into the game with a 6-0 conference record while the host team has a 5-1 record, losing to Williston High of Wilmington. The same Wilmington team was unopposed by the Little Blues, 22-12. Raleigh's over-all record is 7-1. Last week a non-conference tilt with High Point.

Some of them will call upon Raleigh residents to donate cash to the emergency fund, between the hours of 7:30 and 10 p.m.

Last year UNICEF aid benefited 50 million children and mothers. UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, participates in programs to fight disease and malnutrition among the world's children in more than 100 countries.

So let us stop and think of what a UNICEF penny collected on Halloween does.

It will provide enough BCG vaccine to protect a child against TB

Their TRICK is to TREAT

UNICEF Drive Planned Here Halloween Night

Youths from Raleigh churches will go calling Halloween night for the United Nations International Children Emergency Fund.

The youngsters are members of the United Christian Youth Movement and range in age from 13-18.

Some of them will call upon Raleigh residents to donate cash to the emergency fund, between the hours of 7:30 and 10 p.m.

Last year UNICEF aid benefited 50 million children and mothers.

UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, participates in programs to fight disease and malnutrition among the world's children in more than 100 countries.

So let us stop and think of what a UNICEF penny collected on Halloween does.

It will provide enough BCG vaccine to protect a child against TB

GOVERNOR SELLS "FIRST" BY HOSTING TOURE

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

The Guinea President is one of the unpredictable leaders in African affairs. Because of his reported hostility toward France and his apparent "middle of the road" policy, he is eyed with skepticism and interest.

Born in Faranah, Guinea, the 37-year-old statesman left school at an early age and studied independently. His formal training was acquired during the terms spent at the School of Koranic Studies in Kankan, Guinea and George Poiret Professional School.

His career began when he held a position as clerk in the post office administration of Guinea. In 1945 he was appointed Secretary General of Postal Union of Guinea. Since then he has held various positions in the Guinea government and took a leading part in the formation of the Autonomous General Confederation of Labor. He has served in the French National Assembly and as Mayor of Conakry.

His leadership is largely responsible for the achievement of the independence of Guinea in October, 1958. His present position, apart from being president of the Republic, are President of the Council of Ministers and Secretary General of the Democratic Party of Guinea. He is also charged with Foreign Affairs and National Defense.

The Republic of Guinea covers an area of 94,961 square miles (approximately the size of Colorado) and has a population of about 2,507,000 inhabitants: 9,500 are Europeans. Some 50 Americans reside here as missionaries.

"I PLEAD NOT GUILTY" GRAVES TELLS JUDGE

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

Graves has denied any connection with the crime. He was brought here Thursday and lodged in the county jail.

SURRENDERS IN WAKE CO. KILLING

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

Dowd was killed when a single shot from a .22 calibre struck him almost directly between the eyes.

FACILITIES OF S. C. AIRPORT DENIED JACKIE

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

Robinson urged Greenville Negroes to register and vote. "I wonder what would happen in Greenville if all of you went down to vote?" he asked.

J. H. WHEELER, STANLEY HOPE IN NAT'L POSTS

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

where he resides. In 1958, he was a panel member for a symposium conducted by the College Fund in New York City, with the Honorable Chester W. Bowles, as principal speaker.

INEGRAION CASES NOW ON DOCKET

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

The lawyers argue, in seeking an extension, the recent decisions by Judge Edwin M. Stanley of U. S. District Court here cite specific details for the first time in steps required to constitute exhaustion of administrative remedies so the matter may be taken to federal court.

Two school integration suits involving the Greensboro School Board come up for pre-trial conferences under motions by the board. R asks dismissal of the suits on grounds that the children involved have been assigned to the schools they wished to attend as set forth on their assignment or reassignment applications.

One of these suits has been expanded, however, because of the merger of a Negro and white school located on the same property.

School, Friday, Oct. 23. From the size of the score, 22 to 0, it was likened to the time when Rome burned while Nero was fiddling. Better luck next time Tigers.

A musical tea was sponsored by the East End School Sunday evening, Oct. 25, with many in attendance. A musical program was rendered by individuals, groups, and organizations, all of which was enjoyed immensely.

Mr. Jessie Williams, a U. S. postal employee of Philadelphia, Pa., is visiting his mother, Mrs. Bettie Williams and other relatives on Poplar Street.

Mrs. Emma Tart has returned from Stamford, Conn., where she visited her sister who had undergone major surgery. She is now in the hospital.

Claude Barnett, Journalist, Named NCC Founder's Spcaker

DURHAM — The Dean of United States Negro journalists will deliver North Carolina College's 12th annual Founder's Day speech on November 3. Claude A. Barnett of Chicago, director of the Associated Negro Press, will speak at exercises memorializing the late Dr. James E. Shepard.

