CALLS FOR SOUTH TO ORGANIZE

AUGUSTA, Ga. — "Now is the time to organize and tell the people of the nation that in the South we have proved that the only way two such dissimilar races can live together in the same community in a state of peace, harmony and mutual helpfulness is under our traditional pattern of segregation."

Roy V. Harris, Augusta attorney and president of the Georgia States Rights Council, voiced the foregoing call in a speech delivered before the annual meeting of the Citizens Councils of Yazoo County, Miss.

FIRST POST RECONSTRUCTION JURY IN MISS.

CANTON, Miss. — A 49-year-old farmer was empaneled last week on a Madison County grand jury. He is the first member of his race to serve in such a capacity since the Reconstruction period.

HULAN JACK GIVES PLAQUE

HARLEM, N. Y. — A 73-year-old, Russian-trained tailor was honored on Saturday for his service to the community for half a century when Borough President Hulan E. Jack presented Mr. Jacob Goodson with a plaque.

Mr. Jack praised Mr. Goodson for "demonstrating community spirit in keeping his shop here and working with the community."

Mr. Goodson came to the United States from Russia in 1902 at the age of 15. He had learned tailoring in Russia and had worked in a shop at Fifteenth Street and Sixth Avenue before opening his own.

ADVERTISE TO AID ELECTION OF SEPIAN

CINCINNATI — A "Citizens-for-Berry Committee" ran a ninety-one-inch advertisement to aid in the reelection of Ted Berry to the City Council. The advertisement appearing in the Cincinnati Enquirer read:

"The truth is that if Ted Berry were white, we wouldn't believe it necessary to run this advertisement."

Ted Berry is seeking reelection to the City Council in which he served for 8 years. He was vice-mayor during his last term which ended in 1956. He was defeated, however, in 1957.

"Will the color line defeat him again?" the Saturday advertisement asked. "Fortunately, the great majority of this community's voters are both fair and intelligent. They vote for the man and his record, not his color."

"We are confident that Ted Berry's outstanding record over eight years in City Council has won him the firm support of more than enough voters to elect him to City Council."

The advertisement also pointed out that his outstanding ability in financial matters led to an offer from Ohio's Governor to become Director of the Budget for Ohio, which Berry declined.

EDITOR SCORES DIXIE PRESS

PRINCETON, N. J. — "Certain

Mississippi papers have encouraged violence and several South Carolina newspapers have done the same thing." Pulitzer Prize Winning Editor Ralph E. McGill charged last week in a talk to newsmen.

Mr. McGill, editor of the Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution was making his answers to questions by newsmen after he had made a speech at Princeton University. "Some Southern newsmen have acted unparadoxically," he said.

Considered a moderate, McGill said that in his own state the segregation situation was becoming such that "The schools in Atlanta and the rest of the state will be closed next September, unless there is some kind of miracle."

FIGHT AGAINST BIAS IS URGED

OMAHA, Neb. — "The facts of segregation, discrimination and prejudice leveled against minorities by those who administer, and practice these evils stare them starkly in the face," declared the Ideal Improvement Club in its recent call for eradication of prejudice in Omaha.

The group said in a released statement that unless minorities are given equal employment opportunities in business, industry, institutions and other areas, progress will be stymied.

The group blamed the Omaha World Herald and the Union Pacific Railroad as corporations which have "set the total pattern of discriminatory hiring, firing and promotional practices throughout this area."

Biltmore Hills Development Boasts New, Modern Homes

Available at No Down Payment to Eligible Families

E. N. Richards, head of Raleigh Wachovia Building Commission, announced today the opening of a new home building project at Raleigh's Rochester Heights. He explained that the ambitious development will offer Negro families "real chance" at home ownership.

"The attractive 3-bedroom homes we have designed," Richards went on to say, "will be made available at no down payment costs of only about $30 per family. The financial terms are made possible by the Federal government's FHA 221 Housing Law."

Wachovia's architects and Land Planning Engineers have mapped out in the wooded East Raleigh setting a complete "village" community. All streets will be curbed and paved; all home sites fully landscaped with decorative shrubs and lawns; and all city facilities, including garbage pick-up and regular bus service, will be available.

All lots in the community will be over one fifth acre in size, allowing plenty of room for "outdoor" family living. The homes themselves, designed by a nationally known team of architects and constructors, will reflect the latest trends in convenience, beauty, and efficiency. Each home will have spacious living and dining areas, 3 bedrooms, bath, and efficient kitchen.

Each family will choose its own interior paint colors as well as the vinyl floor covering patterns for the bath and kitchen areas. All homes will heat thermostatically-controlled automatic heating, aluminum screens and clotheslines, Venetian blinds, flush doors and windows, all-weather insulation and weather-stripping, and ceramic tile bath and shower.

The builder went on to say that his staff had paid particular attention to the design of the modern kitchens. "We're delighted to point out that every kitchen will have natural birch finish custom-designed cabinets, formica work surfaces, cooling fan, and ample appliance connection facilities. The kitchens will be placed for easiest access to the spacious dining area."

Recognizing every family's need for storage space, the architects have included considerable closet and storage space in every home. Many will also have outside storage facilities.

The full price of the homes in the new Biltmore Hills community will be in the $9,000 to $10,500 range, but the FHA 221 financing terms will make them easily available to almost any family. Richards said priority will be granted selected families who have been moved from their former homes because of new project or highway construction. over-income disqualification, or who now live in so-called "sub-standard" housing. Fuller details can be obtained at the office of John W. Winters & Company, 507 East Martin St.

300 Ministers At Conference On Social Security At Smith

CHARLOTTE — Approximately 300 ministers from Mecklenburg and seven surrounding counties attended a conference on social security at Johnson C. Smith University on Wednesday, Nov. 4.