CLAUDE A. BARNETT

Barnett, globe-girdling chief of the biggest independent news gathering agency in the country, will talk in Duke Auditorium at 11:00 a. m.

The distinguished journalist who recently returned to the United States from Africa, is expected to be accompanied by his wife, glamorous singer Etta Moten.

After the Duke Auditorium memorial service Founder's Day principals will participate in the traditional wreath-laying at Dr. Shepard's grave in Beechwood Cemetery.

The Barnett's are expected to be house guests of NCC President and Mrs. Alfonso Elder during their stay.

They are leaving Durham after the service for Washington where they will be among guests honoring M. Sekou Toure, President of the Republic of Guinea.

President Elder will introduce Barnett at the Duke Auditorium program.

Others participating in the exercises include: Dr. J. Neal Hough, College Minister; the NCC 11-piece marching band under the direction of R. H. L. Jones; the 75-piece mixed chorus directed by Samuel W. Hill, and Robert Koenig, President of the Student Government Association.

Barnett founded the Associated Negro Press in 1919.

In addition to his work as an international journalist and news executive he is a trustee of Tuskegee

"Competence-Not Color Important To Africans," A & T Audience Informed

GREENSBORO—An audience at A&T College was told last week that competence and not color is the thing that Africans respect in those who come to aid them.

The speaker was Dr. William E. Reed, dean of the A&T School of Agriculture, just returned to duty last week after a two year leave. He had served as chief of an eight man team of American specialists conducting a project for the International Development Services in Ghana, West Africa on soil and water conservation, a land planning program and the control of blood diseases in cattle.

In making his first public appearance since his return, he spoke at the observance of United Nations Day. The program, sponsored by the International Relations Club was held in the Harrison Auditorium on Tuesday, October 20.

He made the statement in answer to the question on whether those African nations which had gained their independence had any preference as to race of those technical workers being sent to them.

He said that color is relatively less important to the native Africans. "In his march towards greater freedom, the African of today is more interested in people who can bring about effective results," he said.

The speaker stated that foreigners who go to Africa are faced with three problems which must be overcome before substantial results can be obtained. These included the differing languages used in each of the nations making communication difficult, the artificial divisions within nations and difficulties in dealing with representatives from other advanced nations already at work within these countries.

is not the long ranged problem," declared George Venable Allen, director of the United States Information Agency, in his address to students and faculty of Shaw University on Friday.

It is the fact that there has suddenly happened the awakening of the great masses of people in the underdeveloped world.

People of India, Africa and other foreign countries have, in the past been unaware of what has been going on in the rest of the world; but now due to modern methods of communication, they are awake and want to become a part of the 20th century. They are not going back to sleep, and we have an explosion on our hands, he warned.

They are demanding to join the 20th century, and it will be a measure of the quality of the United States as to how we meet that demand.

SEARCHERS RECOVER BODY

WILMINGTON — Coast Guard searchers Tuesday recovered the body of a man who drowned Monday while moon hunting with two companions in a 14-foot skiff.

The body of Sam Jenkins, 50, was found some 300 yards north of the bridge across the northeast Cape Fear River. The boat overturned in rough water and Jenkins' two companions, who had life jackets, reached shore safely.

She became interested in the Legion due to the fact that her late son, Charles Norwood, is reported to have been the first soldier of color to fall in the line of duty, during World War I. It is to be remembered that the local chapter is named in his honor.

Mrs. Norwood was born in the Neuse section of Wake County and spent her early years there where she married Charles T. Norwood, who preceded her in death by 15 years. To the union was born three sons. The third of this trio now resides in Washington, D. C.

She was also very active in the fraternal life of the city, having been the first Daughter Eulalia of the local Elk women. She made considerable contributions to the development of that group. She was also the first president of the local Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion.

She became interested in the Legion due to the fact that her late son, Charles Norwood, is reported to have been the first soldier of color to fall in the line of duty, during World War I. It is to be remembered that the local chapter is named in his honor.

Mrs. Norwood was born in the Neuse section of Wake County and spent her early years there where she married Charles T. Norwood, who preceded her in death by 15 years. To the union was born three sons. The third of this trio now resides in Washington, D. C.

She was also very active in the fraternal life of the city, having been the first Daughter Eulalia of the local Elk women. She made considerable contributions to the development of that group. She was also the first president of the local Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion.

She became interested in the Legion due to the fact that her late son, Charles Norwood, is reported to have been the first soldier of color to fall in the line of duty, during World War I. It is to be remembered that the local chapter is named in his honor.

Mrs. Norwood was born in the Neuse section of Wake County and spent her early years there where she married Charles T. Norwood, who preceded her in death by 15 years. To the union was born three sons. The third of this trio now resides in Washington, D. C.

She was also very active in the fraternal life of the city, having been the first Daughter Eulalia of the local Elk women. She made considerable contributions to the development of that group. She was also the first president of the local Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion.

She became interested in the Legion due to the fact that her late son, Charles Norwood, is reported to have been the first soldier of color to fall in the line of duty, during World War I. It is to be remembered that the local chapter is named in his honor.

Mrs. Norwood was born in the Neuse section of Wake County and spent her early years there where she married Charles T. Norwood, who preceded her in death by 15 years. To the union was born three sons. The third of this trio now resides in Washington, D. C.

She was also very active in the fraternal life of the city, having been the first Daughter Eulalia of the local Elk women. She made considerable contributions to the development of that group. She was also the first president of the local Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion.

She became interested in the Legion due to the fact that her late son, Charles Norwood, is reported to have been the first soldier of color to fall in the line of duty, during World War I. It is to be remembered that the local chapter is named in his honor.

Mrs. Norwood was born in the Neuse section of Wake County and spent her early years there where she married Charles T. Norwood, who preceded her in death by 15 years. To the union was born three sons. The third of this trio now resides in Washington, D. C.

She was also very active in the fraternal life of the city, having been the first Daughter Eulalia of the local Elk women. She made considerable contributions to the development of that group. She was also the first president of the local Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion.

She became interested in the Legion due to the fact that her late son, Charles Norwood, is reported to have been the first soldier of color to fall in the line of duty, during World War I. It is to be remembered that the local chapter is named in his honor.

Mrs. Norwood was born in the Neuse section of Wake County and spent her early years there where she married Charles T. Norwood, who preceded her in death by 15 years. To the union was born three sons. The third of this trio now resides in Washington, D. C.

Thompson School News

Mrs. S. L. Bryant's sixth grade class of Thompson School presented a program entitled, "A Review of October and United Nations."

The class highlighted some of the important events of October such as: Discovery of America known as Columbus Day, Birthdays of Presidents that occurred in October, Fire Prevention Week, Halloween, and United Nations Day.

For United Nations Day, some of the countries were represented by songs, dances and narrations. The pupils attired in proper costumes representing the following countries: Japan, Maid Crowder; China, Shirley Williams; India, Cheryl Peckler; and Mervle Blalock; France, James McNeil; Scotland, James James; and Bobby Jones.

We were grateful for the parents who came out to witness our assembly program.

Archibald, Catharine, Moore, Wilma Burnett, Quether Wilkins, Eddie Banks, Clarence Banks and Donald Leach.

Brazil, Oils Jeffries, Holland, Lucy Pollard; United States, Paulette Nickson, and Russia, Paris Jones.

This part of the program was culminated by the class singing, "Getting to Know You."

Serving as master of ceremonies was Vernon Washington. Our scrapbook narrator was Dorothy Lane.

Selections were played by the band members of our class under the direction of Mr. J. L. Edwards. The band members were Vernon Washington, Maxine Allen, Robby Jones, Paris Jones, James McNeil and Joseph Smith.

We were grateful for the parents who came out to witness our assembly program.

Archibald, Catharine, Moore, Wilma Burnett, Quether Wilkins, Eddie Banks, Clarence Banks and Donald Leach.

Brazil, Oils Jeffries, Holland, Lucy Pollard; United States, Paulette Nickson, and Russia, Paris Jones.

This part of the program was culminated by the class singing, "Getting to Know You."

Serving as master of ceremonies was Vernon Washington. Our scrapbook narrator was Dorothy Lane.

Selections were played by the band members of our class under the direction of Mr. J. L. Edwards. The band members were Vernon Washington, Maxine Allen, Robby Jones, Paris Jones, James McNeil and Joseph Smith.

We were grateful for the parents who came out to witness our assembly program.

Archibald, Catharine, Moore, Wilma Burnett, Quether Wilkins, Eddie Banks, Clarence Banks and Donald Leach.

Brazil, Oils Jeffries, Holland, Lucy Pollard; United States, Paulette Nickson, and Russia, Paris Jones.

This part of the program was culminated by the class singing, "Getting to Know You."

Serving as master of ceremonies was Vernon Washington. Our scrapbook narrator was Dorothy Lane.

Selections were played by the band members of our class under the direction of Mr. J. L. Edwards. The band members were Vernon Washington, Maxine Allen, Robby Jones, Paris Jones, James McNeil and Joseph Smith.