Leading the conference was Lone T. Proctor, District Manager of the local Social Security Administration. M. L. Davidson, Jr., economics instructor at Johnson C. Smith, assisted.

The conference was sponsored by Johnson C. Smith in cooperation with the Charlotte Methodist Conference, the Charlotte Baptist Ministerial Alliance, the Catawba Presbytery of the United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., and the Social Security Administration.

According to Social Security officials, a large number of self-employed persons, such as farmers and domestics, are unaware of the benefits to be derived from active participation in the social security program. Because of this the conference provided ministers with certain vital information which they may pass on to their congregations in their daily contacts with their people.

YOU ARE THE DETECTIVE

You place a warning hand on the arm of your friend, detective Tom Hayes. "Quiet, I hear somebody coming!"

Both of you stand motionless, listening to the sound of approaching footsteps in the corridor outside the apartment. The footsteps hesitate outside the door, then you see the doorknob turning slowly, and finally the door opens quietly, and a dark, powerfully-built man steps with catlike quickness into the room. He steps back suddenly in surprise as he sees you two men watching him.

"What's this?" he blurts out. Then his eyes dart to the other side of the room where the man's body lies face-down on the floor. "Marty!" he cries. "Is he... dead?"

"He's dead, all right," says the detective Tom Hayes. "We found him like this just a few minutes ago. We had come here to question him concerning his part in the big gambling case that's coming up before the Grand Jury next week. He was our star witness, you know."

"I can't understand it," exclaims the man. "I left him here just a half-hour or so ago. I'm Karl Schmidt, as you probably already know. Shared this apartment with Marty Fairbanks here. We moved here two days ago, and were trying to keep him quiet. Marty was pretty scared about the whole thing, and was careful not to show himself at the window or at the door when anyone knocked. I went out about a half-hour ago to buy some food, and locked the door with my key. Even though I was positive no one had spotted our hideout. But I guess we must have slipped up somewhere." And Karl Schmidt buries his head in his hands.

"Can't see any signs of how the killer entered," remarks Detective Hayes. "The door wasn't forced open, and the windows are bolted from the inside."

"I think," you say as you turn to Karl Schmidt, "that you were a little too curious. You, of course, didn't know that we had come here for a visit at this time. You just had to come back to make sure you had done a complete job on Marty Fairbanks."

"You're crazy!" shouts Karl. "You have no evidence to back that up!"

"Oh, but we do have evidence," you reply. "The flaws in your own story!"

In the first place, Karl Schmidt claimed that he had locked the door with the key when he went out to buy food. But, upon his stealthy return, he had used no key to enter the apartment—which leads you to believe he had sold out his friend, Marty Fairbanks, to the gamblers and left the door open for their hired killer to enter during his absence. Also, although he was supposed to have left to buy food, he had no packages in his arms upon his return.

President Of A And T To Alabama

GREENSBORO — The president of A&T College has been invited to attend a general conference on Air Force ROTC affairs.

Dr. Wainwright T. Gibbs, received last week the invitation from James H. Douglas, secretary of the Air Force, to participate in the conference to be held at Maxwell Air Force Base in Alabama, December 9-10.

One of the purposes of the conference is to provide a forum in which the first steps may be taken in the formation of a standing group of institutional heads available on call to consult with key Air Force officials on Air Force ROTC problems.

ventive Detention Act was passed last fall, some 45 persons have been imprisoned without hearings, trials, or appeals. The Act is one of several security measures that have aroused bitter criticism from such opposition as still exists.

Oppositionist factions are grumbling over the apparent one-party state. They claim it is virtually a one-man state, the man being Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah. His People's Convention Party controls 85 of the 104 seats in Parliament. Some of his opponents are in jail.

Ghanian leaders assert with some heat that this two-year-old state's Government is in constant danger of forcible overthrow by a discontented minority. They say the security laws were passed to protect the Government and Prime Minister Nkrumah who was exposed to a plot against his life some months ago.

WORLD HAPPENINGS

SOUTH AFRICANS VACATE THE U. N.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — The South African delegation walked out of the Special Political Committee Friday when it started a debate on apartheid (racial segregation).

Racial conflict in South Africa resulting from the Government's policies of separating whites and non-whites was included on the agenda of the present General Assembly at the request of thirteen nations. They are Burma, Ceylon, Cuba, Malaya, Ghana, Haiti, India, Indonesia, Iran, Ireland, the United Arab Republic, Uruguay and Venezuela.

Apartheid has been discussed every year since 1952 by the United Nations. A memorandum by the states that have moved for a debate declares there has been "not the slightest indication" that the South African Government has taken any step to ease the situation of non-whites.

GHANA INVITES SOUTH AFRICA

ACCRA, Ghana — The Ghana government recently invited the minister of external affairs of the Union of South Africa to visit Ghana.

ria to visit Ghana. Along with the invitation was a request that South Africa reciprocate with an invitation to Ghana to send its own emissary to South Africa.

A statement released by Ghana explained: "The Government of Ghana issued an invitation a few days ago through the Minister of Foreign Affairs, then leading a delegation to the United Nations, to Eric Louw to visit Ghana as soon as convenient to him. The invitation was linked with a proposal that the Union Government of South Africa should reciprocate the gesture of the Ghana Government by permitting a cabinet minister to visit South Africa with the object of discussing proposals for establishing a Ghana Mission in South Africa."

"The Ghana Government would like to take this opportunity of reaffirming its expectation that Louw will not only accept this invitation but that his government will be pleased to allow a cabinet minister from Ghana to pay a return visit to the Union of South Africa."