Goldsboro News

BY J. R. GRAHAM

O'BERRY SCHOOL NEWS

GOLDSBORO — O'Berry School, Goldsboro, opened its regular fall term Sept. 8 with 291 boys and girls taking part in organized classes. Of this number, 123 are enrolled in academic school, 168 are enrolled in the school of Basic Training, and 110 are enrolled in Vocational Training.

The academic program is designed to aid these boys and girls in reaching their maximum in social development, physical development, and academic achievement.

The school of Basic Training aims to enrich the lives of training boys and girls by providing instruction in basic skills and habits.

Boys and girls assigned to vocational training receive on-the-job instruction in non-skilled and semi-skilled occupations that will provide employment for them after leaving the training school.

O'Berry School welcomes to its staff Miss Minnie P. Sampson, librarian; Miss Lois Hodock, basic training instructor; and Mr. Miles Kelly, social worker.

On Sunday, October 18, at 3:30 p. m., the junior choir of Shady Grove Free Will Baptist Church, Snow Hill, will participate in the regular Sunday afternoon worship hour. The public is invited.

O'Berry School's dance group participated in a PTA talent program at Carver High School, Mt. Olive, Mon., Oct. 5, 1959.

Mr. Owens, District Scout Executive, met with O'Berry School Scout Troop Committee, Monday, Oct. 5, to set up a training program for committee members and Scout Masters of Troop 114 which will start Monday, Oct. 12, for a three week period.

Members of the department of training and education attended the Southeastern Region of the American Association on Mental Deficiency in Raleigh on Oct. 8-10.

AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT OF CARVER HIGH SCHOOL

Magazines were given to O'Berry School by the agriculture department of Carver High School of Mount Olive, under the direction of Mr. A. L. Fox, agriculture teacher.

The staff, faculty, and student body of O'Berry School extend our sincere appreciation for the tremendous effort and support given by Mr. Fox and the Agriculture Department in securing magazines for our students.

O'Berry School had its first basketball competition October 22 as Richard Costner, scoring 21 points led his team to victory over the Wild Cats from Four Oaks.

Trailing 13-9 at half time, the Falcons from O'Berry School put on the steam with Costner leading the offense and Ambrose Joyner the defense to a final score 34-21.

Leading offensive player for Four Oaks was D. Sorles and the defensive standout was C. Barfield. Miss Mattie M. Stitt was hostess to Les Souers Club members.

Thursday evening, Oct. 23, at the home of Mrs. Channie M. Barnes on East Spruce St. After the bustling session four rounds of Pinochle were played. First prize, Mrs. R. Imman; 2nd prize, Miss Terrace Middleton; 3rd prize, Mrs. Lillie Swann, guest prize, Mrs. R. McKeithan. Members present, Messdames Addie Thornton, Dorothy Burton, Irene Jackson, Janice McNeil, Betty Joyner, Geraldine Hudson and Misses Mamie L. Hoskins, Margaret McKeithan. A delicious repast was served.

Sinbeam Temple No. 447 L.B.P.O. E. of W. celebrated its 19th anniversary Sun. Oct. 18 at Mt. Calvary Baptist Church on Denmark St. Smith Chapel Male Choral Group of Mt. Olive, N. C. rendered the program.

Mrs. Cora Hatcher of 111 W. Pine St. continues to improve from her recent illness.

Mrs. B. J. Daniels of Newsome Street is confined to her home by illness.

We are happy to report that Mr. C. I. Bland, who was appointed principal of the Virginia Street School, succeeding the late Mr. R. C. Christian, is doing a fine job and is much liked by his faculty members and his many friends are wishing him success in all of his efforts.

The Rev. B. R. Richardson left Sunday evening to attend the Eastern Area Briefing Conference in Evangelism in New Jersey October 26. This conference is sponsorship by the Division of Evangelism, United Presbyterian Church, USA.

The Dillard High School football team journeyed to Greenville, N. C. to battle the team of Eppes High

Dr. Kollman Speaker At Hampton

HAMPTON, Va. — Americans are growing up in what is the most important part of our national personality — our capacity to understand and respond in the feelings and expressions of others, both in our own and in other cultures," Dr. Edward C. Kollman, director of the division of general education at Hampton Institute, declared last week at an all-college assembly.

ALLAN MIMS, INCORPORATED

FORD SALES and SERVICE

Telephone 2-2191
225 YARBORO ST.
ROCKY MOUNT, N. C.

Old Gold BOURBON STRAIGHT BOURBON WHISKEY

$2.25 PINT $3.50 4/5 QUART

TYRONE DISTILLERS COMPANY LAWRENCEBURG, KENTUCKY